

Infant Nervous System Regulation

Expert Infant CARE™

Why This is Different

What Has Been Missing

- Most care models are standardized and time-limited.
- Subtle regulation patterns are often missed or dismissed.
- Most models treat symptoms as the cause – this work identifies what is actually driving them.
- This type of work is developed over time and is not commonly taught or replicated.

What Makes This Different

- This work is not widely available. It reflects decades of clinical expertise and refined observation.
- This level of care is built on years of hands-on work, not a standardized model.
- Care is individualized and based on real-time assessment, not protocols or volume-based treatment.
- This is not routine care. It is precise, experience-based work developed over decades.
