How It Works

I go, I look, I analyse, I execute, I manage. So you do not have to.

The best assets in the world are not on a screen. They are a winery in Mendoza, a building in Santiago, a plot of land, a business with a real owner who wants out. Finding them, judging them, and buying them well takes someone on the ground who knows the market and does the work. That is what I do.

You tell me what you want. I find it, go and see it, analyse it properly, negotiate it, and execute. If you want it run afterwards, I manage it. From anywhere in the world, you own real assets in the Hispanosphere without ever having to be here.

HOW AN ENGAGEMENT RUNS

01
You brief me on the goal, the capital, and the appetite.

02
I source and scan the market for what fits.

03
I go and inspect it in person, on the ground.

04
I analyse it honestly: the numbers, the risks, the real value.

05
I negotiate and execute the purchase.

06
I manage the asset or operation afterwards, should you want it.

Take all of it, or any part. I can just look. I can just analyse. I can find and inspect and hand you the verdict. I can run the whole thing end to end and manage it after. You decide how much you do yourself, and I do the rest. The fee is set to the work and agreed up front.

PLEASE NOTE

Until 2029, my hands-on, on-the-ground service is available in Argentina only. For assets anywhere in Argentina, I can take the work end to end. Anywhere else in the Hispanosphere, I advise and consult remotely.

+ № 02 · Undervalued, and sitting there

Property & Land

Property and land across the Hispanosphere, sourced and secured.

Latin America holds some of the most undervalued property and land on earth. Prime real estate in Chile, Argentina, and Uruguay at a fraction of what the equivalent costs in the West. Agricultural land, development plots, residential blocks, vineyards with the ground included. The opportunity is real and it is sitting there. I can work across the Hispanosphere, but the Southern Cone is my speciality, the ground I know deepest.

Reaching it is the part that takes local knowledge and time on the ground. I provide both. I know these markets, I am in them, and real estate is where I come from: my family's trade, and my own for over six years, including developing properties and selling land to developers. I find the assets worth owning and secure them properly, so you hold the right thing at the right price.

This is knowledge you only get on the ground. Which zones are rising and which are quietly turning, country by country and area by area. I have lived in the region for years, been to 11 Latin American countries, sat with agents, talked with developers, and stayed way too far in the loop for sanity. I also know the customs and the snags that catch outsiders out. In Argentina most property deals still close with cash, in person, and most rentals are priced in dollars or run month-to-month to reset with inflation. The quirks differ in every market, and knowing them before you commit is what separates a clean deal from an expensive lesson.

WHAT I DO HERE

- + Source the properties and land genuinely worth owning, not whatever is listed.
- + Inspect in person, on the ground, in the areas that actually matter.
- + Analyse the deal: price against market, yield, equity potential, and the risks underneath.
- + Negotiate from inside the market.
- + Execute the purchase with the right ownership structure around it.
- + Manage the property or development afterwards, should you want it.

+ № 03 · Owned properly, held securely

Hard Money

Gold and Bitcoin, owned properly, held securely, and built to last.

Owning gold and Bitcoin is simple. Owning them properly, with real possession and real custody rather than paper exposure you do not control, is where most people get it wrong. The whole point of hard money is that it is yours and it is secure. A claim on an exchange or a certificate in a drawer is neither. I set up real ownership and real custody, advise on how it fits your wider position, and for those who want it, build and manage the physical infrastructure that holds it.

OWNING IT PROPERLY

+ Gold bought at the right price and stored securely, in the right jurisdiction.
+ Bitcoin acquired and held in self-custody, with multi-signature security set up properly.
+ Private custodian arrangements where you want custody handled rather than held yourself.
+ A mix of metals and Bitcoin, structured as one coherent hard-money position.

THE POSITION, THOUGHT THROUGH

+ The best custody options for your situation, weighed and explained.
+ How Bitcoin and gold fit into your wider portfolio, and at what weighting.
+ Ongoing management of the position as markets and your goals move.
+ Honest counsel on the role of hard money: how much, held how, and why.

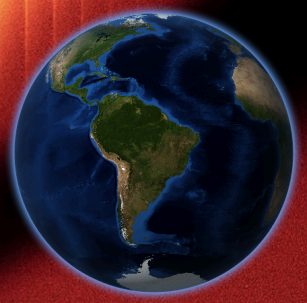

PHYSICAL FACILITIES

+ Private or family gold storage built in the Andes or the secluded south, sited away from population centers, noise, and strategic blast radii.
+ Bitcoin mining facilities set up where energy is cheap and abundant, and sited with the same resilience in mind.
+ Both built and managed end to end, so you own the hard asset and the infrastructure that secures it.

+ № 04 · Assessed by someone who has run them

Local Business Acquisition

A business bought on the ground, assessed by someone who has run them.

Buying an operating business in a foreign market is the highest-return and highest-risk move an investor can make. Get it right and you own a real cash-flowing asset, acquired at a cheap price, in a rapidly growing economy. Get it wrong, because you could not see the books clearly or judge the operation or verify what the seller claimed, and you have bought someone else's problem.

I do the work that separates the two. Source the business, go in and inspect the operation, analyse the financials, value it properly, verify every claim, and negotiate hard. A Santiago company, a Mendoza bodega, a going concern with a real owner. I assess it the way someone who has actually run businesses assesses it, not from a spreadsheet at a distance.

WHERE I HAVE REAL DEPTH

+ Hospitality and tourism.
+ Vineyards and olive oil production.
+ Real estate businesses, developers, and land.
+ Professional services firms.
+ Manufacturing and light industrial.
+ Energy and resources, with particular focus on AI data centres and Bitcoin mining facilities.
+ Franchises.

Whatever the sector, the work is the same: value it properly, verify every claim, judge the market, and negotiate. I can source and assess it, execute the purchase, and manage the operation afterwards, or step in at any single part of that.

+ № 05 · The thinking before the fund

Equities

The thinking partner between you and the fund.

Most people cannot walk into an investment firm with a precise view. They are not going to say emerging markets but not China, Poland but not the rest of Europe, land and energy in the south but not Uruguay. They do not have the themes worked out, and they should not be expected to. So the fund asks one question, risk tolerance, hears medium-high, and drops them into a cookie-cutter fund built for everyone who said medium-high. No specificity. No themes. No actual thought about what this particular person wants their capital to do.

I am the professional you think it through with first. We talk macro, themes, ideas, goals, and risk, back and forth, until your view is actually yours. I know what will work and what will not, and I shape it into a written investment letter that carries the real specificity. That letter goes to a registered investment partner who selects and places the products against it.

HOW IT WORKS

+ We discuss it properly: macro, themes, regions, sectors, goals, and risk, in real depth.
+ I bring judgment on what fits and what does not, drawn from how I read markets.
+ We draft a written investment letter that captures your specific mandate, not a risk bucket.
+ The letter goes to a registered investment partner who selects and executes the products.
+ You end up invested in what is genuinely yours, thought through, rather than lopped into a template.

I am a UK qualified and registered financial advisor. However, I am not, and will not be regulated by countless financial regulatory boards on every corner of the planet to be able to provide regulated capital custody and securities selection to my global clients in every hemisphere. Therefore, I shape the mandate and the thinking, and then select a registered partner suitable for your structure, to invest and hold your position. I will meet with clients to update themes, maintain structure, and manage risk, and then oversee the position and firm directly with the partner. They manage the assets and specific product selection.
