OUR STORY: A LEGACY OF BUILDING EXCELLENCE

Once upon a time, in the 1980s, in the quiet village of Lamu in Northern Ostrobothnia, a kind-hearted farmer named Eino Koskelo agreed to build a sauna for a friend – using nothing but a pile of old logs.

He built it in the machine hall of his farm, guided hand-in-hand by the village carpenter. The sauna was finished. The friend was happy. And Eino went back to his everyday work – until, couple years later, he gave up farming to pursue a new path in construction.

FROM FAMILY ROOTS TO GLOBAL REACH

A Tradition of Trust and Innovation

As his reputation in construction started to grow, Eino brought his two sons and a team of skilled local craftsmen into the business. They built cottages, granaries, machine halls – and yes, saunas too. But just the ordinary kind... until 2008.

When the 2008 recession hit and orders dried up, Eino faced a tough choice. Rather than laying off his team or compromising his principles, he returned to his roots. He gathered a stack of old shoreline logs, wheeled them into the workshop, and together with his team, built three saunas the traditional way – just like he had learned decades before.

They brought the saunas to the local market. They sold out in a flash.

Inspired by the response, Eino began designing new sauna models with the same commitment to craftsmanship, authenticity, and responsibility – laying the foundation for what would become Lapelland.

In 2019, under the wing of Salvos Group – Lapelland was born.

Today, we carry Eino's legacy forward, blending traditional techniques with modern innovation to create world-class sauna solutions that are loved not just in Finland, but already around the world.

HOW TO EXPERIENCE LAPELLAND SAUNA LIKE A TRUE FINN

A Finnish sauna is more than just heat – it's an ancient ritual, a social tradition, and a path to deep relaxation and renewal. Follow these steps to master the authentic Lapelland Sauna experience.

1 PREPARE FOR THE HEAT AND LÖYLY

Heat your sauna to the ideal temperature – typically 70–90°C. Pour water over the hot sauna stones to release löyly, the gentle yet invigorating wave of steam that defines the Finnish sauna experience. Let the warmth embrace you – gentle, smooth, and deeply revitalizing.

In Finland, saunas have set the stage for life's biggest decisions. In the warmth of the sauna, titles fade away – it's people, not titles, who talk.

2 SET THE ATMOSPHERE

Dim the lights or let the soft glow of LED ambiance enhance the moment. Play calming sounds – perhaps the quiet crackle of a fire or the whisper of Nordic nature. Take a deep breath – this is your time to unwind, recharge, and reconnect.

3 EMBRACE THE HEALTH BENEFITS

The sauna isn't just relaxation – it's renewal. Studies confirm its benefits for cardiovascular health, muscle recovery, and mental well-being. The combination of soothing heat and rhythmic löyly promotes circulation, eases stress, and enhances sleep. The social aspect is just as vital – saunas in Finland are gatherings of friendship, trust, and tradition.

"The sauna is the Finnish national medicine. It cleanses not just the body but the mind – leaving you more open, more balanced, and more at peace."

4 ADD A TOUCH OF NATURE WITH A BIRCH WHISK

Enhance the sauna ritual with a vihta (or vasta) – a bundle of fresh birch branches used to gently pat the skin, stimulating circulation and releasing a crisp, forest-like aroma. It may look like self-flagellation, but the feeling is nothing short of invigorating.

5 COOL DOWN & REPEAT

Step outside and breathe in the fresh air – let the contrast between heat and cool awaken your senses. Take a plunge into a lake, roll in the snow, or simply enjoy the open sky. Repeat the cycle of heating and cooling for maximum rejuvenation.

"The best sauna experience is a dance between fire and ice – between intense warmth and refreshing coolness."

6 HYDRATE, REFLECT AND SAVOR THE MOMENT

Replenish with water or, as the Finns do, a cold beer or cider. Allow yourself to pause – feel the clarity, the calm, the deep reset only a sauna can bring. Whether alone or with others, this is more than just a sauna – it's a ritual, a tradition, and a way of life.

Fun Fact

Finland has over 3 million saunas – more than the number of cars in the country. The sauna is not just a pastime; it's a pillar of Finnish culture and well-being.

At Lapelland,

we're proud to bring the authentic Finnish sauna experience to you, our saunas are designed to deliver the perfect blend of tradition, innovation and wellness.

SUSTAINABILITY COMMITMENT

Crafted with Care: Where Tradition Meets Sustainability and Innovation

At Lapelland, sustainability isn't just a buzzword - it's a leading principle of what we do. We believe that true craftsmanship is rooted in respect for the planet, and our saunas are a testament to this philosophy. From the materials we source to the way we design, build and use our products, every step reflects our commitment to a sustainable future.

OUR PILLARS OF SUSTAINABILITY

Responsibly Sourced Wood - from the forest to sauna: A journey of responsibility.

Every Lapelland sauna is crafted from PEFC-certified wood, ensuring that our materials come from forests managed with environmental, social, and economic responsibility. By choosing sustainably harvested wood, we protect biodiversity, support local communities, and ensure that our forests thrive for generations to come.

ENERGY-EFFICIENT & ECO-FRIENDLY DESIGN

Designed to perform, built to preserve.

Our saunas are engineered to be as energy-efficient as they are luxurious. With advanced insulation and optimized heating systems, they deliver an unparalleled sauna experience while minimizing energy consumption. For those seeking an off-grid solution, our wood-fired models operate entirely without electricity, offering a truly sustainable wellness experience.

LOW-IMPACT, NO-CONSTRUCTION NEEDED

Leave only footprints, take only memories.

Traditional saunas often require extensive groundwork, disrupting the natural environment. Our mobile saunas, however, are delivered fully assembled and ready to use, requiring no construction. This innovative approach ensures that nature remains untouched, making our saunas an eco-friendly addition to any location.

CIRCULAR ECONOMY & WASTE REDUCTION

Nothing to waste: closing the loop.

Sustainability is about more than just materials - it's about the entire lifecycle of our products. We recycle 100% of our production waste, ensuring nothing ends up in landfills. Even wood scraps from our manufacturing process are repurposed to heat our facilities, further reducing our carbon footprint and promoting a circular economy.

FAQ

Your questions, answered:
everything you need to know about Lapelland saunas.

We know investing in a sauna is an exciting decision, and you may have questions. Whether it's about maintenance, year-round use, or how our saunas compare to traditional structures, we've got you covered. Here's everything you need to know about Lapelland's Authentic Finnish Saunas.

CAN I USE IT YEAR-ROUND?

Absolutely. Designed to withstand even Arctic winters, our saunas perform flawlessly in any season. The weather-resistant materials and natural gravity ventilation system ensure a dry, comfortable, and effortless experience.

HOW DO MOBILE SAUNAS COMPARE TO TRADITIONAL STRUCTURES?

With decades of Finnish sauna expertise, we know how to create the perfect sauna environment. The elevated, off-the-ground design provides optimal ventilation, while high-quality craftsmanship delivers an exceptional löyly (steam), guaranteeing a world-class experience.

HOW LONG WILL MY SAUNA LAST?

Built to endure. Our saunas are designed for longevity, using quality materials and well ventilated designs that prevent moisture buildup. With proper care, your Lapelland Sauna will last for decades.

DO I NEED A BUILDING PERMIT?

No permits required. Because our saunas are classified as mobile units (like caravans), they typically do not require a building permit. However, if permanently connected to a water or sewer system, local regulations may vary. It's advised to check with your local authorities if planning a long-term placement.

WHAT ARE THE HEATING OPTIONS?

Choose the perfect heat source for your needs:

- » Wood-Burning Stove
 - The most authentic Finnish experience, providing rich, deep heat.
- » Electric Heater
 - Convenient, efficient, and easy to control with the push of a button.

HOW DO I MAINTAIN MY SAUNA?

Sauna care should be simple - and it is! Minimal upkeep is required:

- » Ventilate after each use to keep the sauna fresh.
- » Wipe down benches and walls with mild, natural cleansers.
- » Check the stones of the heater periodically for optimal performance.

WHERE DOES THE WATER GO?

For traditional bucket-style water use, small amounts of greywater can typically be safely absorbed by the ground, in accordance with local environmental guidelines. If using a pumped water system, check your area's requirements for filtration or drainage.
