

Education Development Specialist

Objective: To Architect Year 2–3 Programming

The Education Development Specialist helps shape what comes next for CVIA by designing thoughtful, high-impact programming for future phases of the organization. This role focuses on translating vision into structure: developing frameworks, experiences, and learning opportunities that support innovation, connection, and long-term growth in the Coachella Valley.

You'll work at a strategic level to map out what meaningful programming looks like beyond initial events, ensuring it is both relevant to the region and aligned with CVIA's mission to surface and elevate what's already happening here.

This role is a strong fit if you:

- Have experience in curriculum design, program development, or educational strategy
- Think in systems and can translate big ideas into structured experiences
- Are interested in innovation, community-building, and long-term impact
- Enjoy building something from the ground up

Commitment:

Flexible and project-based, with focused collaboration during planning phases.
