

HISTORY FOOD TOURS BY MATMERCİ

For Travel Advisors

Private Paris experiences your clients will still talk about a year later.

I'm Mathieu. For ten years I wrote historical drama for French television, then I ran my own restaurant, the Lobster Bar, as its chef. Today I take travelers through Paris the way a screenwriter tells a story and a chef sets a table. Every experience is private, and your name stays on your client's trip.

WHY ADVISORS WORK WITH ME

Private only

No strangers, no group to join. Your clients set the pace.

Written for them

Napoleon, the Founding Fathers, the Impressionists, Victor Hugo: each tour is built around their interests, children and grandparents included.

Your name stays on the trip

I bring the stories and the tastings. The relationship stays yours.

HOW BOOKING WORKS

1. Send the request

Your client's dates, number of guests and interests, through matmerci.com/book or WhatsApp.

2. I reply within 24 hours

Availability, the story I suggest for your clients, and a clear quote at public price.

3. Confirm

30% deposit at confirmation, balance 60 days before. Your clients just have to come hungry.

"As a travel agent in Australia, I would have no hesitation in recommending Mat to any of my clients travelling to Paris, in fact, I insist they take one of his tours!"

THE FULL COLLECTION

Ten experiences, each one a story. Book one, or combine two into a full day.

Napoleon and Joséphine

The North Marais. A young Corsican officer, a Creole widow with a past, and love letters that still make readers blush.

The Founding Fathers in Paris

Saint Germain. Franklin, Jefferson and Adams on the Left Bank, to where the United States officially became a nation.

Montorgueil

The living heart of Paris. A true market street, and the pastry house a royal pastry chef opened in 1730.

Medieval Paris

Notre Dame reborn, the Sainte Chapelle and the Conciergerie. Eight centuries of faith and fury on one island.

Cruise Food Tour and Grand Cru Cruise

A private boat on the Seine, champagne and premium tastings. The Grand Cru adds a vintage boat and caviar.

Victor Hugo and Les Misérables

The South Marais. Sixteen years on the most beautiful square in Paris, where the novel began to take shape.

The Impressionists

Montmartre off the beaten path. Quiet staircases, a working vineyard, the corners where painters changed art forever.

The Covered Passages

Paris invents shopping. Glass roofs, mosaic floors, old bookshops, and Vidocq's staircase.

The Cheese Vault

A 17th century cellar in Le Marais. Eight cheeses, four wines, two hours around one table.

Château de Fontainebleau

A full day trip to the palace Napoleon called the true home of kings.
