

THE MOROCCO ANIMAL PROJECT

Adoption Guide

Adopting an Animal from Morocco

Adoption is one of the most meaningful ways to change an animal's life, but international adoption must be done carefully, legally, and in the animal's best interest. This page explains how adoption from Morocco works, what is involved, realistic timelines, and costs. Our priority is always the welfare and safety of the animal.

Who Adoption Is For

Adoption may be suitable if you:

- Are prepared for a structured, multi-step process
- Can wait several months for legal clearance
- Understand that rescue animals may need time, patience, and ongoing care
- Are willing to cover the true cost of ethical transport and documentation

Adoption is not instant, and we will never rush an animal into travel.

Step-by-Step Adoption Process

1. Expression of Interest

You contact us to express interest in a specific animal.

At this stage, we:

- Share the animal's background and current condition
- Discuss suitability (environment, experience, expectations)
- Answer initial questions honestly

This step is about fit, not commitment.

2. Assessment & Matching

We assess whether the adoption is appropriate for:

- The animal's health and temperament
- Your living situation and lifestyle
- The destination country's import requirements

Not every adoption can proceed — and we will always prioritise the animal's welfare.

3. Veterinary Care & Preparation

Before any travel, the animal must complete mandatory veterinary steps, which may include:

- Full health check
- Vaccinations (including rabies)
- Blood tests (rabies titre test where required)
- Parasite treatment
- Microchipping
- Recovery and observation periods

This phase often takes several months, especially for rabies titre requirements.

4. Legal Documentation

International adoption requires official documentation, which may include:

- Pet passport or export certificate
- Government veterinary approval
- Import permits (destination-dependent)
- Airline or transport documentation

All paperwork must be correct — there are no shortcuts.

5. Transport Planning

Transport is arranged based on:

- Destination country
- Animal size and health
- Airline regulations
- Welfare considerations

Options may include:

- Cabin travel (when permitted)

- Cargo with approved animal handling
- Ground transport within Europe after entry

We choose the safest and least stressful option available.

6. Arrival & Handover

Upon arrival:

- The animal is handed over according to regulations
- Any post-travel guidance is shared
- We remain available for support

Adoption does not end at arrival — we care about long-term outcomes.

Estimated Timeframes

Timelines vary depending on destination and health requirements:

- Minimum: 3–4 months
- Common: 4–6 months
- Some countries: up to 7–8 months

We will always give you a realistic estimate before proceeding.

Cost Transparency

Adoption costs are not fees for the animal. They cover real, unavoidable expenses.

Typical costs may include:

- Veterinary care and vaccinations
- Rabies titre test and laboratory fees
- Microchipping and a passport
- Government documentation
- Transport (air or ground)
- Crate and handling fees

Costs vary significantly by destination.

Indicative Ranges (approximate)

- Europe: €600 – €1,200
- UK: €1,200 – €2,000

- USA / Canada: €2,000 – €3,500+

Exact costs are confirmed case-by-case.

What We Do Not Do

- We do not rush animals for convenience
- We do not falsify paperwork
- We do not separate bonded animals unless necessary
- We do not promise timelines we can't guarantee

Ethical rescue means sometimes saying no.

Our Commitment

We commit to:

- Transparency at every stage
- Honest communication
- The animal's welfare above all else
- Responsible, lawful adoption practices
