Wescom, Inc. Health and Welfare Plan

Summary Plan Description

Your Employer maintains the Wescom, Inc. Health and Welfare Plan (“the Plan”) for the exclusive benefit of, and to provide health and welfare benefits to its eligible employees and their eligible dependents.

This Summary Plan Description (SPD) summarizes the important features of the Plan, including your benefits and obligations under the Plan. Read this SPD carefully so that you understand the provisions of the Plan and the benefits you will receive. These benefits are provided under various insurance contracts, as well as through self-insured plans funded by the general assets of your Employer. The Benefit Documents for each Benefit are part of this SPD only to the extent it provides detailed descriptions regarding each Benefits’ eligibility rules, benefit descriptions, claims and appeal procedures, or other substantive provisions. You should keep this SPD with the Benefit Documents provided to you upon enrollment in each Benefit. You should also share this SPD with any family members you have elected to cover under the Plan.

The Plan is required to comply with certain federal laws and regulations that may change with the passage of new or revised laws. Your Employer reserves the right to amend the Plan in whole or in part or to completely discontinue the Plan at any time. Any amendment, termination or other action by your Employer will be made in accordance with its normal operating procedures and any applicable laws.

Certain terms in the SPD have special meaning and are capitalized throughout the SPD. Such terms are defined in more detail in the DEFINITIONS section of the SPD. If any information in this SPD conflicts with the terms of the official Plan Document, the terms of the Plan Document—not this SPD—will apply.

Important Disclaimer: Benefits hereunder are provided pursuant to an insurance contract or governing written plan document adopted by the Employer. If the terms of this SPD conflict with the terms of such insurance contract or governing plan document, then the terms of the insurance contract or governing plan document will govern, rather than this SPD document, unless otherwise required by law.

ELIGIBILITY

Q1. Who is eligible for Benefits?

An eligible employee with respect to the Plan is any common-law employee of the Employer who is eligible to participate in and receive Benefits under one or more of the Plan Components. Typically, seasonal or leased employees, or independent contractors, are not eligible, but the specific eligibility and participation requirements may vary depending on the particular Plan Component. You must satisfy the eligibility requirements under a particular Plan Component to receive benefits under that program (as described in more detail in Appendix B).

Q2. Are my Dependents eligible to be covered by the Plan?

Yes, certain individuals related to you, such as a spouse or your Dependents may be eligible for coverage under certain Plan Components, as described in Appendix B.

Q3. How do I enroll in Benefits?

If you are eligible to participate in the Plan, you can become a Participant by properly and timely completing the prescribed paper or online enrollment forms. To facilitate efficient operation of the Plan, the Plan may allow forms (including, for example, election forms and notices), whether required or permissive, to be sent and/or made by electronic means.

To enroll, follow the procedures below:

Initial Enrollment

If you are eligible to participate in the Plan for the first time, you must submit your elections and any supporting documents, if applicable, in a timely manner in accordance with your Employer's enrollment procedures. If you miss your enrollment period, you may have to wait until the next open enrollment period or experience a qualifying life event to enroll in the Plan.

Annual Open Enrollment

You may change your coverage (or elect coverage in the Plan if you did not elect coverage when first eligible) during each annual open enrollment period. You should review the enrollment materials provided to you and follow the instructions for enrolling or re-enrolling, as applicable. If you do not properly complete enrollment materials on a timely basis, your elections for the prior Plan Year may cease or remain the same for the subsequent Plan Year.

Dependents

Dependent coverage for your eligible Dependents will begin on the date your coverage begins. However, coverage of Dependents may be contingent on receiving required documents, as requested by the Plan Administrator. If applicable, and you fail to provide the required documents in a timely manner and you enroll a Dependent in coverage, the Dependent may be removed retroactively to the first date of eligibility.

Q4. Can I change Benefits throughout the year?

Maybe. In order to pay your portion of Health Care Plan premiums on a pre-tax basis, the IRS limits election changes to the annual enrollment period UNLESS you experience one of the qualifying life events defined by the IRS, such as marriage, divorce, job change, birth, or adoption of a child, or when a dependent child reaches a Plan Component's limiting age. If you experience a qualifying life event you must notify the Plan Administrator within a specified timeframe following the event.

In addition, HIPAA special enrollment rights allow you and your eligible Dependents to enroll in a Major Medical Plan Component if 1) you or your Dependents experience a loss of coverage under another group health plan, health insurance, Medicaid, or CHIP; 2) you gain a new Dependent through marriage, birth, adoption, or placement for adoption; or 3) you or your Dependents become eligible for premium assistance through a state Medicaid or CHIP program.

See your Employer's "Cafeteria Plan" for a full list of adopted permissible election change events.

Effective Date of Enrollment Change: Election and salary reduction changes generally become effective no earlier than the first day of the next calendar month following the date that the election change request was filed, except that an election change on account of a HIPAA special enrollment right, attributable to the birth, adoption, or placement for adoption of a new dependent child may, subject to the provisions of the underlying group health plan, be effective retroactively back to the date of the qualifying event. Participants who advise prior to their marriage date will have the coverage change occur on the date of marriage.

Q5. When does coverage begin and end?

Coverage begins on the date you meet any required waiting period and, depending on the Benefit, generally ends on the date or end of the month in which you cease to satisfy the eligibility requirements. Appendix B includes additional details on waiting periods and cessation of participation rules.

For example, coverage may end due to divorce, death, change in employment status (including termination), failure to pay Contributions, a Dependent Child reaching a Plan Component's limiting age, or a Plan amendment or termination. If you experience a divorce, you will not lose coverage, but your spouse will lose coverage. If your Dependent Child reaches a Plan Component's limiting age, you will not lose coverage, but your Child will lose coverage. If you experience a change in employment status that causes a change in Plan eligibility, you and your Dependents may lose coverage. If the loss of coverage meets the criteria for COBRA continuation coverage eligibility, you and your Dependents may be able to continue coverage under certain Health Care Plan Components.

Coverage under the Plan or a particular Plan Component may terminate earlier if you fail to pay your share of the premiums, if your hours drop below any required eligibility threshold, if you submit false claims, and for certain other reasons described in the applicable Plan Component's Benefit Documents.

Q6. What should I do if an Eligible Dependent loses eligibility status?

When one of your covered Dependents loses eligibility status, such as through death, divorce, or a Dependent Child reaching a Plan Component's limiting age, you will have 30 days after the event to make an election change to drop their coverage. In addition, a COBRA election may be available to your Dependent if you notify your Employer in writing within 60 days after the later of (1) the date of the event; or (2) the date on which the qualified beneficiary loses (or would lose) coverage under the terms of the Plan as a result of the event.

If you fail to notify the Plan Administrator when a Dependent becomes ineligible for coverage, you may be required to reimburse the Plan for costs incurred by the Plan and the Plan Administrator may take other action, as permitted by the Plan.

BENEFITS AND FUNDING

Q1. What is the purpose of the Plan?

The Plan is a welfare benefit plan that is intended to provide you with a range of Benefits to promote your health and welfare.

Q2. What Benefits are provided by the Plan?

The Plan provides the Benefits listed on Appendix A to this SPD.

Q3. What is the Plan's funding method?

Each Benefit offered under the Plan is funded through one of the following sources:

- Insurance contracts.
- Self-insured arrangements paid through the general assets of the Employer.

Q4. What is the source of Contributions?

Depending on the Plan Component, the cost of your coverage is either paid by:

- Employer Contributions only; or,
- Employee Contributions only; or,
- Both Employer and employee Contributions.

Q5. How do I pay for Benefits?

Depending on the Benefit, the cost of your coverage will be deducted from your pay on either a pre-tax or post-tax basis. Pre-tax payroll deductions through a Cafeteria Plan lower your cost to participate in the Plan. Note that you do not pay Social Security taxes on the pre-tax dollars used, which could result in a small reduction in your Social Security benefits at retirement.

It is important to note that if you intend to enroll a non-tax Dependent, such as a Domestic Partner, the cost of their coverage cannot be paid for on a pre-tax basis and will be added to your wages as taxable income. We recommend you consult with your tax or legal advisor for further guidance before electing coverage for a non-tax Dependent.

COORDINATION OF BENEFITS

Q6. What happens if I am covered by two or more health plans?

Coordination of benefits is governed by the Benefit Documents applicable to each Benefit. In general, the Plan that covers you as an employee will be the primary payor with the other health plan covering any additional costs that may remain after the primary plan's benefits have been exhausted.

If your Dependent Children are covered by this Plan and your spouse's health plan, the health plans generally will perform coordination of benefits using the "birthday rule." This means if your birthday month occurs earlier in a calendar year than your spouse's or partner's birthday month, this Plan will be the primary payor.

Q7. Will the Plan be primary or secondary payer if I am covered by Medicare?

If you are covered by Medicare, the Plan intends to pay either primary or secondary as follows.

- If you are 65 or older and your Employer has less than 20 employees, Medicare will be the primary payer.
- If you are 65 or older and your Employer has more than 20 employees, Medicare is the secondary payer.
- If you are disabled and your Employer has 100 or more employees, Medicare is the secondary payer.
- If you have End Stage Renal Disease (ESRD) and you are in the first 30 months of Medicare coverage, Medicare is the secondary payer during the 30-month coordination period.
- If you have ESRD and are covered by COBRA continuation coverage and you are in your first 30 months of Medicare coverage, Medicare is the secondary payer during the 30-month coordination period.
- If you are 65 or older and are covered by Medicare and COBRA continuation coverage, Medicare is the primary payer and COBRA is the secondary payer.
- If you are disabled and covered by Medicare and COBRA, Medicare is the primary payer and COBRA is the secondary payer.

CLAIMS AND APPEALS

Q1. What Claims and appeal procedures apply?

You must follow the Claims submission rules and Claims appeal procedures contained in the applicable Benefit Document. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in no event shall the Claims submission rules and Claims appeal procedures contained in the applicable Benefit Document provide fewer rights to you than the rights prescribed in Labor Regulation section 2560.503-1.

If the applicable Benefit Document does not include Claims and appeals procedures, or if such document includes procedures that do not satisfy the minimum requirements of ERISA, then the Claims and/or appeals will be determined in accordance with this Section and Section Four of the Plan document.

Q2. How do I appeal a Claim or benefit determination?

If you disagree with a benefit or Claims determination, you must submit a written request to the Claims Administrator. Please see Appendix A for contact information, including the address of the Claims Administrator for the Benefit.

HEALTH CARE PLANS

Q3. What types of Health Care Claims can I appeal?

Under ERISA, a claim is a request for benefits made in accordance with a Plan Component's claims-filing procedures, including any request for a service that must be pre-approved. Questions concerning Plan benefits, coverage and eligibility questions, and other casual inquiries are generally not considered claims for benefits.

For purposes of Health Care Plan Components subject to ERISA (e.g. Medical, Dental), there are four types of health claims:

- Urgent Care Claims – Claims that require notification or approval prior to receiving medical care, where a delay in treatment could seriously jeopardize your life or health or the ability to regain maximum function or that could cause severe pain.
- Pre-Service Claims (Non-Urgent) – Claims not involving urgent care that require notification or approval prior to receiving medical care.
- Post-Service Claims – Claims that are filed for payment of benefits after medical care has been received.
- Concurrent Care Claims – Claims for ongoing treatment that were already approved for a certain time period or number of visits. A Concurrent Care Claim happens when the Plan Component later reduces or stops coverage for those treatments, or the claimant asks to extend coverage for more treatments than originally approved. Depending on when the claimant submits the Claim during their treatment, it will be handled as one of the above Claim types.

Q4. After I submit a Claim, when should I expect a response?

The timeframe for a Plan Component to provide notice of a Claim determination varies based on the type of Claim filed:

CLAIM TYPE	DEADLINE FOR MAKING INITIAL DETERMINATION
Urgent care	As soon as possible, but no later than 72 hours after receiving the Claim by the Plan Component.
Pre-service (Non-Urgent)	Within a reasonable time period, but no later than 15 days after receiving the Claim
Post-service	Within a reasonable time period, but no later than 30 days after receiving the Claim
Concurrent Care Related to Termination or Reduction of Treatment	If the Plan Component decides to reduce or stop the approved treatment before the original end date or number of visits (other than by plan amendment or termination), the claimant will be notified early enough so they can file an appeal and get a decision before benefits are reduced or stopped.
Concurrent Care Claim Related to Request for Extension of Treatment	If you need more approved treatment under an Urgent Care claim, when you request the extension: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • At least 24 hours before your current approval ends, the Plan will review your request and give you a decision within 24 hours of receiving it. • Less than 24 hours before your approval ends, the Plan will review it as quickly as possible, and you will receive a decision no later than 72 hours after the Plan receives your request. If your request is not considered urgent, it will be treated as a regular Pre-Service or Post-Service claim and will follow the normal ERISA review timeframes for those types of claims.

Extension of Claim Determination Deadlines

- Urgent Care Claims. If the Plan Component needs more information, it must tell the Claimant within 24 hours and give the Claimant at least 48 hours to respond. Then the plan must decide the Claim within 48 hours after receiving the missing information or within 48 hours of the deadline for the Claimant to supply the missing information, whichever comes first.
- Pre-Service Claims and Post-Service Claims. The Plan Component may extend the time period up to 15 days more if, for reasons beyond its control, the plan cannot make the decision within the first deadline. If the Plan Component requests more information, the Claimant has at least 45 days to supply it. The Plan Component then must decide the Claim within 15 days after receiving the additional information or within 15 days of the deadline for the Claimant to supply the additional information, whichever comes first.

Q5. If my Health Care Claim is denied, will I receive a notification?

Yes, if your Claim is denied in full or in part, you will receive a written notice of adverse benefit determination. The notice must be provided in a manner calculated to be understood by the Claimant (including, if applicable, in a culturally and linguistically appropriate manner) and include information:

- Information sufficient to identify the Claim and a statement describing the availability, upon request, of the diagnosis code and its corresponding meaning, and the treatment code and its corresponding meaning.
- The specific reason(s) for the denial.
- Reference to the specific Plan Component's provisions on which the denial was based.
- A description of any additional material or information necessary for you to perfect the Claim and an explanation of why such material or information is necessary.
- A description of the Plan Component's internal appeals and external review procedures and the time limits applicable to such procedures. This will include a statement of your right to bring a civil action under ERISA Section 502(a) following a denial on review, if applicable.
- If the denial was based on an internal rule, guideline, protocol, or other similar criterion, the specific rule, guideline, protocol, or criterion will be provided free of charge. If this is not practical, a statement will be included that such a rule, guideline, protocol, or criterion was relied upon in making the denial and a copy will be provided free of charge to you upon request.
- If the denial is based on a medical necessity or experimental treatment or similar exclusion or limit, either a) an explanation of the scientific or clinical judgment for the determination, or b) a statement that such explanation will be provided free of charge, upon request.
- If the denial involves an urgent care Claim, the notice will also include a description of the expedited review process applicable to such Claims.

Q6. In addition to providing the notice of adverse benefit determination, is there anything else the Claims Administrator must do if a Health Care Claim is denied?

Yes, the Claims Administrator is required to take the following steps:

- Ensure that any notice includes information sufficient to identify the Claim, including the date of service, the health care provider, and the amount of the Claim. Moreover, the Plan must provide notice of the opportunity to request the diagnosis code, the treatment code, and its corresponding meaning;
- Ensure the notice includes the denial code and its corresponding meaning and the standard used to deny the Claim;
- Provide a description of the internal appeal and external review processes available under the Plan;
- Provide a description of how to initiate an appeal; and
- Disclose the availability of any applicable office of health insurance consumer assistance or ombudsman available to assist with internal Claims and appeals or external review processes, including contact information.

Q7. If my Health Care Claim is denied, what should I do?

When you receive a denial, you will have 180 days following receipt of the notification to appeal the decision. You may submit written comments, documents, records, and other information relating to the Claim. If you request, you will be provided, free of charge, reasonable access to, and copies of, all documents, records, and other information relevant to the Claim.

The Claims Administrator will review the appeal upon receipt and will follow the terms of the Plan. An appeal decision will be made within the time frame provided by the Plan and will be reviewed even if information or documents are missing from the appeal.

A document, record, or other information is relevant to a Claim if it

- was relied upon in making the Claim determination;
- was submitted, considered, or generated in the course of making the Claim determination, even if it was not used to make the Claim determination;
- demonstrated compliance with the administrative processes and safeguards designed to ensure and to verify that Claim reviews follow the terms of the Plan has been applied consistently; or
- constituted a statement of policy or guidance with respect to the Plan concerning the denied Claim.

The review will take into account all comments, documents, records, and other information submitted by you relating to the Claim, even if the information was not submitted or considered in the initial Claim review. The review will not rely on the initial denial and will be performed by a fiduciary of the Plan who is neither the individual who denied the Claim nor a direct report of that individual.

Q8. Is there an expedited process for an urgent care Claim?

Yes, you are entitled to an expedited review process that permits you to submit your request orally or in writing and that permits all necessary information to be shared by telephone, facsimile, or other similarly expeditious method.

Q9. If I appeal a Claim determination, what happens next?

First Appeal

Once you have submitted an appeal, you will receive a written response, as follows:

- Urgent Care Claim. As soon as possible, taking into account the medical exigencies, but not later than 72 hours after receipt of the appeal by the Plan Component.

- Pre-Service Claim. Within a reasonable period of time appropriate to the medical circumstances, but not later than 30 days after receipt of the appeal by the Plan Component.
- Post-Service Claim. Within a reasonable period of time, but not later than 60 days after receipt of the appeal by the Plan Component.
- Concurrent Care Claim. Before treatment ends or is reduced, where the adverse determination is the decision to reduce or terminate concurrent care early, or, if the Component Plan denies your request to extend treatment, within the appropriate time period based upon the type of Claim.

Second Appeal

If specified in the Benefit Documents for each Plan Component or in documentation given to you by the Claims Administrator, you may be entitled to a second appeal following an adverse determination of your initial appeal. In such case, the second appeal must be filed no later than 30 days from the date indicated on the response letter to the first appeal.

The appeal decision with respect to any second appeal will be made according to the following schedule:

- Urgent Care Claim. As soon as possible, taking into account the medical exigencies, but not later than 72 hours after receipt of the appeal.
- Pre-Service Claim. Within a reasonable period of time appropriate to the medical circumstances, but not later than 15 days after receipt of the appeal.
- Post-Service Claim. Within a reasonable period of time, but not later than 30 days after receipt of the appeal.
- Concurrent Claim. The response will be made in the appropriate time period based upon the type of Claim: Pre-Service Urgent, Pre-Service Non-urgent or Post-Service.

Q10. Will I receive a written notification of a claim determination on review (i.e., an appeal)?

Yes, you will receive a final notice of adverse benefit determination. The notice will include the following information:

- Information sufficient to identify the Claim.
- The specific reason for the denial, including a discussion of the decision.
- Reference to the specific Plan provisions on which the denial was based.
- A description of the Plan's review procedures and the time limits applicable to the procedures. This will include a statement of your right to bring a civil action under ERISA Section 502 following a denial on review, if applicable.
- A statement that you are entitled to receive, upon request and free of charge, reasonable access to, and copies of, all documents, records, and other information relevant to the Claim.
- If the denial was based on an internal rule, guideline, protocol, or other similar criterion, the specific rule, guideline, protocol, or criterion will be provided free of charge. If this is not practical, a statement will be included that such a rule, guideline, protocol, or criterion was relied upon in making the denial and a copy will be provided free of charge to you upon request.
- If the denial is based on a medical necessity or experimental treatment or similar exclusion or limit, either (i) an explanation of the scientific or clinical judgment for the determination, or (ii) a statement that such explanation will be provided free of charge, upon request.
- The following statement: "You and your Plan may have other voluntary alternative dispute resolution options, such as mediation. One way to find out what may be available is to contact your local U.S. Department of Labor Office and your state insurance regulatory agency."

Q11. If my appeal is denied, do I have any other rights?

Yes, you may have the right to request an independent, external review. Your external review will be conducted by an independent review organization not affiliated with the Plan. This independent review organization may overturn the Plan's decision, and the independent review organization's decision is binding on the Plan. Your appeal denial notice will include more information about your right to file a request for an external review and contact information. You must file your request for external review within four months of receiving your final internal appeal determination. Filing a request for external review will not affect your ability to bring a legal claim in court. When filing a request for external review, you will be required to authorize the release of any medical records that may be required to be reviewed for the purpose of reaching a decision on the external review.

DISABILITY PLANS

Q12. Which types of Claims are considered "Disability Claims"?

A Disability Claim is a claim for benefits that requires the Claimant to prove a disability with respect to which the plan makes its own determination of whether the Claimant is disabled, regardless of whether it is characterized as a pension benefit or a welfare benefit and regardless of whether it is offered by a pension plan or a welfare plan. However, if someone other than the plan makes the determination of disability, for purposes other than the plan's benefit determination (e.g., the Social Security Administration or a different benefit plan), the claim is not a Disability Claim.

Q13. When will I receive a Disability Claim determination?

You will receive a written or electronic notification of the Plan's Claim decision within a reasonable time but not later than 45 days after receipt of a Claim by the Plan Component

Q14. Will the Disability Claim determination period ever be extended?

Yes, the Plan may extend the review period twice, each time by 30 days, if the extension is necessary due to circumstances beyond the control of the Plan. If an extension is necessary, the Plan will notify you in writing.

Q15. What if I did not submit all the necessary information to process my Disability Claim?

The Plan will send you a written notice and will provide a description of the required documents or information. You will then have 45 days to submit the additional information to the Plan.

Q16. Will I receive a notice if my Disability Claim is denied?

Yes, you will receive a notice that will contain the following information, which must be provided in a “culturally and linguistically appropriate” manner calculated to be understood by the Claimant:

- Information sufficient to identify the Claim.
- The specific reason for the denial.
- Reference to the specific Plan provisions on which the denial was based.
- A description of any additional material or information necessary for you to perfect the Claim and an explanation of why such material or information is necessary.
- A description of the Plan's review procedures and the time limits applicable to such procedures. This will include a statement of your right to bring a civil action under ERISA Section 502(a) following a denial on review, if applicable.
- A statement that you are entitled to receive, upon request and free of charge, reasonable access to, and copies of, all documents, records, and other information relevant to the Claim.
- If the denial was based on an internal rule, guideline, protocol, or other similar criterion, the specific rule, guideline, protocol, or criterion will be provided free of charge. If this is not practical, a statement will be included that such a rule, guideline, protocol, or criterion was relied upon in making the denial and a copy will be provided free of charge to you upon request.
- If the denial is based on a medical necessity or experimental treatment or similar exclusion or limit, either a) an explanation of the scientific or clinical judgment for the determination, or b) a statement that such explanation will be provided free of charge, upon request.

Q17. If my Disability Claim is denied, what should I do?

When you receive a denial, you will have 180 days following receipt of the notification in which to appeal the decision. You may submit written comments, documents, records, and other information relating to the Claim. If you request, you will be provided, free of charge, reasonable access to, and copies of, all documents, records, and other information relevant to the Claim.

The period of time within which a denial on review is required to be made will begin at the time an appeal is filed in accordance with the procedures of the Plan. This timing is without regard to whether all the necessary information accompanies the filing.

Q18. If I appeal a Disability Claim determination, what happens next?

Once you have submitted an appeal, you will receive a written response within 45 days after receipt of your request to review a Claim determination. The 45-day period may be extended by 45 days if the Plan determines that special circumstances require an extension. If an extension is required, you will receive a written notification.

NON-HEALTH/NON-DISABILITY PLANS

Q19. What is the definition of non-health, non-disability Claims?

These are Claims that are not group health Claims or disability Claims (e.g., Claims for severance or death Benefits).

Q20. What if a Plan Component is not a Health Care or Disability Component?

Generally, any Plan Component that is not a Health Care or Disability Component will review a Claim within 90 days and provide written notification of its decision. The 90-day period may be extended by 90-days in certain circumstances. If you disagree with the Claim decision, you may file an appeal within 60 days of your receipt of the written notice of denial of a Claim. The Plan administrator will then render a decision within 60 days after receipt of the request for review. In special circumstances, the Plan may make a determination within 120 days after the receipt of your request for review. If such an extension is required, you will be notified in writing.

LEGAL ACTIONS

Q21. What should I do if I want to pursue a legal action against the Plan?

These claim and appeals procedures must be exhausted for all claims before you can bring any legal action. If you do not make a claim or file an appeal in the manner and within the appropriate time period discussed in this SPD or, if applicable, the Benefit Documents of a Plan Component, you may lose the right to file suit in state or federal court in the state of Minnesota.

The individual named below can be served with legal papers regarding the Plan.

Wescom, Inc.
Attn: Chief People Officer
5137 Jean Duluth Road
Duluth, MN 55803
218-724-1322

Service of legal process also may be directed to the Plan Administrator.

Q22. What is the time limit to bring a lawsuit?

Please refer to the applicable Benefit Document for information about the time period applicable to your Claim. If the Benefit Document does not contain any such provision, as permitted by law, you must bring a lawsuit within the following time frames:

- Before bringing any lawsuit seeking benefits under a Plan Component, you must complete the applicable claims procedure of the Plan or the Component Plan (and comply with all applicable deadlines established as part thereof). Failure to properly exhaust the claims procedure will extinguish the Claimant's right to file a lawsuit with respect to the claim.
- In the case of a Plan Component that is self-insured by your Employer, you must bring any lawsuit seeking benefits within the shorter of (i) one year from the date of the final appeal denial under the Plan's claims and appeals procedures or (ii) three years from the date of the services giving rise to the claim. All claims other than claims for benefits (such as claims for penalties, equitable relief, interference with protected rights, or production of documents; claims arising under state law; claims against nonfiduciaries; and claims for breach of fiduciary duty that are not governed by Section 413 of ERISA) must be brought within one year of the act or omission giving rise to the claim.
- In the case of a fully-insured Plan Component, the time period for bringing any lawsuit against the insurance company issuing such Plan Component or the Plan will be determined by the terms of the applicable Plan Component. If the Plan Component does not set forth such a time period, you must bring any lawsuit seeking benefits within the shorter of (i) one year from the date of the final appeal denial under the Plan's claims and appeals procedures or (ii) three years from the date of the services giving rise to the claim. All claims other than claims for benefits must be brought within one year of the act or omission giving rise to the claim.

MISCELLANEOUS

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Q1. What happens to my Benefits if I take a leave of absence?

Depending on the leave policies and procedures adopted by your Employer, you may be able to continue certain Benefits while on an approved leave of absence. If you are eligible to continue certain Benefits, you may be required to complete certain forms or documents and pay towards the cost of coverage.

Q2. Is my Employer required to comply with the Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA)?

Yes, your Employer is required to comply with FMLA. The Plan Administrator must continue Health Care Plan coverage while you are on leave protected by the FMLA.

Q3. What happens if my leave is protected by FMLA?

If your leave is protected under FMLA, you may continue your group health care coverage under the Plan (e.g. Medical, Dental) for you and any covered Dependents as long as you continue to pay your portion of the cost for your Benefits during the leave, or if allowed, after the leave.

Your Employer may offer the following options for payment of Contributions:

- Paid Leave – Contributions will be automatically deducted from payroll.
- Unpaid Leave – You will be required to submit payment to your Employer for any required Contributions. If you do not pay Contributions in a timely manner, your Employer has at least 15 days before cessation of your coverage to provide you with a notice of the cancellation. Unless your Employer has adopted a longer grace period, you will have 15 days from the date of the notice to make the required payment. If you fail to make the payment in the permitted time, your coverage will be cancelled.

Any coverage that is terminated during your FMLA leave will be reinstated upon your return from leave without any evidence of good health or newly imposed waiting period so long as you make the required Contributions, including any catch-up payments, if applicable, attributable to the period prior to your return from leave.

Depending on the policies adopted by your Employer, payment of Contributions may be paid 1) in installments during the leave; 2) before commencing FMLA leave; or 3) through "catch up" salary reductions upon returning from leave.

Q4. What happens if I experience a "change in status" while on FMLA leave?

If you experience a "change in status" (e.g., change in marital status, number of Dependents, residency, or employment status), you may change your coverage election as if you were actively employed.

Q5. What happens if I do not return to work following my FMLA leave?

If you do not return to work following your FMLA leave, you may be entitled to COBRA continuation coverage, if applicable. You may also be required to reimburse your Employer for costs of coverage provided to you while you were on unpaid FMLA leave.

Q6. What happens if my leave is protected under USERRA?

If you are going into or returning from military service, your Benefits may be protected under USERRA. Under USERRA, you may elect to continue coverage under the Plan for up to 24 months. To continue coverage, you must comply with the terms of the Plan, including election and payment of coverage. Moreover, upon return from leave protected under USERRA, your coverage will be reinstated (i.e., begin again).

If the entire length of the leave is 30 days or less, you will not be required to pay any more than the Contributions required for active employees. If the entire length of the leave is 31 days or longer, you may be required to pay up to 102% of the full amount necessary to cover an employee (and any amount for dependent coverage) who is not on military leave.

LEGAL MATTERS

Q7. Can I assign my rights under the Plan to another person or third party?

Except as otherwise specifically provided in the Plan or required by law, Benefits payable to you or your Dependents under the Plan may not be assigned, transferred or in any way made over to another party.

Even if an assignment is permitted under the Benefit Document, the Plan Administrator, or any delegated third-party, has the right to determine the validity of the assignment.

Q8. Is this document a contract between me and my Employer?

No, this document is an SPD and is intended to summarize general provisions of the Plan. This document does not constitute a contract of any type between you and your Employer. Nothing in this document shall give you any right of employment.

ADMINISTRATIVE INFORMATION

Q1. Who has the authority to make determinations under the Plan?

The Plan Administrator has discretionary authority to interpret and make determinations under the Plan. The Plan Administrator may delegate its authority to third parties regarding Claims administration (e.g., the review and processing of Claims), ministerial services (e.g., recordkeeping, mailing of notices, etc.), and other services, as necessary.

Q2. What are some of the duties of the Plan Administrator?

The Plan Administrator's duties include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Appointing and supervising a third-party administrator to pay Claims;
- Administering the Plan in accordance with its terms;
- Delegating to any person or entity powers, duties, and responsibilities, as necessary;
- Determining all questions of eligibility, status, and coverage under the Plan;
- Interpreting the Plan, including ambiguities, inconsistencies, omissions, and disputed terms;
- Making factual findings;
- Deciding disputes that may arise relative to a covered person's rights;
- Recommending procedures for filing a Claim for Benefits, review Claim denials, and appeals relating to them, and uphold or reverse such denials;
- Keeping and maintaining the Plan document and all other records pertaining to the Plan;
- Performing all necessary reporting, as required by ERISA, if applicable;
- Establishing and communicating procedures to determine an order's status as a qualified medical child support order; and
- Performing functions necessary for the Plan's administration.

Q3. Can changes be made to the Plan?

Yes. While the Employer intends to maintain the Plan indefinitely, the Employer may, in its sole discretion, at any time, amend, suspend, or terminate the Plan in whole or in part. This includes amending Benefits provided under the Plan. If an amendment, suspension, or termination is enacted, the Employer will provide notice, as required by law.

Q4. What happens if the Plan Administrator or its delegates makes a clerical error?

If the Plan Administrator or its delegated agent make a clerical error, the error will not invalidate coverage. Rather, coverage effective dates will be determined solely in accordance with the provisions of the Plan, including any Benefit Document. Moreover, as permitted by law, the Plan Administrator will make an equitable adjustment as a result of an error or delay.

Q5. Who is responsible for the day-to-day operations of the Plan?

Your Employer is responsible for the Plan's day-to-day administration.

To assist in operating the Plan efficiently and accurately, your Employer may appoint additional persons or organizations to act on its behalf or to perform certain functions. The Plan Administrator may provide the Claims administration through a third-party Claims Administrator.

The Plan Administrator keeps the records for the Plan and is responsible for the administration of the Plan. The Administrator will also answer any questions you may have about the Plan. The Plan Administrator has the exclusive right to interpret the Plan's provisions. You may contact the Plan Administrator for any further information about the Plan.

Q6. Who is responsible to administer the Plan's Claims?

The Claims Administrator is responsible to administer the Plan's Claims. The Claims Administrator is:

- The Insurance Issuer or self-insured plan administrator appointed by the Employer.
- The Employer.

Refer to the chart in Appendix A for Claims Administrator contact information.

Q7. How can I obtain additional information about the Plan?

For additional information regarding the Plan, contact the person or department listed on Page i of this SPD, or refer to the Benefit Documents. Copies of the Plan document, this SPD, and incorporated Benefit Documents are available free of charge from your Employer upon request.

Q8. If I receive a medical child support order, what should I do?

If you receive a medical child support order, send the order to the Plan Administrator. The Plan Administrator will then review the order to determine if it is a "qualified medical child support order" (QMCSO). If it is determined the order is a QMCSO, the Plan will automatically change your coverage to extend coverage to the Child. Coverage for the Child will begin on the date specified in the order, or if none is specified, the date of the order, as permitted under a Benefit.

You are permitted to obtain, without charge, a copy of the policy and/or procedures governing the QMCSO from the Plan Administrator.

Q9. When can the Plan Administrator retroactively terminate coverage provided under a Health Care Plan?

A retroactive termination of coverage is referred to as a "rescission." The Plan Administrator may retroactively terminate your coverage or the coverage of your Eligible Dependent if you commit fraud or if you intentionally misrepresent a material fact to the Plan.

Q10. What is considered fraud or intentional misrepresentation?

Fraud or intentional misrepresentation occurs when you obtain Benefits by fraudulently or intentionally misrepresenting a material fact to the Plan. If you fraudulently or intentionally misrepresent a fact, the Plan Administrator may take certain action, as permitted by law, at its sole discretion.

YOUR RIGHTS UNDER ERISA

Q1. Is the Plan subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act (ERISA)?

Yes, the Plan is subject to ERISA and you have certain rights summarized in this section.

Q2. What are my legal rights and protections under the Plan?

As a Participant in the Plan, you are entitled to certain rights and protections under ERISA. ERISA provides that all Plan Participants shall be entitled to the following.

Receive Information About Your Plan and Benefits

1. Examine, without charge, at the Plan Administrator's office and at other specified locations, such as worksites and union halls, all documents governing the Plan, including insurance contracts and any collective bargaining agreements, and, if required by ERISA to be filed, a copy of the latest annual report (Form 5500 Series) filed by the Plan with the US. Department of Labor and available at the Public Disclosure Room of the Employee Benefit Security Administration.
2. Obtain, upon written request to the Plan Administrator, copies of documents governing the operation of the Plan, including insurance contracts and collective bargaining agreements, and copies of the latest annual report (Form 5500 Series) (if required by ERISA to be prepared) and updated SPD. The administrator may charge a reasonable fee for the copies.
3. Receive a summary of the Plan's annual financial report. The Plan Administrator is required by law to furnish each Participant with a copy of this summary Annual Report.

Continue Health Care Plan Coverage

The Plan Administrator is required to continue Health Care Plan coverage for you or your Dependents if there is a loss of coverage under the Plan as a result of a qualifying event. You or your Dependents may have to pay for such coverage. Review this SPD and the documents governing your COBRA continuation coverage rights.

Prudent Actions by Plan Fiduciaries

In addition to creating rights for Plan Participants, ERISA imposes duties upon the people who are responsible for the operation of an employee benefit plan. The people who operate your Plan, called "fiduciaries" of the Plan, have a duty to do so prudently and in the interest of you and other Plan Participants and beneficiaries. No one, including your Employer, your union, or any other person, may fire you or otherwise discriminate against you in any way to prevent you from obtaining a welfare benefit or exercising your rights under ERISA.

Enforce Your Rights

If your Claim for a welfare benefit is denied or ignored, in whole or in part, you have a right to know why this was done, to obtain copies of documents relating to the decision without charge, and to appeal any denial, all within a certain period of time. Under ERISA, there are steps you can take to enforce the above rights. For instance, if you request a copy of the Plan document or the latest annual report from the Plan and do not receive them within 30 days, you may file suit in a federal court. In such a case, the court may require the Plan Administrator to provide the materials and pay you up to $110 a day until you receive the materials, unless the materials were not sent because of reasons beyond the control of the Plan Administrator.

If you have a Claim for benefits which is denied or ignored, in whole or in part, you may file suit in a state or federal court after exhausting the Plan's Claims procedures. In addition, if you disagree with the Plan's decision or lack thereof concerning the qualified status of a domestic relations order or a medical child support order, you may file suit in federal court. In addition, if you disagree with the Plan's decision or lack thereof concerning the qualified status of a medical child support order, you may file suit in federal court. If it should happen that Plan fiduciaries misuse the Plan's money, or if you are discriminated against for asserting your rights, you may seek assistance from the U.S. Department of Labor, or you may file suit in a federal court. The court will decide who should pay court costs and legal fees. If you are successful, the court may order the person you have sued to pay these costs and fees. If you lose, the court may order you to pay these costs and fees, for example, if it finds your claim is frivolous.

Assistance With Your Questions

If you have any questions about your Plan, you should contact the Plan Administrator. For more information about this statement or your rights under ERISA or if you need assistance in obtaining documents from the Plan Administrator, contact the nearest Regional or District Office of the U.S. Department of Labor's Employee Benefits Security Administration (EBSA) in your area or visit the EBSA website at www.dol.gov/ebsa. (Addresses and phone numbers of Regional and District EBSA Offices are available through EBSA's website). For more information about the Marketplace, visit www.healthcare.gov.

You also may obtain certain publications about your rights and responsibilities under ERISA by calling the publications hotline of the EBSA. In addition, you may contact the Division of Technical Assistance and Inquiries, EBSA, U.S. Department of Labor, 200 Constitution Avenue N.W., Washington, D.C. 20210.

COBRA

This section has important information about your right to COBRA continuation coverage, which is a temporary extension of coverage under the Plan. This section explains COBRA continuation coverage, when it may become available to you and your family, and what you need to do to protect your right to get it. When you become eligible for COBRA, you may also become eligible for other coverage options that may cost less than COBRA continuation coverage.

The right to COBRA continuation coverage was created by a federal law, the Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1985 (COBRA). COBRA continuation coverage can become available to you and other members of your family when group health coverage would otherwise end. For more information about your rights and obligations under the Plan and under federal law, you should review this SPD or contact the Plan Administrator.

You may have other options available to you when you lose group health coverage. For example, you may be eligible to buy an individual plan through the Health Insurance Marketplace. By enrolling in coverage through the Marketplace, you may qualify for lower costs on your monthly premiums and lower out-of-pocket costs. Additionally, you may qualify for a 30-day special enrollment period for another group health plan for which you are eligible (such as a spouse's plan), even if that plan generally doesn't accept late enrollees.

Q1. What is COBRA continuation coverage?

COBRA continuation coverage is a continuation of Plan coverage when it would otherwise end because of a life event. This is also called a "qualifying event." Specific qualifying events are listed later in this Q1. After a qualifying event, COBRA continuation coverage must be offered to each person who is a "qualified beneficiary." You, your spouse, and your dependent children could become qualified beneficiaries if coverage under the Plan is lost because of the qualifying event.

Each qualified beneficiary is required to pay the entire cost of COBRA coverage, including both employee and employer contributions. The amount a qualified beneficiary may be required to pay may not exceed 102% (or, in the case of an extension of COBRA coverage due to a disability, 150%) of the cost to the Health Care Plan.

If you're an employee, you'll become a qualified beneficiary if you lose your coverage under the Plan because of the following qualifying events:

- Your hours of employment are reduced, or
- Your employment ends for any reason other than your gross misconduct.

If you're the spouse of an employee, you'll become a qualified beneficiary if you lose your coverage under the Plan because of the following qualifying events:

- Your spouse dies;
- Your spouse's hours of employment are reduced;
- Your spouse's employment ends for any reason other than his or her gross misconduct;
- Your spouse becomes entitled to Medicare benefits (under Part A, Part B, or both); or
- You become divorced or legally separated from your spouse.

Your dependent children will become qualified beneficiaries if they lose coverage under the Plan because of the following qualifying events:

- The parent-employee dies;
- The parent-employee's hours of employment are reduced;
- The parent-employee's employment ends for any reason other than his or her gross misconduct;
- The parent-employee becomes entitled to Medicare benefits (Part A, Part B, or both);
- The parents become divorced or legally separated; or
- The child stops being eligible for coverage under the Plan as a dependent child.

Q2. Can I elect continuation for my Domestic Partner?

Unlike a spouse, a covered Domestic Partner of an employee does not have an independent statutory right to elect COBRA coverage. However, once a plan extends coverage to Domestic Partners or their children, certain COBRA rights and obligations may arise. For example, if an employee and covered Domestic Partner lose coverage due to the employee's termination of employment or reduction of hours, the employee may elect to continue the coverage in place prior to the qualifying event, which included coverage for the Domestic Partner. On the other hand, the death of the employee would not trigger any COBRA continuation coverage rights for a Domestic Partner, and no COBRA rights would be available upon the termination of a domestic partnership. Contact the person or department listed on Page i of this SPD for additional information on the Plan's extension of certain COBRA coverage rights to Domestic Partners.

Q3. When is COBRA continuation coverage available?

The Plan will offer COBRA continuation coverage to qualified beneficiaries only after the Plan Administrator has been notified that a qualifying event has occurred. The employer must notify the Plan Administrator of the following qualifying events:

- The end of employment or reduction of hours of employment;
- Death of the employee;
- The employee's becoming entitled to Medicare benefits (under Part A, Part B, or both).

Under special rules that apply if an employee does not return to work at the end of an FMLA leave, some individuals may be entitled to elect COBRA coverage.

NOTICE PROCEDURES:

For all other qualifying events (divorce or legal separation of the employee and spouse or a dependent child's losing eligibility for coverage as a dependent child), you must notify the Plan Administrator within 60 days, or a longer time period if permitted by the Plan, or the latest of:

- The date of the qualifying event;
- The date coverage would be lost because of the qualifying event; or
- The date on which the qualified beneficiary was informed of the responsibility to provide the notice and procedures for doing so.

If mailed, your notice must be postmarked no later than the last day of the required notice period. Any notice you provide must include:

- the Plan's name: Wescom, Inc. Health and Welfare Plan,
- the name and address of the Participant and any other qualified beneficiaries;
- the Qualifying Event and the date it happened, and,
- be accompanied by any documentation providing proof of the event (e.g., the divorce decree, legal separation agreement).

If provided electronically (if allowed), your notice should be provided by following the Plan Administrator's reasonable procedures established in compliance with the regulations.

You must provide this notice to the person, department or entity listed on Page i of this SPD.

Q4. How is COBRA continuation coverage provided?

Once the Plan Administrator receives notice that a qualifying event has occurred, COBRA continuation coverage will be offered to each of the qualified beneficiaries. Each qualified beneficiary will have an independent right to elect COBRA continuation coverage. Covered employees may elect COBRA continuation coverage on behalf of their spouses, and parents may elect COBRA continuation coverage on behalf of their children.

Q5. How long does COBRA continuation coverage last?

The COBRA coverage periods described below are maximum coverage periods. COBRA coverage can end before the end of the maximum coverage period for several reasons.

Employee Coverage. Under COBRA, employees themselves are only eligible for either:

- 18 months of coverage, due to termination of employment or a reduction in hours; or,
- 29 months of coverage, if a qualified beneficiary covered under the Plan is eligible for a disability extension (which occurs when the individual is determined to be disabled by the Social Security Administration before the 60th day of COBRA coverage and remains disabled for the initial 18 months of coverage). The 11-month extension begins at the conclusion of the original 18 months of coverage.

Dependent/Qualified Beneficiary Coverage. Dependents who are qualified beneficiaries are eligible for the same coverage durations above, but their coverage may extend even further in certain situations:

- 36 months of coverage, due to losing dependent-child status under the plan;
- Up to 36 months of coverage, when the qualifying event is the employee's termination of employment or a reduction in hours and the employee became entitled to Medicare less than 18 months before the qualifying event (where the 36 months is measured from the date the employee became entitled to Medicare); or,
- Up to 36 months of coverage, when there is a second qualifying event during continuation coverage (the death of the covered employee; the divorce or separation of the employee and spouse; the covered employee becoming entitled to Medicare or loss of dependent-child status under the Plan), where the 36 months is measured from the original COBRA coverage start date.

These events can be a second qualifying event only if they would have caused the qualified beneficiary to lose coverage under the Plan if the first qualifying event had not occurred.

Disability extension of 18-month period of COBRA continuation coverage

To qualify for the disability extension, the qualified beneficiary must notify the Plan Administrator of the disability determination on a date that is both within 60 days after the date of the determination and before the end of the original 18-month maximum coverage. This notice must be sent to the Plan Administrator or its designee and in accordance with the procedures described above.

Second qualifying event extension of 18-month period of continuation coverage

If your family experiences another qualifying event during the 18 months of COBRA continuation coverage, the spouse and dependent children in your family can get up to 18 additional months of COBRA continuation coverage, for a maximum of 36 months, if the Plan is properly notified about the second qualifying event. This extension may be available to the spouse and any dependent children getting COBRA continuation coverage if the employee or former employee dies; becomes entitled to Medicare benefits (under Part A, Part B, or both); gets divorced or legally separated; or if the dependent child stops being eligible under the Plan as a dependent child. This extension is only available if the second qualifying event would have caused the spouse or dependent child to lose coverage under the Plan had the first qualifying event not occurred.

Q6. Are there other coverage options besides COBRA continuation coverage?

Yes. Instead of enrolling in COBRA continuation coverage, there may be other coverage options for you and your family through the Health Insurance Marketplace, Medicare, Medicaid, Children's Health Insurance Program \(CHIP\), or other group health plan coverage options (such as a spouse's plan) through what is called a "special enrollment period." Some of these options may cost less than COBRA continuation coverage. You can learn more about many of these options at www.healthcare.gov.

Q7. Can I enroll in Medicare instead of COBRA continuation coverage after my group health plan coverage ends?

In general, if you don't enroll in Medicare Part A or B when you are first eligible because you are still employed, after the Medicare initial enrollment period, you have an 8-month special enrollment period to sign up for Medicare Part A or B, beginning on the earlier of

- The month after your employment ends; or
- The month after group health plan coverage based on current employment ends.

If you don't enroll in Medicare and elect COBRA continuation coverage instead, you may have to pay a Part B late enrollment penalty and you may have a gap in coverage if you decide you want Part B later. If you elect COBRA continuation coverage and later enroll in Medicare Part A or B before the COBRA continuation coverage ends, the Plan may terminate your continuation coverage. However, if Medicare Part A or B is effective on or before the date of the COBRA election, COBRA coverage may not be discontinued on account of Medicare entitlement, even if you enroll in the other part of Medicare after the date of the election of COBRA coverage.

If you are enrolled in both COBRA continuation coverage and Medicare, Medicare will generally pay first (primary payer) and COBRA continuation coverage will pay second. Certain plans may pay as if secondary to Medicare, even if you are not enrolled in Medicare.

For more information visit <https://www.medicare.gov/medicare-and-you>.

Q8. What if I have additional questions?

Questions concerning your Plan or your COBRA continuation coverage rights should be addressed to the contact or contacts identified below. For more information about your rights under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act (ERISA), including COBRA, the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, and other laws affecting group health plans, contact the nearest Regional or District Office of the U.S. Department of Labor's Employee Benefits Security Administration (EBSA) in your area or visit www.dol.gov/ebsa. (Addresses and phone numbers of Regional and District EBSA Offices are available through EBSA's website.) For more information about the Marketplace, visit www.HealthCare.gov.

Q9. How do I protect my COBRA rights?

Keep Your Plan Administrator Informed of Address Changes. To protect your family's rights, you should keep the Plan Administrator informed of any changes in your family members' addresses. You should also keep a copy, for your records, of any notices that you send to the Plan Administrator or its designee.

Q10. What factors should be considered when determining to elect COBRA continuation coverage?

You may have the right to request special enrollment in another health plan for which you are otherwise eligible (such as a plan sponsored by your spouse's employer) within 30 days after Plan coverage ends because of a Qualifying Event listed above. You may also have the same special right at the end of COBRA continuation coverage if you elect COBRA continuation coverage for the maximum time available to you.

Q11. What is the procedure for obtaining COBRA continuation coverage?

The Plan has conditioned the availability of COBRA continuation coverage upon the timely election of such coverage. An election is timely if it is made during the election period.

Q12. What is the election period and how long must it last?

The election period is the time period within which the qualified beneficiary must elect COBRA continuation coverage under the Plan. The election period must begin no later than the date the qualified beneficiary would lose coverage on account of the Qualifying Event and must not end before the date that is 60 days after the later of 1) the date the qualified beneficiary would lose coverage because of the Qualifying Event, or 2) the date notice is provided to the qualified beneficiary of the qualified beneficiary's right to elect COBRA continuation coverage.

Q13. Will a waiver made before the end of the election period end a qualified beneficiary's election rights?

If, during the election period, a qualified beneficiary waives COBRA continuation coverage, the waiver can be revoked at any time before the end of the election period. The waiver's revocation is an election of COBRA continuation coverage. If a waiver is later revoked, coverage need not be provided retroactively (that is, from the date of the loss of coverage until the waiver is revoked). Waivers and revocations of waivers are considered made on the date they are sent to the Plan Administrator or its designee, as applicable.

Q14. Is COBRA continuation coverage available if a qualified beneficiary has Medicare?

Qualified Beneficiaries who are entitled to elect COBRA continuation coverage may do so even if they are entitled to Medicare benefits on or before the date on which COBRA continuation coverage is elected. But a qualified beneficiary's COBRA continuation coverage will terminate automatically if, after electing COBRA continuation coverage, the qualified beneficiary becomes entitled to Medicare or becomes covered under another health Plan.

Q15. When may a qualified beneficiary's COBRA continuation coverage be terminated?

A qualified beneficiary may waive COBRA continuation coverage during the election period. Except for an interruption of coverage in connection with a waiver, a qualified beneficiary's COBRA continuation coverage must extend for at least the period beginning on the date of the Qualifying Event and ending not before the earliest of the following dates.

- The last day of the applicable maximum coverage period.

- The first day for which timely payment is not made to the Plan with respect to the qualified beneficiary.
- The date upon which your Employer ceases to provide any health Plan (including a successor Plan) to any employee.
- The date, after the date of the election, that the qualified beneficiary first becomes covered under a health Plan.
- The date, after the date of the election, that the qualified beneficiary first becomes entitled to Medicare (either part A or part B, whichever occurs earlier).
- The later of the following two dates if the qualified beneficiary is entitled to a disability extension.
 1. The end of the maximum coverage period that applies to the qualified beneficiary without regard to the disability extension.
 2. The earlier of 1) the first day of the month that is more than 30 days after the date of a final determination under Title II or XVI of the Social Security Act that the qualified beneficiary is no longer disabled, or 2) 29 months after the date of the Qualifying Event.

The Plan can terminate for cause a qualified beneficiary's coverage on the same basis that the Plan terminates for cause the coverage of similarly situated non-COBRA beneficiaries (for example, for submitting a fraudulent Claim).

If the Plan's obligation to make COBRA continuation coverage available to the qualified beneficiary ceases, and an individual who is not a qualified beneficiary receives coverage under the Plan solely because of the individual's relationship to a qualified beneficiary, the Plan is not obligated to make coverage available to the individual who is not a qualified beneficiary.

Q16. Must the Plan allow payment for COBRA continuation coverage to be made in monthly installments?

Yes. The Plan is also permitted to allow for payment at other intervals.

Q17. What is considered timely when paying for COBRA continuation coverage?

Payment is made timely if made no later than 30 days after the first day of the coverage period.

The Plan does not require payment for any period of COBRA continuation coverage for a qualified beneficiary earlier than 45 days after the date on which the election of COBRA continuation coverage is made for that qualified beneficiary. Payment is considered made on the date on which it is postmarked to those providing COBRA continuation coverage.

If you make a timely payment and the payment is less than the amount the Plan requires, the Plan Administrator may consider the amount timely if 1) the amount owed is insignificant, and 2) you pay the amount owed within a reasonable period. A reasonable period is 30 days, and an insignificant amount is considered $50 or 10% of the required amount. Please see the Plan document for additional information.

PRIVACY AND SECURITY RIGHTS

This section provides a summary of the privacy and security requirements that apply to the Plan under the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA), the Health Information Technology for Economic and Clinical Health Act (HITECH), and, where applicable on or after February 16, 2026, the federal confidentiality rules for Substance Use Disorder (SUD) records under 42 C.F.R. Part 2. This summary does not replace the Plan's full HIPAA Notice of Privacy Practices (NOPP), which describes in detail how the Plan may use and disclose protected health information (PHI) and your rights with respect to that information. You may obtain the Plan's full HIPAA NOPP from the Privacy Officer upon request.

Uses and Disclosures of Your Information

The Plan Administrator on behalf of the Plan may use or disclose your PHI for the purposes of routine treatment, payment, or health care operations related to the Plan. For example, the Plan may use your PHI for management activities related to the Plan—including auditing, fraud and abuse detection, and customer service. The Plan also may use or disclose your PHI in order to pay your Claims for benefits. For example, the Plan may use your information to make eligibility determinations and for billing and Claims management purposes. Note that the Genetic Information Nondiscrimination Act (GINA) prohibits using PHI that is genetic information for underwriting purposes. In addition, the Plan may disclose your PHI to the Plan Administrator so that the Plan Administrator can perform administrative functions on behalf of the Plan, such as facilitating Claims or appeals.

The Plan also may use or disclose your PHI where required or permitted by law. The Plan Administrator on behalf of the Plan is permitted to use or disclose PHI:

- when required by law;
- for public health activities;
- to report Child or domestic abuse;
- for governmental oversight activities;
- pursuant to judicial or administrative proceedings;
- for certain law enforcement purposes;
- for a coroner, medical examiner, or funeral director in order to obtain information about a deceased individual;
- for organ, eye, or tissue donation purposes;
- for certain government-approved research activities;
- to avert a serious threat to an individual's or the public's health or safety;
- for certain government functions, such as related to military service or national security;
- to comply with workers' compensation laws;
- to a family member or close friend that you have identified and who is directly involved in your care or payment for your care; or
- to notify a family member or other individual involved in the care of your location, general condition, or death or to a public or private entity authorized by law or its charter to assist in disaster relief efforts to make such notifications.

For any other uses and disclosures of your PHI, the Plan will obtain your written authorization. The Plan will obtain your written authorization to use or disclose PHI for marketing purposes where the Plan receives financial remuneration, for the sale of PHI, or with respect to psychotherapy notes, except for limited health care operations purposes. You may revoke this authorization in writing at any time, provided the Plan has not yet acted while relying on your authorization.

Stricter State Privacy Laws – Under the HIPAA privacy and security rules, the Plan is required to comply with state laws, if any, that also are applicable and are not contrary to HIPAA (for example, where state laws may be stricter). The Plan maintains a policy to ensure compliance with these laws.

Your Rights With Respect To Your Health Information

You have several rights with respect to your PHI, which are described below. Please contact your Employer's Privacy Officer if you have questions about your rights.

- You have the right to request restrictions on how your PHI may be used or disclosed. The Plan generally is not required to agree to your requested restriction, except in limited circumstances.
- You have the right to receive your PHI confidentially, such as at a location other than your home, if you state in writing that disclosing the information through normal means could endanger you.
- You have the right to inspect and copy your PHI that is maintained by the Plan in a designated record set or to request an electronic copy. The Plan may charge a reasonable, cost-based fee for such copies.
- You have the right to request an amendment to your PHI that the Plan maintains in a designated record set. The Plan may deny your request for an amendment if it believes your information is accurate and complete, or if the information was created by a party other than the Plan.
- You have a right to request an accounting of disclosures that the Plan has made of your PHI during the six years before your request, except for disclosures that you have authorized or for disclosures related to routine treatment, payment, or health care operations of the Plan.
- You have a right to request a paper copy of this notice, even if you have agreed to receive this notice electronically.

Substance Use Disorder (SUD) Records — Additional Federal Protections (42 C.F.R. Part 2)

We may maintain certain records related to substance use disorder treatment that are protected by federal law (42 CFR Part 2). Effective February 16, 2026, these records have extra privacy protections:

- We will not use or disclose your SUD information without your written consent, unless permitted by Part 2 (for example, in a medical emergency, certain audits, or as required by a valid court order).
- Your SUD records cannot be used in civil, criminal, administrative, or legislative proceedings against you unless you provide written consent or a court issues a Part-2-compliant order.
- If your SUD information is disclosed to a HIPAA-regulated entity under your written consent for treatment, payment, or health care operations, that entity may redisclose the information only as permitted under the HIPAA Privacy Rule and Part 2. Redisclosure for legal proceedings remains prohibited without proper authorization or court order.
- A single written consent may authorize future uses and disclosures of your SUD records for treatment, payment, and health care operations until you revoke it.
- You may revoke your written consent at any time, except to the extent we have already acted in reliance on it.
- You have the right to request a list of when and to whom your SUD information has been disclosed as required by Part 2.
- You may request restrictions on certain uses or disclosures of your SUD information. We will consider your request and comply where required.
- If your SUD information is breached, the Plan will follow the HIPAA Breach Notification Rule to notify you and any required federal agencies.

Our Duties With Respect To Your Individually Identifiable Health Information

The Plan is required by law to maintain the privacy of your PHI and to provide you with a notice (NOPP) of its legal duties and privacy practices with respect to your PHI.

OTHER LEGAL NOTICES

Q1. Do I have any other legal rights and protections under the Plan?

Yes, the Plan is required to comply with other federal regulations, which guarantee certain legal rights and protections, as follows.

Your Rights Under the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act

The Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (PPACA or ACA) provides certain consumer protections, including the elimination of annual and lifetime limits on benefits, the provision of preventive services without cost sharing, the limitation of out-of-pocket annual costs, the coverage of essential health benefits, the elimination of waiting periods of more than 90 days for coverage to begin, the elimination of pre-existing conditions, and the guarantee of issue and renewal of coverage. As applicable, these provisions are contained within the Benefit Document of the Major Medical Option.

Your Rights Under the Americans With Disabilities Act

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) ensures that individuals with disabilities are provided with equal access to health care services and Benefits. You have the right to receive information about your Plan coverage in accessible formats, request reasonable accommodations, and access the same level of care and services as other Participants. If you believe your rights under the ADA are not being upheld, you have the right to file a complaint and seek resolution.

Your Rights Under the Family and Medical Leave Act

The Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) provides that Health Care must be maintained during any period of unpaid leave covered by FMLA under the same conditions as if you continued to work. Moreover, FMLA requires that you be reinstated to the same or an equivalent job with the same pay, benefits, and terms and conditions of employment on your return from FMLA-protected leave. If your leave extends beyond the end of your FMLA entitlement, you do not have return rights under FMLA. If you do not return to work following FMLA leave for a reason other than: 1) the continuation, recurrence, or onset of a serious health condition which would entitle you to FMLA leave; 2) the continuation, recurrence, or onset of a covered servicemember's serious injury or illness which would entitle you to FMLA leave; or 3) other circumstances beyond your control, you may be required to reimburse your Employer for its share of health care premiums or Contributions paid on your behalf during your FMLA leave.

Your Rights Under the Genetic Information Nondiscrimination Act of 2008

The Genetic Information Nondiscrimination Act of 2008 (GINA) provides that your Employer may not discriminate against you on the basis of genetic information, including eligibility, adjusting premiums and contribution amounts. GINA generally prohibits employers with more than 15 employees from the collection or use of genetic information unless in an aggregate form that does not identify the individual. When GINA applies, genetic information is treated as Protected Health Information ("PHI") under HIPAA.

Your Rights Under the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (Special Enrollment)

The Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA) provides certain special enrollment rights if you decline coverage in the Major Medical Option for yourself or your Eligible Dependents because of other coverage. If you or your Eligible Dependents lose eligibility for that other coverage or if your Employer stops contributing toward your or your Dependent's other coverage, you may be able to enroll yourself and your Eligible Dependent in the Major Medical Option. Generally, you must request enrollment within 30 days after your or your Eligible Dependent's other coverage ends or after your Employer stops contributing toward the other coverage.

If the other coverage is Medicaid or the Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP), you must request enrollment within 60 days after you or your Eligible Dependents' Medicaid or CHIP coverage ends. Finally, if you have a new Eligible Dependent as a result of marriage, birth, adoption, or placement for adoption, you may be able to enroll yourself and your Eligible Dependents. However, you must request enrollment within 30 days after the marriage, birth, adoption, or placement for adoption.

Your Rights Under the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (Health Factors)

The Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA) prohibits the Major Medical Option from discriminating against you or your Eligible Dependents based on a health factor. Health factors include your health status, medical condition, claims experience, receipt of health care, medical history, genetic information, evidence of insurability, or disability. Compliance with this provision is not determinative of compliance with any other federal or state laws, including COBRA or ADA.

Your Rights Under the Mental Health Parity and Addiction Equity Act of 2008

The Mental Health Parity and Addiction Equity Act of 2008 (MHPAEA) provides that if any Major Medical Option under the Plan 1) provides for both medical and surgical benefits and mental health or substance use disorder benefits, and 2) is not subject to increased cost exemption (within the meaning of the MHPAEA), the following conditions apply:

- The Major Medical Option may not apply annual or lifetime limits for mental health or substance use disorders that are lower than those for medical and surgical benefits.
- The Major Medical Option may not apply more restrictive financial requirements or treatment limitations to mental health or substance use disorder benefits in any classification than the predominant limitations applied to substantially all of the medical and surgical benefits in any classification.
- The criteria for medical necessity determinations made under any health insurance option with respect to mental health or substance use disorder benefits will be made available by the Plan Administrator (in accordance with the MHPAEA) to any current or potential Participant upon request.
- The reason for any denial under the Plan for reimbursement or payment for services with respect to mental health or substance use disorder benefits in the case of any Participant will, on request or as otherwise required under the MHPAEA, be made available by the Plan Administrator to the Participant in accordance with the Claims procedures applicable to the group medical coverage feature.
- The Plan will be operated and constructed in all respects in compliance with the MHPAEA.

"Mental health benefits" and "substance use disorder benefits" are defined in the Major Medical Option applicable to the health insurance option, pursuant to applicable state and federal law, and consistent with generally recognized standards of current medical practice.

Your Rights Under Michelle's Law

Michelle's Law provides that a Major Medical Option of the Plan that requires a certification of student status for any period of coverage of an Eligible Dependent will comply with Public Law No. 110-381 (2008), as amended from time to time. Eligibility for such coverage for an Eligible Dependent who is enrolled in an institution of higher education at the beginning of a medically necessary leave of absence will be extended if the leave normally would cause the Eligible Dependent to lose eligibility for coverage under any Major Medical Option's coverage due to loss of student status. This eligibility extension shall last up to one year beginning on the first day of the medically necessary leave of absence or the date the coverage would otherwise terminate due to loss of student status, whichever is earlier.

Your Rights Under Newborns' and Mothers' Health Protection Act

The Newborns' and Mothers' Health Protection Act (NMHPA) provides that the Major Medical Option of the Plan generally may not, under federal law, restrict benefits for any hospital length of stay in connection with childbirth for the mother or newborn child to less than 48 hours following a vaginal delivery, or less than 96 hours following a cesarean section. However, federal law generally does prohibit the mother's or newborn's attending provider, after consulting with the mother, from discharging the mother or her newborn earlier than 48 hours (or 96 hours, as applicable). In any case, the Major Medical Option may not, under federal law, require that a provider obtain authorization from the Plan or the insurance issuer for prescribing a length of stay not in excess of 48 hours (or 96 hours). However, in order to use certain providers or facilities, or to reduce your out-of-pocket costs, you may be required to provide the Plan with advance notice of services or providers related to the hospital stay. For information on precertification, contact your Plan Administrator.

Your Rights Under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964

Generally, benefits provided under a group health plan must be provided without regard to the race, color, sex (including pregnancy), national origin, or religion of the eligible employee and his or her eligible dependents. A group health plan cannot discriminate on the basis of: eligibility to receive coverage under the Plan; the terms and conditions on which coverage is provided; or, what an employee is charged for coverage.

In addition, under the Pregnancy Discrimination Act of 1978, group health plans must provide coverage for pregnancy, childbirth, and related medical conditions on the same basis as coverage for nonpregnancy-related conditions.

Your Rights Under USERRA

The Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act (USERRA) provides for continuation of Health Care Plan coverage if you are called for active-duty military service. The maximum length of extended coverage under USERRA is the lesser of

- 24 months beginning on the date that the military leave begins, or
- A period beginning on the day that the leave began and ending on the day after your reemployment application deadline.

If your military leave does not exceed 31 days, you will not be required to pay more than your share of the premium toward the extended coverage. If the leave is 31 days or more, then you will be required to pay the full premium cost, plus an additional two-percent administration fee. If you return to covered employment after a military leave has ended, your medical coverage will be reinstated. You will not have to provide proof of good health or satisfy any waiting periods that might otherwise apply. However, exclusions or limitations may apply to an illness or injury (as defined by the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs) incurred as a result of the military service.

Your Rights Under Women's Health and Cancer Rights Act

The Women's Health and Cancer Rights Act (WHCRA) requires that a Major Medical Option that provides medical and surgical benefits with respect to a mastectomy provide coverage for:

- Reconstruction of the breast on which the mastectomy has been performed;
- Surgery and reconstruction of the other breast to produce a symmetrical appearance; and
- Prosthesis and treatment of physical complications of all stages of mastectomy, including lymphedema.

These services must be provided in a manner determined in consultation with the attending physician and the patient. This coverage may be subject to annual deductibles, copays, and coinsurance provisions applicable to other such medical and surgical benefits provided under the applicable medical option. Please refer to the Major Medical Option's summary of benefits coverage for additional information. If you have other questions, please contact the Plan Administrator.

Your Rights Under Consolidated Appropriations Act 2021

The Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2021 (CAA 2021) includes several provisions that affect participants in group health plans. Here is a brief list of some key impacts:

- Surprise Billing Protections: The CAA 2021 includes the No Surprises Act, which protects participants from surprise medical bills for emergency services, non-emergency services provided by out-of-network providers at in-network facilities, and air ambulance services.
- Transparency Requirements: Group health plans must provide participants with clear and accurate information about their coverage, including cost-sharing information, provider network status, and any changes to the plan.
- Mental Health Parity: The act strengthens mental health parity requirements, ensuring that mental health and substance use disorder benefits are comparable to medical and surgical benefits.
- Prescription Drug Reporting: Plans are required to report detailed information about prescription drug costs and spending, which aims to increase transparency and help control costs.
- Continuity of Care: If a provider or facility leaves the plan's network, participants undergoing treatment for certain conditions can continue to receive care at in-network rates for a limited period.
- Direct Primary Care and Health Care Sharing Ministries: The act allows for the inclusion of direct primary care arrangements and health care sharing ministries as part of the definition of "qualified medical expenses."

These provisions aim to enhance protections, improve transparency, and ensure better access to care for participants in group health plans. Contact your Plan Administrator for this information as it pertains to a particular Benefit.

Q2. Is there anything else I should know if I want to enroll my Domestic Partner?

Yes. Unless otherwise provided by the Plan Documents, you must be aware of the following:

- Under current federal income tax laws, the value of providing benefits to a Domestic Partner and the partner's Eligible Dependent Children may be considered taxable to you—unless they are considered your Dependents for purposes of federal income taxes. This means you will pay federal, state, and local income taxes, as well as employment taxes, on the full value of the coverage provided to your Domestic Partner and the partner's Dependents. This type of taxable income is known as imputed income, and your Employer will report it on your Form W-2 at the end of each year. It is important for you to understand the tax implications of covering a Domestic Partner and the partner's Eligible Dependent Children. Please consult a tax advisor to determine the full tax and financial effect of electing this coverage.
- While Domestic Partners are not considered qualified beneficiaries under COBRA, they may be eligible for COBRA coverage if the Employee elects to continue their coverage through COBRA continuation benefits.

Appendix B Wescom, Inc. Health and Welfare Plan

Eligibility and Participation Requirements

An employee who is determined to be benefit-eligible as of their start date shall be able to participate in the Plan as of the Coverage Date specified below.

Employee Class	Working Hours Minimum	Benefits Offered	Date Coverage Begins
Full-Time Employees	30 hours per week	All Benefits Included in Appendix A	First day of the month following 30 days of employment

Dependent Eligibility

Unless specified otherwise under the applicable Plan Component's benefit documents, coverage for dependents, if elected, begins on the date the Employee's coverage begins (provided the Employee timely enrolls them in coverage). Mid-Plan Year elections for newly acquired Dependents may also be permitted under certain circumstances.

Dependent Definitions. For purposes of eligibility and participation in this Plan, Dependent definitions shall have the same meaning set forth in each applicable Plan Component's benefit documents, or if not defined in the applicable Plan Component documents, in accordance with the policies adopted by the Employer. Unless otherwise defined in the above documents or policies, your eligible Dependents include:

- Your lawful same – or opposite-sex spouse under applicable law (including your common-law spouse), unless legally separated by court decree; or, Your Domestic Partner with whom you have lawfully registered into a partnership in a state or municipality that provides for such registration.
- Your child(ren) under age 26 (regardless of financial dependency, residency with you, marital status, or student status), or if older, your child who is principally supported by you and who you can certify (on a periodic basis) is not capable of self-support due to a physical or mental disability that either began while the child was covered under the Plan or occurred prior to attaining age 26. For purposes of the Plan, a child includes:
 - Your (or your spouse's/partner's) biological child, stepchild, legally adopted child (including any child lawfully placed for adoption with you by a court of competent jurisdiction);
 - Your court-appointed legal ward under a Component Plan's limiting age provided he or she legally resides with you in a parent-child relationship and qualifies as your dependent for tax purposes.
- An eligible child for whom you are required to provide coverage under the terms of a Qualified Medical Child Support Order or a National Medical Support Notice, including a judgment, decree, or order issued by a court of competent jurisdiction, or an order issued through an administrative process that has the force and effect of law under applicable state law.

Proof of Dependent Status. Your Employer reserves the right to verify a Dependent is eligible or continues to be eligible for coverage under the Plan. Documents requested may include (but are not limited to) copies of birth certificates, court orders, divorce decrees or marriage certificates as needed to establish dependent status. Dependent eligibility determinations made by your Employer shall be final, binding and conclusive on all parties claiming an interest in the Plan.

Dual Coverage Prohibited. Except as specifically provided otherwise in an applicable Plan Component's Benefit Documents, in no event will an employee be covered under a Plan Component as both a participant and a dependent, or a dependent be covered under a Plan Component as a dependent of more than one participant.

Cessation of Participation

Unless otherwise stated in the applicable Benefit Documents, your coverage will cease upon the earliest of the following:

- The date or end of the month (as applicable under each Plan Component) in which you cease to satisfy the eligibility requirements for a particular Plan Benefit. This may result from your death, reduction in hours, or termination of active employment;
- The end of the period for which you paid your required Contribution if the Contribution for the next period is not paid when due;
- The date you report for active military service, unless coverage is continued through the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act of 1994 ("USERRA") as described in the "Your Rights Under USERRA" section; or,
- The date that your coverage is terminated by amendment of the Plan, by whole or partial termination of the Plan, termination of the contract or agreement, or by discontinuance of Contributions for your Employer.

Coverage for your spouse and other Dependents (including your Domestic Partner) terminates when your coverage terminates. Their coverage will also cease for other reasons specified in the Benefit Documents for the Plan Components. In addition, their coverage will terminate:

- The date or end of the month on which your covered spouse, Domestic Partner or Child is no longer considered an eligible Dependent;
- The date, end of the month, or end of the Plan Year in which your Dependent Child attains a Plan Component's limiting age (unless the Plan Component allows for the continuation of coverage for a mentally or physically disabled Child who is primarily dependent on you for support);
- The end of the pay period in which you stop making Contributions required for Dependent coverage; or,
- The date that a Child is no longer covered under QMCSO, if the Child is not otherwise eligible to participate in the Plan.

Depending on the reason for termination of coverage, you and your covered Dependents may have the right to continue health coverage temporarily under COBRA. See the "COBRA" section of this SPD for details.

Premium Assistance under Medicaid and CHIP

If you or your children are eligible for Medicaid or CHIP and you're eligible for health coverage from your employer, your state may have a premium assistance program that can help pay for coverage, using funds from their Medicaid or CHIP programs. If you or your children aren't eligible for Medicaid or CHIP, you won't be eligible for these premium assistance programs, but you may be able to buy individual insurance coverage through the Health Insurance Marketplace. For more information, visit www.healthcare.gov.

If you or your dependents are already enrolled in Medicaid or CHIP and you live in a State listed below, contact your State Medicaid or CHIP office to find out if premium assistance is available.

If you or your dependents are NOT currently enrolled in Medicaid or CHIP, and you think you or any of your dependents might be eligible for either of these programs, contact your State Medicaid or CHIP office or dial 1-877-KIDS NOW or www.insurekidsnow.gov to find out how to apply. If you qualify, ask your state if it has a program that might help you pay the premiums for an employer-sponsored plan.

If you or your dependents are eligible for premium assistance under Medicaid or CHIP, as well as eligible under your employer plan, your employer must allow you to enroll in your employer plan if you aren't already enrolled. This is called a "special enrollment" opportunity, and you must request coverage within 60 days of being determined eligible for premium assistance. If you have questions about enrolling in your employer plan, contact the Department of Labor at www.askebsa.dol.gov or call 1-866-444-EBSA (3272).

If you live in one of the following states, you may be eligible for assistance paying your employer health plan premiums. The following list of states is current as of January 31, 2026. Contact your State for more information on eligibility.
