RE: Certification of “Will the Colorado Avalanche win the 2026/2027 NHL Championship?” Event Contract – Submission Pursuant to Commission Regulation 40.2(a)

Dear Mr. Kirkpatrick:

Pursuant to Section 5c(c)(1) of the Commodity Exchange Act, as amended (the “Act” or “CEA”), and §40.2(a) of the regulations promulgated by the Commodity Futures Trading Commission (the “CFTC” or “Commission”), Rothera Exchange and Clearing LLC (the “Exchange” or “Rothera”), a CFTC designated contract market (“DCM”), hereby certifies:

Contract Name:	“Will the Colorado Avalanche win the 2026/2027 NHL Championship?” Event Contract (the “Event Contract” or “Contract”)
Description:	Based on whether the Colorado Avalanche will win the 2026/2027 NHL Championship.
Contract Type:	Swap
Listing Date:	The Exchange intends to list the Event Contract for trading on or after August 27, 2026

In connection with this certification, Rothera is submitting the following:

- i. A concise explanation and analysis of the Event Contract;
- ii. A certification that the Event Contract complies with the Act and Commission Regulations thereunder;
- iii. A certification that Rothera has posted a copy of the product submission on its website;

- iv. The intended listing date of the first Event Contract;
- v. The terms and conditions of the Event Contract, set forth in Exhibit A hereto; and
- vi. A discussion of the Event Contract's compliance with applicable provisions of the Act and Commission Regulations thereunder, set forth in Exhibit B hereto.

The Event Contract is a derivatives contract that is a tradeable financial instrument on a DCM designed to express a market view related to the outcome of a professional sporting event, specifically the final result of a hockey event, determined based on official results from the applicable governing organization or league.

The Event Contract references a binary outcome based on whether the specified team wins the hockey event identified in the Contract. For purposes of this Contract, the outcome is determined solely by reference to the final score or outcome of the completed event as officially reported by the applicable governing organization or league or its designated statistical reporting sources, as described in greater detail in Exhibit A.

Settlement of the Contract will be determined by reference to the officially reported final result of the 2026/2027 NHL Championship series.

The Event Contract operates in a manner similar to contracts that other DCMs have certified for trading. Price bands will apply to the Contract so that trading only occurs between $0.01 and at most $0.99. The Contract has a notional value of $1 and a minimum price fluctuation of $0.01.

As outlined in Rothera Rule 4.6, trading in the Event Contract will be available at all times outside of any maintenance windows, which will be announced in advance by the Exchange. At least one market maker will be providing liquidity for the Event Contracts available for trading on Rothera. Rothera has further imposed position accountability levels as described in more detail below. Participants will be charged fees in such amounts as may be revised from time to time and reflected on Rothera's website.

The contract specifications are set forth in Exhibit A. A complete index of the Core Principles for designated contract markets, addressing each applicable Core Principle, is set forth in Exhibit B, and is submitted pursuant to a petition for confidential treatment under the Freedom of Information Act, in accordance with CFTC Regulation 145.9. All terms that are used but not defined herein have the meanings set forth in the Exchange Rules.¹

The Exchange hereby certifies that the product complies with the Act, as amended, and the Commission Regulations adopted thereunder. No substantive opposing views were expressed to the Exchange by governing boards or market participants with respect to this certification. The Exchange hereby certifies that a copy of this submission was concurrently posted on the Rothera website.

Should Commission staff have any questions regarding the above, please do not hesitate to contact me by telephone at (773) 703-6365 or by email at kevin@rothera.io.

Sincerely,

EXHIBIT A

“Will the Colorado Avalanche win the 2026/2027 NHL Championship?” Event Contract

Scope - These terms govern the trading of the “Will the Colorado Avalanche win the 2026/2027 NHL Championship?” Event Contract (the “Contract”), a type of “Event Contract” listed by the Exchange.

Underlying - The Underlying for this Contract is the official final result of whether the Colorado Avalanche win the 2026/2027 NHL Championship. Revisions to the Underlying made after Expiration will not be accounted for in determining the Expiration Value.

Source Agency - The Source Agencies are, in hierarchical order, NHL.com and the official statistics published on its public website, ESPN, CBS Sports, Fox Sports, NBC Sports, the Associated Press, and Reuters.²

Type - The Type of Contract is a swap.

Trading and Settlement - During the Event Contract trading hours, Participants are able to adjust their positions and trade freely. After trading of the Event Contract has closed, Rothera will determine the Expiration Value and whether the Payment Criterion encompasses the Expiration Value (i.e., whether the outcome is “Yes” or “No”). The market is then settled by Rothera, and either the long position holders or the short position holders are paid the Settlement Value. In this case, “long position holders” refers to Participants who purchased the “Yes” side of the Event Contract and “short position holders” refers to Participants who purchased the “No” side of the Event Contract. If the Expiration Value is “Yes”, then the long position holders are paid the Settlement Value multiplied by the number of Contracts held by such Participant and the short position holders receive no payment. If the Expiration Value is “No,” then the short position holders are paid the Settlement Value multiplied by the number of Contracts held by such Participant and the long position holders receive no payment. Specification of the circumstances that would trigger an Expiration Value of “Yes” is included below in the section titled “Payment Criterion”. The Expiration Date of the Contract is designed to account for multiple possible contingencies regarding the timing of the determination of the event. Any subsequent revisions to the initial release of the final result of the 2026/2027 NHL Championship by the league or association will NOT affect or alter the settlement value of the Contract once the Expiration Value is determined by the Exchange.

Payment Criterion - The Payment Criterion for the Contract encompasses the Expiration Value where the Colorado Avalanche is the winner of the 2026/2027 NHL Championship. In order to be considered the “winner” of the 2026/2027 NHL Championship, the Colorado Avalanche must have won more games (a strictly greater number) in the NHL Championship series than its opponent (four games within a seven game series under the governing league’s rules), or the Source Agency declares the Colorado Avalanche the “winner.” The market resolves based on the first final result reported by the highest-ranked Source Agency in the hierarchy set forth above - a lower-ranked Source Agency’s report shall govern only if no higher-ranked Source Agency has published a final result, unless the Exchange, in its sole discretion, determines such result to be clearly erroneous and elects to defer to a corrected final result issued prior to Expiration.

Additional Clarifications:

- If the 2026/2027 NHL Championship is (i) abandoned, cancelled, or (ii) not scheduled or not rescheduled to take place before the Expiration Time, the Contract will resolve based on the last fair market price as determined by the Exchange pursuant to Rothera DCM Rule 7.2. Long position holders will receive the number of Contracts held multiplied by the fair market price, and short position holders will receive the number of Contracts held multiplied by $1 minus the fair market price.
- If the 2026/2027 NHL Championship is suspended during play and is officially scheduled to resume from the point of suspension (i.e., from the game clock, or score) before the Expiration Time, the Contract shall remain open and shall settle based on the final result of the 2026/2027 NHL Championship as so resumed. If the 2026/2027 NHL Championship does not resume from the point of suspension before the Expiration Time and no final result has been declared, the Contract shall resolve based on the last fair market price as determined by the Exchange pursuant to Rothera DCM Rule 7.2. Long position holders will receive the number of Contracts held multiplied by the fair market price, and short position holders will receive the number of Contracts held multiplied by $1 minus the fair market price.
- If the 2026/2027 NHL Championship is shortened, called, or otherwise ended before the conclusion of the series (e.g., due to unsafe conditions, or curfew), and the Source Agency declares the event final and records a winner, the market will resolve based on that final result.
- If the Colorado Avalanche forfeit the 2026/2027 NHL Championship before Game 1 begins, the market for the Colorado Avalanche will resolve to “No”.
- If the Colorado Avalanche are disqualified, deemed ineligible, or have the result of the 2026/2027 NHL Championship vacated after the series has started but before the Contract expires, the market will resolve to “No” for the Colorado Avalanche.

- If the 2026/2027 NHL Championship is delayed but is rescheduled, the market will remain open with settlement occurring no later than two (2) days after the scheduled conclusion of the NHL Championship series. Additionally, a change of venue does not affect resolution so long as a final result indicating a winner of the 2026/2027 NHL Championship is recorded by the Source Agency.
- If the official Series result is delayed or unavailable, the Exchange may wait up to 24 hours after the Expiration Time for the result to become available, after which it may resolve the Contract in its sole discretion.
- If a Source Agency publishes a result that it subsequently retracts, corrects, or confirms was the result of a compromised, hacked, or erroneous source, the Exchange will rely on the final corrected result published by the Source Agency prior to the Expiration Time.
- All times are determined in Central Time (CT), which refers to Central Daylight Time (CDT, UTC-5) when daylight saving time is in effect, and Central Standard Time (CST, UTC-6) otherwise, in each case as observed in Chicago, Illinois on the applicable date. Reporting concerning the 2026/2027 NHL Championship is considered through the Expiration Time on the Expiration Date and no later.

Minimum Tick – The Minimum Tick for the Event Contract shall be $0.01.

Position Accountability Level – The Position Accountability Level for the Event Contract is 5,000,000 Contracts for Participants. The Position Accountability Level for Market Makers is 25,000,000 Contracts, or as updated on the Exchange’s website.

Last Trading Date – The Last Trading Date of the Contract is the date on which the 2026/2027 NHL Championship is completed or otherwise resolved pursuant to the Payment Criterion.

Settlement Date – The Settlement Date is the date on which money is paid to the account of a Participant in whose favor the contract settled pursuant to an Event Contract held until Expiration, and on which money is paid from the account of a Participant who is obligated to pay money pursuant to an Event Contract held until Expiration. The Settlement Date of the Contract shall be no later than the day after the Expiration Date.

Expiration Date – The latest Expiration Date of the Contract shall be two (2) days after the originally scheduled conclusion date of the 2026/2027 NHL Championship. If an event described in the Payment Criterion occurs (e.g., a winner is reported for the series), expiration will be moved to an earlier date and time as determined by the Exchange.

Expiration Time – The Expiration Time of the Event Contract shall be 10:00 AM CT on the Expiration Date.

Settlement Value – The Settlement Value is the amount paid to the holder of the in-the-money Event Contract on the Settlement Date. The Settlement Value of an in-the-money Event Contract is $1.

Expiration Value – The Expiration Value is the value of the Underlying as documented by the Source Agency on the Expiration Date at the Expiration Time.

Contingencies – If the Source Agency does not actually announce a result consistent with the settlement methodology or the Payment Criterion on or before the Expiration Time due to a delay, postponement, cancellation or otherwise in such release announcement by the Source Agency, the Settlement Date, Expiration Date and Expiration Time will be extended as set forth in the Additional Clarifications section herein. In the event no result is confirmed within the extended period specified therein, the Contract shall resolve pursuant to DCM Rule 7.2. Consistent with Exchange Rule 7.2, Rothera reserves the right to make settlement determinations.

Trading Prohibitions – In addition to the prohibition against the misappropriation of material nonpublic information under CFTC Regulation 180.1, the Exchange's prohibited trading activities set forth in Chapter 7 of the DCM Rulebook, certain additional individuals are prohibited from trading the Event Contract. Those persons include:

- Any player, coach, assistant coach, coordinator, general manager, team executive, trainer, physical therapist, medical representative, equipment staff, or other on-ice or team personnel of any team participating in the referenced the 2026/2027 NHL Championship, including practice squad players, injured reserve players, and any individual credentialed by the applicable league, conference or association for the referenced 2026/2027 NHL Championship series.
- Any referee, replay official, or other game official assigned to, supervising, or holding regulatory authority over the 2026/2027 NHL Championship.
- Any scouting, analytics, medical, training, or locker room personnel employed by or contracted with a team, conference office, or league entity participating in or overseeing the 2026/2027 NHL Championship.
- Any employee, officer, board member, or contractor of the NHL, NHL Board of Governors, NHL Competition Committee, or any league- or conference-affiliated entity who has administrative access to information relating to game operations, scheduling, officiating assignments, disciplinary actions, injury reports, or competitive conditions.

- Any sports agent, advisor, or representative of a player or team participating in the 2026/2027 NHL Championship.
- Any immediate family member, household member, or close associate of any of the foregoing persons, where such person reasonably may have access to material nonpublic information regarding the 2026/2027 NHL Championship.
- Any individual subject to the NHL Collective Bargaining Agreement, the NHL's gambling policy, the NHL's sports wagering rules, or any applicable conference integrity or ethics rules who has a professional duty to safeguard the integrity of professional hockey competitions.
- Any other Person who, by sole determination of the Exchange, possesses material nonpublic information relating to the Underlying.
