

Redekop Appoints Oria Agriculture Exclusive Distributor for Europe

Lyon, France – November 6, 2019 - Redekop Manufacturing, a Canadian manufacturer of crop residue management products is pleased to announce that Oria Agriculture has been appointed as the company's distributor for Europe.

Redekop is the manufacturer of MAV™ Straw Choppers, a unique line of market-leading choppers that optimize the cutting and distribution of the combine harvester residue. Redekop also recently introduced their patented Seed Control Unit (SCU), which is a mechanical harvest weed seed control device that is integrated into the combine. This revolutionary product can reduce harvestable weed seeds being spread onto the field by up to 98%.

Oria Agriculture, based near Lyon, France, is an importer of North American agricultural technologies and machinery. The company has a network of dealers throughout Europe to provide sales and technical support to farmers.

"Oria Agriculture shares our philosophy of a customer-focused approach"; said Trevor Thiessen, President of Redekop Manufacturing. "Their structure in Europe provides Redekop customers with product training, installation services, warranty and technical support."

"Redekop has an excellent line of harvesting products that will bring significant value to European farmers" said Danae Armstrong of Oria Agriculture. "Both the MAV™ Choppers and the Seed Control Unit address significant needs during harvest."
