How to Use This Price List

We know that reviewing a price list from a Funeral Home is not always easy to navigate. This document is designed to be as clear and straightforward as possible. Every service is listed with a plain language description so you always know exactly what you are choosing and why. There are no hidden fees. You pay only for what you choose.

1. Understand what is required.

A small number of services are legally required or operationally necessary for every arrangement. These are clearly marked “*Required” throughout this list, along with an explanation of why they are necessary. Everything else is your choice.

2. Browse the 'Common Arrangements' on the next pages.

We have included six examples — four cremation arrangements (Immediate Cremation, Immediate Cremation with Family Care, Cremation with Memorial Service, and Funeral Service with Cremation to Follow) and two traditional burial arrangements (Graveside Burial and Funeral Service with Burial). Each shows a total cost of professional services, container or casket, H.S.T. and all third-party disbursements. These are starting points and not fixed packages — any service can be added or removed with the exception of the “*Required” items.

3. Choose your services from the itemized list.

Starting on page 7, every service is listed individually with its price and a description. Work through the categories that apply to your arrangement. Our team is available to walk through any line item with you.

4. Understand what is not in this price list.

Cemetery fees (plot, opening and closing of the grave, interment rights), monument and flat marker costs, and newspaper obituary placement are not included in any of the totals shown here.

5. Know your rights under Ontario law

We are required to provide this price list before any contract is signed. You also have a 30-day cooling-off period after signing. If you need this document in a large-print or other accessible format, we will provide it at your request.
