

Thoughtful design for healthcare spaces.

Designed for the moments surrounding care.

Healthcare is more than moments of treatment. It's the time spent waiting, the conversations in between, the work happening behind the scenes, and the brief pauses that help people reset before moving on. Every setting plays a role. Together, they shape how care is experienced by patients, families, and the people delivering it.

At Source, we focus on the spaces that connect the care experience. Our seating and tables support the places where people move through their day—before, during, and in between moments of care. Thoughtfully designed, built for durability, and made to adapt as needs change, our solutions help create environments that feel considered, cohesive, and ready for whatever the day brings.

Welcome & waiting spaces.

FORMED FOR FIRST IMPRESSIONS

The care journey begins before a single interaction takes place. Lobbies, reception areas, and waiting spaces set expectations and influence how people feel the moment they arrive. Our furnishings bring comfort and a sense of calm, helping put patients and families at ease while standing up to constant use.

Administrative spaces.

DESIGNED FOR THE DAY-TO-DAY

Behind every patient encounter is a dedicated team working to keep everything on track. From administrative offices to shared workspaces, these environments must support focus and efficiency. Our furniture delivers durability and comfort to help staff stay supported throughout the day.

Meeting &
learning spaces.

CREATED FOR COLLABORATION

From board meetings and formal training sessions to quick check-ins and team huddles, these spaces support communication, decision-making, and learning. Our solutions help teams stay productive and allow spaces to adapt with ease.

Consultation
& transition
spaces.

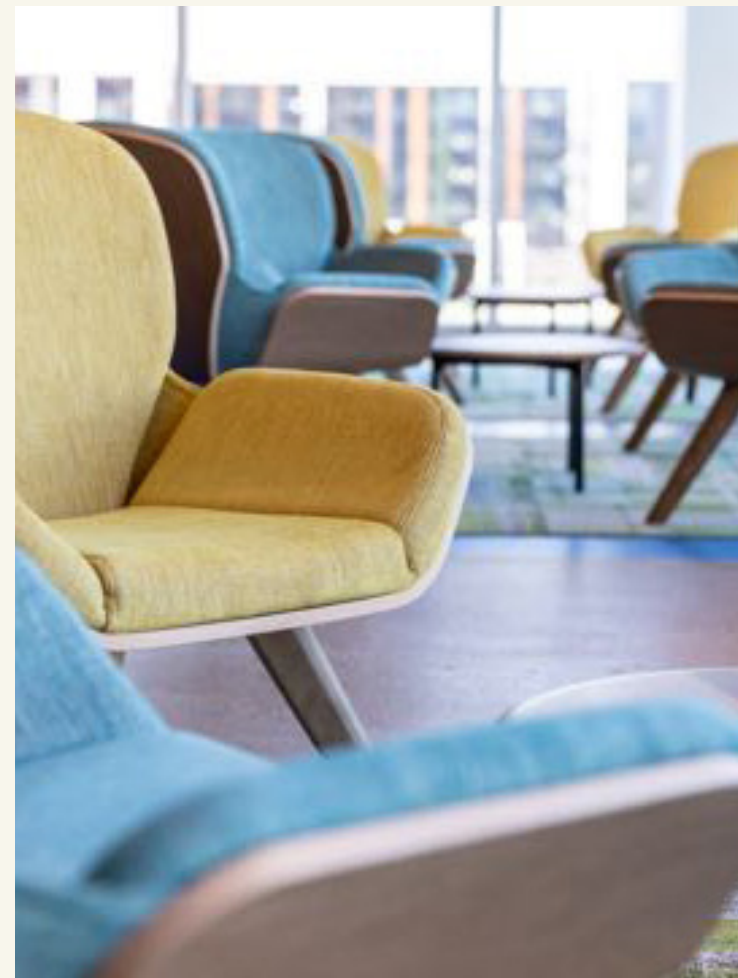

CREATED FOR CONVERSATION

Some of the most important care moments happen outside of the traditional exam room. Consultation rooms and transition spaces support clear communication between patients, families, and providers, creating space for questions, understanding, and shared decision-making. Our furnishings help create environments that feel approachable and comfortable, allowing people to stay focused on meaningful discussions.

Recharge
spaces.

MADE FOR REST AND RESET

Cafeterias, breakrooms, and lounge areas offer a necessary pause, giving people a place to step away, recharge, and return ready to keep going. Our furniture helps create spaces that feel inviting and restorative, supporting moments of renewal throughout the day.

Healthcare Portfolio

Healthcare environments function as a connected system. Each space, whether visible to patients or behind the scenes, contributes to how care is delivered and experienced. That's why we offer a focused portfolio of seating and table solutions designed to support the moments that bring it all together. From waiting areas to staff workspaces, our products bring comfort, durability, and flexibility to the places that keep care moving.
