About Us

At ABPAC, we believe great packaging is about more than just products - it's about partnership, reliability and helping our customers grow with confidence.

We are a family-founded business with over 50 years of experience, proudly supporting more than 2,000 customers across the UK.

From independent businesses to national operations, we've built our reputation on delivering consistent quality, trusted supply and a service that puts people first.

About Us

A Family Ethos at Our Core

Our foundations are rooted in the bakery sector, and that heritage still shapes how we work today.

We understand the pressures of running a food business because we've grown alongside them. That's why we approach every customer relationship with care, honesty, and a genuine desire to make your day-to-day operations easier.

Coming from a family-founded beginning, and maintaining that ethos today, means we stay close to our values - offering a personal, attentive service while continuously evolving to meet the changing needs of our customers.

More than a Packaging Supplier

We see ourselves as a packaging partner, working alongside your business to deliver end-to-end solutions.

Whether you need off-the-shelf products or fully bespoke designs, our experienced team supports you at every stage - from concept and sourcing through to manufacturing, stock management, and distribution.

Our in-house expertise in new product development and design means we can help you create packaging that not only performs, but enhances your brand, improves efficiency, and reduces cost or environmental impact.

About Us

Built on Expertise and Innovation

We combine decades of industry knowledge with modern supply chain capabilities and global manufacturing partnerships.

This enables us to deliver innovative, tailored solutions that solve real customer challenges - whether that's improving functionality, streamlining logistics, or supporting sustainability goals.

From bakery and butchery to food manufacturing, catering and food service, we supply a wide range of sectors with the products and expertise they need to succeed.

Making Business Easier

Everything we do is designed to simplify your operations.

From flexible ordering and tailored reporting to stockholding solutions and proactive support, we continually refine our services to make working with ABPAC straightforward and seamless.

We don't just supply packaging - we remove complexity, give you confidence in your supply chain, and free you up to focus on what matters most: growing your business.brand, improves efficiency, and reduces cost or environmental impact.

Our Mission

To make our customers lives easier by delivering excellent quality product, procurement solutions, distribution routes and bespoke product services.

ABPAC combines the strength of national scale with the care of a family business - delivering trusted packaging solutions backed by expertise, innovation and a genuinely personal service.

Our core value centres around our customers experience of our value-added service - as this drives our record of long-term customer retention and growth.
