In our Bible story we will learn about a king named David. David followed God and trusted Him even in difficult times. While David was not a perfect king, he knew his true identity was found in God.

DISCUSS & DISCOVER

1. This Bible story says that God knows us, and we are remarkably and wondrously made by Him. What do you think remarkably and wondrously made means?
2. God made us to know and love Him and to help others know and love Him. What are some ways you can know God and help others know Him? (We can know God by reading the Bible, learning at church, talking with God, and learning from other people who know God. We can help others know God by talking about Him, praying for them, and showing them God's love and kindness.)
3. Sometimes we may wonder who we are supposed to be, but we can know that God knows our true identities because He is the One who made us. How can today's Bible story remind us what it true about who we are? (God made us in a remarkable and wondrous way. We are made to be who God says we are.)

Pray: God, thank You that we are remarkably and wondrously made by You. Help us know that what You say about us in the Bible is true and trustworthy. Show us who we are by showing us who You are. We love You. Amen.
