

The Best Support Bras

S/S 2027

Less volume. More confidence.

A purpose-built support capsule meeting growing demand from plus size consumers who expect more from fit, fabric, and silhouette.

Modern minimiser bras deliver smooth, invisible shaping, engineered to reduce projection through advanced construction, bonded edges, and concealed wiring.

Completing the collection, a light total support range pairs cotton look lace and breathable mesh with wire free architecture for all-day comfort.

Every style in this capsule is built around one goal:
giving your customers a flattering shape with an effortless, lightweight feel.

Engineered to Minimise Designed to Flatter

Support that goes the distance.

Two Themes

Smooth. Invisible. Lightweight.

The Modern Minimiser

Minimiser silhouettes built with the modern plus size market in mind. Each style delivers a streamlined shape that stays invisible under fitted clothing.

Redefining what support looks like

Built for the plus size consumer who expects more from every piece.
