HEAR FROM OUR INDUSTRY PARTNERS

Dacreed has hired two candidates from Mission Ready, both of whom retrained from completely different careers including one of them who is a musician.

I've been very, very impressed with your process and programme throughout. I've also been recommending Mission Ready to other people wanting to re-train in Tech as well as potential employers to partner with you. It's win-win-win for everyone involved in your great programme.

DAVID SHERWIN
CTO, DACREED

My new job is amazing... I was one of the top 3 candidates for a few companies - the only difference being that the other candidates had more experience. These companies... wanted me to stay connected for freelancing projects as they would like to work with me once I have gained more experience. These are all aspects I have achieved and learned through the experience I had with Mission Ready.

KATHRYN
UX/UI DESIGNER, RAULAND AUSTRALIA & NEW ZEALAND

8 months after writing my first line of code with Mission Ready I was hired as a graduate software developer. Mission Ready provides the stepping stones to success, and is a breeding ground for industry expertise. If you're willing to put in the effort and push as hard as you can, Mission Ready will set you up for success.
