

Reflection 1

1. What course would you like to revise, and why? Please include course number and title as well as share what program(s) it's included within.

I would like to revise ED 304: Teaching for Social Justice, which is part of our PreK-4 Early Childhood and Dual Special Education programs. This is a new course I created to address culturally responsive competencies.

2. Which CRSE competencies are (or are likely to be upon your revision) addressed in this course? This can be changed later.

In ED 304, I would like to address the following CRSE Competencies:

- Competency 1: Educators Reflect on their own cultural lens.
- Competency 2: Educators acknowledge biases in the educational system, understand social markers, and take steps to address bias in teaching materials and curriculum.
- Competency 3: Educators recognize and affirm students' cultural identities, languages, and backgrounds.
- Competency 5: Educators integrate diverse perspectives and contributions into the curriculum.

3. What do you hope to get out of this process? What benefits do you anticipate?

Through this process, I hope to identify concrete ways in which to integrate the CRSE Competencies I have chosen, specifically hands-on activities where teacher candidates are fully engaged in the learning process. I hope to learn from my colleagues and share ideas, thoughts, and reflections. Benefits: brainstorming and learning through dialogue!

4. What challenges do you anticipate?

Challenges I anticipate: figuring out where to begin with this process. What is the best way to introduce CRSE to teacher candidates? I am still interested in working on my graduate course if possible so this may be a challenge as well.

5. How do you think your colleagues will respond? For example, will they be motivated, indifferent, or want to join you and revise their own syllabi?

I believe most of my colleagues will be motivated to revise their syllabi based on what I have learned through this process. A few may be indifferent.

6. How will you include your colleagues in this project?

I hope to include my colleagues in this process by sharing the work that I am doing during our department meetings. We always have time to share. I also plan to speak with colleagues individually as we go through our curriculum redesign.
