): a bishop may permit two Masses (bination) or even three Masses (trination) Every time a priest celebrates Mass, he must receive Communion. It is not optional. A priest cannot celebrate Mass without receiving, because he acts in persona Christi—in the very person of Christ. So: If a priest celebrates one Mass → he receives once If he celebrates two Masses → he receives twice If he celebrates three Masses → he receives three times The restriction of Canon 917 does not apply to priests when they are celebrating Mass, because reception is part of the celebration. WHAT ABOUT ALTAR SERVERS? Altar servers are lay faithful, so the same rule applies to them as to any other Catholic. An altar server may receive twice a day, but only if both times are during Mass in which the server participates. Even if the server assists at many Masses in one day, he or she may still receive only twice. Serving more Masses does not grant permission for more Communions. SO WHAT EXACTLY ARE WE SAYING? Catholics (including altar servers): Maximum: 2 times per day, and the second time must be at Mass. Priests: Must receive every time they celebrate Mass. Can receive 1, 2, or even 3 times depending on how many Masses they are permitted to celebrate that day. God bless you

From the Desk of Fr. Hamness

In this Sunday's Gospel, Jesus looks out at the crowds and His heart breaks. He sees people who are tired, lost, and completely overwhelmed, like sheep without a shepherd. Instead of just feeling sorry for the crowd, He takes action. He calls His disciples together, gives them His own authority, and sends them out to help. This is the exact moment they change from followers into apostles, which literally means "those who are sent." Their job is to let everyone know that God's kingdom is right here.

That same mission falls on our parish today. Look around, and you will see plenty of people who are spiritually exhausted or carrying heavy burdens alone. Through our Baptism, Jesus sends us into our neighborhoods and workplaces to be His hands and feet. As He reminds us today: "Without cost you have received; without cost you are to give." Let's share His grace just as generously.

Let's also take this thought into deep prayer and consideration this week. Pray especially to realize how you have been given so much in your life with no cost to yourself. I know some people have had to earn everything they have, but many of us have simply been born into a good family that raised us well and nourished us with the faith. Do you ever take time to just sit down and be humbled by all that you have been blessed with?

“As you go, make this proclamation: The kingdom of heaven is at hand” Matthew 10:7

Many of us take our lives for granted. We think we have plenty of time to “repent.” Maybe we should live with a little more urgency in making things right with God. This is the difference in living our discipleship out of obligation versus our of love. Obligation implies we do the minimum required. Love implies we want a relationship. God wants us to be with Him in Heaven forever, but He also wants to be in relationship with us right now, while we are on earth. Start this second—invite the Lord into your heart.

Prayers of the Faithful

That we grow in friendship with God and live our discipleship out of love for Him.

Question of the week

Whom do I know, of, who is troubled or abandoned? What can I do to bring them serenity, make them feel valued, and restore hope to their lives?

Liturgy of the Hours: Week I of the Psalter

Reflection of the Gospel

In today’s gospel, Jesus instructs them not to go into pagan territory, but only “ to the lost sheep of the house of Isreal.” Later in Matthew’s Gospel, he tells a Canaanite women that his mission is only to his own people (15:24). It’s not until the end of Matthews that Jesus sends his followers out to “make disciples of all nations” (28:19). What began as a movement directed to one special people soon expanded to included all people. God’s love is limitless, and God loves each one best.

Prayer Requests:

The following people or their family has asked us to pray for them:

Lord, we pray for your loving support for the people listed below and their families as they deal with their illness. Guide the doctors who are seeking answers and making decisions about care/treatment. We pray that their illness is at a stage favorable for effective treatment. Enable their bodies to respond well to care treatment and their souls to experience comfort and peace in you. Make this an experience that draws them and their loved ones closer to you as well as to one another. We commit them to your mercy.

HOW MANY TIMES CAN A CATHOLIC RECEIVE HOLY COMMUNION IN ONE DAY?

 Catholics Online Class   +234 813 505 5980

Most Catholics don’t know this, but the Church is very clear.  1. What Canon Law Says Canon 917 teaches: “A person who has already received the Most Holy Eucharist may receive it a second time on the same day, only within a Eucharistic celebration in which the person participates.” The key word is iterum, meaning “again,” but more precisely: one more time only. So practically: If you attend one Mass and receive Communion, it is allowed If you later attend a second Mass and fully participate, it is also allowed If you attend a third or fourth Mass, no more Communion that day This prevents turning Communion into something “quantitative,” as if more receptions equal more grace. The Church strongly rejects that mindset.

 2. The Minimum the Church Expects One of the precepts of the Church requires Catholics to receive Holy Communion at least once during the Easter season. Of course, the Church encourages more frequent reception: ▪ Sundays, ▪ and even weekdays, as long as the person is in a state of grace.  BUT WHAT ABOUT PRIESTS? HOW MANY TIMES SHOULD THEY RECEIVE? This part is often misunderstood. Canon Law expectation Canon 905 §1–2 explains how many Masses a priest may celebrate in a day: Normally: one Mass per day In pastoral situations (Sunday, Christmas, heavy parish workload)
