

101 Meaningful REWARDS Your Employees Will Love

Money is always the easy answer, but research shows that a well thought-out gift from a friend or coworker is worth MUCH more than its actual monetary value.

Show your people that you care about them, that you are interested in their passions and that you care enough to choose thoughtful gifts.

Suggestions for coming up with your own Rewards ideas:

- Find out what interests your team members. Get to know them, learn what drives them.
- What do they do in their free time?
- What would make their life easier?
- What would they appreciate?
- What's on their Christmas list?
- What do they want to buy for someone else (regifting is ok!)?
- What do they wish they had/could do but don't want to spend the money on it themselves?
