Our Bible story comes from a book in the Bible called Jeremiah. This story focuses on God's people, the Israelites and a prophet named Jeremiah. A prophet was a person who shared special messages from God, and Jeremiah did just that.

DISCUSS & DISCOVER

1. When the Israelites were far from home, God told them to seek peace and pray to God for the city they were in. Where they lived mattered to God, and where we live matters to God too. How can this Bible story remind us that where we live matters to God? (It shows me that God wants me to follow Him wherever I am because God cares about where I live. It reminds me that if God cared about where the Israelites lived, I know He also cares about where I live.)
2. God was with the Israelites no matter where they were, and where they lived mattered to God. Where we live matters to God too. God sent Jesus so we could have a relationship with Him and follow Him no matter where we live—whether we like where we are or not. How does it help to know that we can follow Jesus no matter where we are?
3. Not all people enjoy where they live. However, whether we like or do not like where we live, we can know, love, and follow God there. We can also help point others in our community to Him. This is because where we live matters to God. How can you live for God everywhere you live?

Pray: God, thank You that even where we live matters to You. Thank You for uniquely designing each of us and caring about the details of our lives. Help us remember that wherever we live, we can follow and point others to You. Amen.
