

Blanc sur Blanc: A Show Synopsis

"Blanc sur Blanc" is a tribute to Julie Goell, who was a remarkable teacher of eccentric performing arts, commedia dell'arte, director, and dear friend.

The poetic narrative follows a clown who accidentally unravels a thread from her pants, only to discover a web of interconnected problems. Unlike typical challenges, these problems are unexpected, setting the stage for the series.

"Blanc sur Blanc" presents humorous mishaps and showcases unconventional solutions to everyday problems. It serves as an inspiration, encouraging viewers to find creative ways to navigate their own lives.

The unraveling of the thread symbolizes the unpredictable nature of life and the clown's world. Just when we believe we have everything under control, unexpected moments arise, reminding us that life is full of surprises.

Will the clown succeed in her endeavors? Is pulling a red thread out of once-beloved pants a wise decision? These questions linger in the air, inviting viewers to ponder the complexities of life and the choices we make.

A whimsical and poetic journey into the world of a clown, "Blanc sur Blanc" follows the comical unraveling of a red thread into a well woven story. What begins as a minor inconvenience soon reveals a web of interconnected challenges. As she faces a series of mishaps, the clown discovers that solving problems is never as straightforward as it seems—but always with a touch of humor and creativity.

This charming performance is a lighthearted exploration of how the little things in life can spiral into larger, often absurd, dilemmas. Full of physical comedy and heart, "Blanc sur Blanc" reminds us that in life, all strings are attached… or perhaps, no strings at all. A perfect blend of fun and inspiration for audiences of all ages.
