

Level 3 Certificate in Leadership & Team Skills

Thinking about advancing from leadership potential to stand out as a stellar first-line manager? Attaining a qualification from the Institute of Leadership & Management opens doors for you to perfect a broad spectrum of vital management skills, encompassing a wide range of units outlined below.

Develop existing and aspiring team leaders' skills in effective leadership, personal awareness, and collaborative working, by bringing to life the modules of the ILM. A residential element is incorporated to provide authentic and practical opportunities to develop skills in a safe environment and relate them to the workplace, bringing leadership competencies to life.

What you can achieve

Understanding Leadership:

Develop the knowledge and understanding of different leadership styles or behaviours to be found in the workplace, including an understanding of your own preferred leadership behaviours, and the impact that these different styles are likely to have on behaviour of team members.

Developing Yourself and Others:

Develop knowledge and skill in identifying and development needs and planning for their achievement.

Understanding Performance Management:

Enable you to understand the value of performance management techniques and how to apply them in a fair and objective manner.

Setting Team Objectives in the Workplace:

Develop an understanding of how clear, precise, and unambiguous requests or instructions enable team members or colleagues to effectively respond as required by a practising or potential team leader.

Understanding Performance Management:

Enable you to understand the value of performance management techniques and how to apply them in a fair and objective manner.

Planning and Allocating Work:

Develop knowledge and understanding of how work is planned and allocated in the workplace.

Understanding Costs and Budgets in an Organisation:

Develop knowledge and understanding of costs and budgets in an organisation as required by a practising or potential manager.

Using Resources Effectively and Efficiently in the Workplace:

Enable you to develop an understanding of the efficient and effective use of resources as required by a practising or potential team or cell leader.

UK based organisations may wish to integrate ILM courses with STS apprenticeships, please enquire.

Contact us

01237 809 469

enquiries@skerntestingandskills.co.uk

BOOK NOW

