

SIMON DREDGE

simon.dredge@yahoo.com

@simon.ceramicist

Simon Dredge (b. c.1970s, Liverpool-based) is a ceramic artist whose work explores LGBTQ+ history and queer culture through layering of imagery (often inspired by the 1950s Polari slang and Derek Jarman's films) on porcelain and earthenware.

SOLO EXHIBITIONS

2024 | Jul In the Window: Pride in Liverpool, Bluecoat Display Centre, Liverpool

2025 | May Delicate and Disruptive, Alveston Gallery, London

2026 | Jul-Aug Provocative Pots, Studio Eleven Gallery, Hull

GROUP EXHIBITIONS

2020-2021 "The Liverpool Collection", Dot-Art Gallery, Liverpool

2022 "Ceramics Now", Bluecoat Display Centre, Liverpool

2024 | Feb- Mar "A Voice" as a part of Collect Art Fair, Somerset House, London

2026 Rhapsodes, Alveston Gallery, London

EVENTS

2023 | Jul "Summer in the City: Artist Talks", Bluecoat Display Centre, Liverpool

2024 | Jul "Meet the Maker - Simon Dredge", Bluecoat Display Centre, Liverpool

ACQUISITIONS

2024 Ulster Museum, Belfast

PRESS / PUBLICATIONS / FEATURES

2023 Preview of Collect 2024: notes Simon Dredge in Alveston's "A Voice", FAD Magazine

2024 Collect 2024 highlights: Dredge's Polari-themed ceramics in Alveston stand, House & Garden Online