1 Cookies

1.1 A cookie is a small piece of data sent from a website and stored on the user's computer by the user's web browser while the user is browsing. Cookies are designed to be a reliable mechanism for websites to remember important information (such as items added in the shopping cart in an online store) or to record the user's browsing activity (including clicking particular buttons, logging in, or recording which pages were visited in the past). They can also be used to remember arbitrary pieces of information that the user previously enters into form fields such as names, addresses, passwords, and credit card numbers. For more information on cookies see https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/HTTP_cookie.

1.2 Our Site uses cookies. We ask that you read this cookie policy carefully as it contains important information on our use of cookies and similar technologies on our Site.

2 This Policy

2.1 This policy should be read together with our privacy policy (our "Privacy Policy") which sets out how and why we collect, store, use and share personal data, as well as your rights in relation to your personal data, and details of how to contact us and supervisory authorities in the event you have a complaint.

2.2 This policy relates to your use of our Site only. Our site includes the websites linked to the following domain names and all associated webpages.

2.3 Throughout our Site we may link to other websites owned or operated by third parties. These other third party websites may also use cookies or similar technologies in accordance with their own separate cookie policies. For privacy information relating to these other third party websites, please consult their cookie policies.

3 Cookies

3.1 We use cookies and other similar tracking technologies such as Webflow essential cookies on our website. These help ensure the site functions correctly.

3.2 You can set your browser not to accept cookies and you can remove cookies from your browser. Please check the help pages on the website of your browser provider to ascertain how to do this. Also, for further information about cookies and how to disable them please go to the Information Commissioner's webpage on cookies located at <https://ico.org.uk/for-the-public/online/cookies/>. If you do disable or delete cookies please note that some of our Site features may not function properly as a result.

4 Cookies and Our Site

4.1 We use cookies and other similar tracking technologies such as Webflow essential cookies on this Site to:

4.2 recognise you whenever you visit our Site (this speeds up your access to our Site as you do not have to log in each time);

5 Types of cookies

- 5.1 The cookies we place fall into the following categories:
- 5.2 Session cookies — these allow our Site to link your actions during a particular browser session. These expire each time you close your browser and do not remain afterwards.
 - 5.3 Persistent cookies — these are stored on your device in between browser sessions. These allow the site to maintain basic functionality between sessions. These will remain on your device until they expire, or you delete them.
 - 5.4 Strictly necessary cookies — these cookies are essential for you to be able to navigate our Site and use its features. Without these cookies, you could not use our Site properly.

6 The cookies we use

The table below provides more information about the cookies we use and why:

The cookies we use	What they do
Webflow	These cookies are required for the website to function. They support core features such as page rendering, security, form submissions, and remembering basic site preferences. They do not track users for advertising or analytics purposes

7 Consent to use cookies

We will ask for your permission (consent) to place cookies or other similar technologies on your device, except where these are essential for us to provide you with access to and use of our Site.

8 Contacting Us
