

Look Back: How did you trust God over AI for the direction you need this week?

Look Up:

Read Genesis 3:1-5

1. What does Genesis 3:1 tell us about the serpent? Why is the serpent doing this?
2. Why do you think the serpent chose to start with the phrase “Did God really say?”
3. Why are the serpent's “promises” attractive in 4-5?

Read Genesis 3:6-7

4. In verse 6, what did the woman “see” in the fruit? How did the words of the serpent influence what she saw and did?
5. Which of the serpent’s “promises” from verses 4-5 were fulfilled in verse 7? Which were not and what does this tell us about the serpent?

Read Genesis 3:8-13 & 2 Corinthians 11:3-4

6. When confronted by God, why aren't Adam & Eve happy with their decision, why don't they challenge God?
7. How does “sincere and pure devotion” to God help followers of Jesus avoid being led astray? What does this look like in your life today?

Overall (Discovery Bible Study)

- What do these scriptures say about God?
- What do they say about people?
- How will I apply this to my life?

Look Ahead: At what point do you elevate someone else’s voice over the voice of God? In what area of your life will you engage with God directly, instead of the other “voices” in your life?

Notes

AI is symptomatic of an age-old problem based in our desire to have, know and be more than we are right now. AI is the most powerful tool in history. It offers us the ability to “be like God”. Its intelligence is beyond our understanding, and can create the illusion that we have, know and are something we are really not. The issue of Eden has been the same till now. We want to be God and not have to trust God, whether in the form of a fruit or AI. We must not substitute AI for a proper relationship with God. He made us, not the snake. We made AI, it didn't make us.
