Sandra Ximena Díaz Hoyos

Human to Human leadership and practical AI adoption

Sandra Ximena Díaz Hoyos is a technology entrepreneur, chief visionary officer at Dropi and cofounder of Smart Network Solutions. Her work connects AI adoption with organizational culture, leadership and business growth. She helps executives and teams start with purpose, align objectives and key results, and apply AI to practical workflows. She delivers sessions in Spanish, English and Portuguese for audiences across Latin America and the US Hispanic market. At Dropi, Sandra's speaker brief describes starting with shared purpose and values, aligning teams around objectives and key results, and then introducing AI into logistics, data and daily workflows. Her sessions connect this experience with the needs of growing organizations. She also speaks about women in technology, entrepreneurship and collective leadership.
