FROM THE DESK OF FR. HAMNESS:

What on earth is the mountain of the Lord of Hosts?

Have you ever wondered what Scripture means when it speaks of the "mountain of the Lord"? In the prophecies of Isaiah and Micah, we hear that in the "last days," this holy mountain will be established above all others, drawing every nation toward it. This powerful imagery reveals the kingdom of God rising far above all rival earthly powers and political regimes, gathering souls from every corner of the earth to receive divine instruction.

As the center of universal peace, this mountain serves as the source of God's law and judgment. From this seat of authority, God arbitrates among nations, inspiring the famous promise that peoples will beat their swords into plowshares and their spears into pruning hooks, abandoning warfare for lasting harmony.

Scripture also reveals this holy hill as the site of ultimate fellowship and victory over death. In Isaiah 25, the prophet tells us that "on this mountain the Lord of Hosts will prepare a banquet for all peoples"—a rich feast foreshadowing the eternal heavenly banquet. Crucially, it is here that God promises to swallow up the shroud of death forever and wipe away every tear, signaling the ultimate defeat of mortality and despair.

For us today, this ancient prophecy comes wondrously alive at every celebration of the Eucharist. When we gather for Mass, the altar truly becomes our mountain of the Lord of Hosts. It is here that we partake in the heavenly banquet prepared for all peoples, receiving the very Body and Blood of Christ as our foretaste of eternal victory.

Finally, the title "Lord of Hosts" (Yahweh Sabaoth) reminds us of God's absolute sovereignty over the armies of heaven and the physical universe. Despite the constant rise and fall of earthly empires, the divine order centered on this holy mountain remains invincible. As we journey in faith, let us look toward this mountain, trusting in the eternal peace and victory won for us by our Almighty God.

Fr. Hamness will not be available this week, he will be on retreat, please keep him in your prayers.

Twenty-Eighth Sunday in Ordinary Time (October 11, 2026)

“I know how to live in humble circumstances; I know also how to live with abundance. In every circumstance and in all things I have learned the secret of being well fed and of going hungry, of living in abundance and of being in need..”

Philippians 4:12

St. Paul neither craved nor rejected material wealth. He was simply detached from it; he could take it or leave it. A steward is called to “possess lightly.” Money is neither good nor evil, but merely reflects the person who possesses it.

Question of the Week

What will I do this week to weave a wedding garment of repentance, mercy and love for the Lord’s feast? What do I need to repent of? Who needs my mercy? How can I show it?

Liturgy of the Hours: Week IV of the Psalter Reflection of the Gospel

In the parable that Jesus tells in today’s gospel reading, there is a warning that refusal of the divine invitation has dire consequences. God does not inflict fiery punishment, but those who ignore God’s invitation and do not allow themselves to be clothed in the garment of Jesus’s ways of love, forgiveness, inclusivity, and nonviolent action for justice reject their place prepared for them at God’s abundant table. Instead, they choose for themselves a place at the table of the putrid banquet of retaliatory violence and destruction.

Prayer Requests:

The following people or their family has asked us to pray for them:

Lord, we pray for your loving support for the people listed below and their families as they deal with their illness. Guide the doctors who are seeking answers and making decisions about care/treatment. We pray that their illness is at a stage favorable for effective treatment. Enable their bodies to respond well to care treatment and their souls to experience comfort and peace in you. Make this an experience that draws them and their loved ones closer to you as well as to one another. We commit them to your mercy.

Prayer for the Dead

In to Your hands, O Lord, we humbly entrust our brothers and sisters. In this life You embraced them with Your tender love; deliver them now from every evil and bid them eternal rest. The old order has passed away: welcome them into paradise, where there will be no sorrow, no weeping or pain, but fullness of peace and joy with Your Son and the Holy Spirit forever and ever. Amen.
