About us

The EU's official advisor on industrial carbon management, founded by the European Commission in 2005.

OUR MISSION

Accelerate the deployment of industrial carbon management across Europe to help achieve climate neutrality.

OUR WORK

We convene stakeholders from across the carbon management value chain to turn their technical expertise into science-based advice for EU institutions and European governments.

Our reach

Our audience encompasses EU institutions, national governments, energy companies, industry stakeholders, civil society, project developers, financiers, research, academia, and the press. In Brussels, the European Union and Europe.

Testimonials

It's been a great event, with very interesting speakers and people working in industrial carbon management.

It was great to see a presentation on the cement plant in Norway, which is now successfully capturing and storing CO₂.

Toby Lockwood

Technology and Markets Manager,
Carbon Capture, Clean Air Taskforce

It was exciting to see all the community involved in industrial carbon management in Europe gathering together.

There is a significant amount of work that we need to do together, cross-collaborate and share perspectives, but also do it in a creative way so that we can drive costs down and drive investment.
