

Bélanger Introduces Ora: A Limited-Edition Faucet Collection Showcasing Design Innovation

MONTREAL, QC, APRIL 1, 2026 — Bélanger announces the launch of Ora, a limited-edition lavatory faucet distinguished by a sculptural clock-face mechanism integrated into each handle. Designed as a focal point, Ora transforms a functional control into a precise, visual expression of time and craftsmanship.

Ora is a three-piece widespread lavatory faucet featuring circular, dial-inspired handles that reference traditional timepieces. The clarity of the clock-face detail offers an immediate point of distinction, while maintaining intuitive operation and everyday usability.

Conceived as a statement fixture, Ora balances expressive form with dependable performance. Its refined proportions and architectural presence make it well-suited for residential bathrooms where the faucet is intended to play a leading visual role rather than recede into the background.

“Ora allowed us to explore how a small, functional element—the handle—can become the defining character of a faucet,” says Marc Fortin, Product Director at Bélanger. “The clock-face design gives the product a strong identity while remaining precise, readable, and purposeful.”

As a limited-edition release, Ora underscores Bélanger’s willingness to experiment, innovate, and push creative boundaries, while continuing to serve as a trusted partner in kitchen and bath design.
