MY COLORING ROCKS!

COLORING PAGE

Your child can use crayons, markers, colored pencils or other kid-friendly art supplies to turn the blank stage backdrop into their own original concert-backdrop design. There is no set theme—their imagination can go wild.

Please submit only original artwork created by children ages 6–13.

ARTWORK SUBMISSION

When the artwork is finished, a parent or legal guardian can submit a clear photograph or scan of the completed coloring page through the official artwork-entry form.

Submit artwork using the form at:

When photographing the page:

1) Place or hang it on a flat surface.

2) Hold the camera parallel to the page—not tilted or photographed at an angle.

3) Use good, even lighting.

4) Make sure the entire page is visible and centered.

5) Avoid shadows, glare, and blurry images.

ADD THE ORIGINAL TO THE COLLECTION

After submitting the artwork online, families are invited to contribute the original coloring page to the My Coloring Rocks! physical collection.

Contact me and we'll arrange what works best—mailing, drop-off, pickup, or meeting in person.

‘MY COLORING ROCKS!’ ONLINE GALLERY

The My Coloring Rocks Kids’ Gallery gives participating children a place to have their creativity recognized and shared. It celebrates the imagination and original ideas of young artists. It is not a competition—designs are not ranked or judged.

Eligible finished designs created by children ages 6–13 will be featured in this online gallery.

A parent or legal guardian must submit the finished artwork and give permission for it to be displayed. Only the child's first name and age will be shown publicly.

PRIZE DRAWING

One design will be randomly selected and recreated by backdrop artist Jeff Alumbaugh as a custom, hand-painted 2' x 4' mini-backdrop based on the child’s artwork. The finished mini-backdrop can also be signed by Jeff for the winner.

The selected design will be publicly announced on the website and through emails, using the email address provided on the submission form.

No purchase is required to participate or enter the prize drawing.
