WTF ist ein Outlook-Kalender?

WTF ist
“In Behörden wird eh nur Kaffee getrunken?”

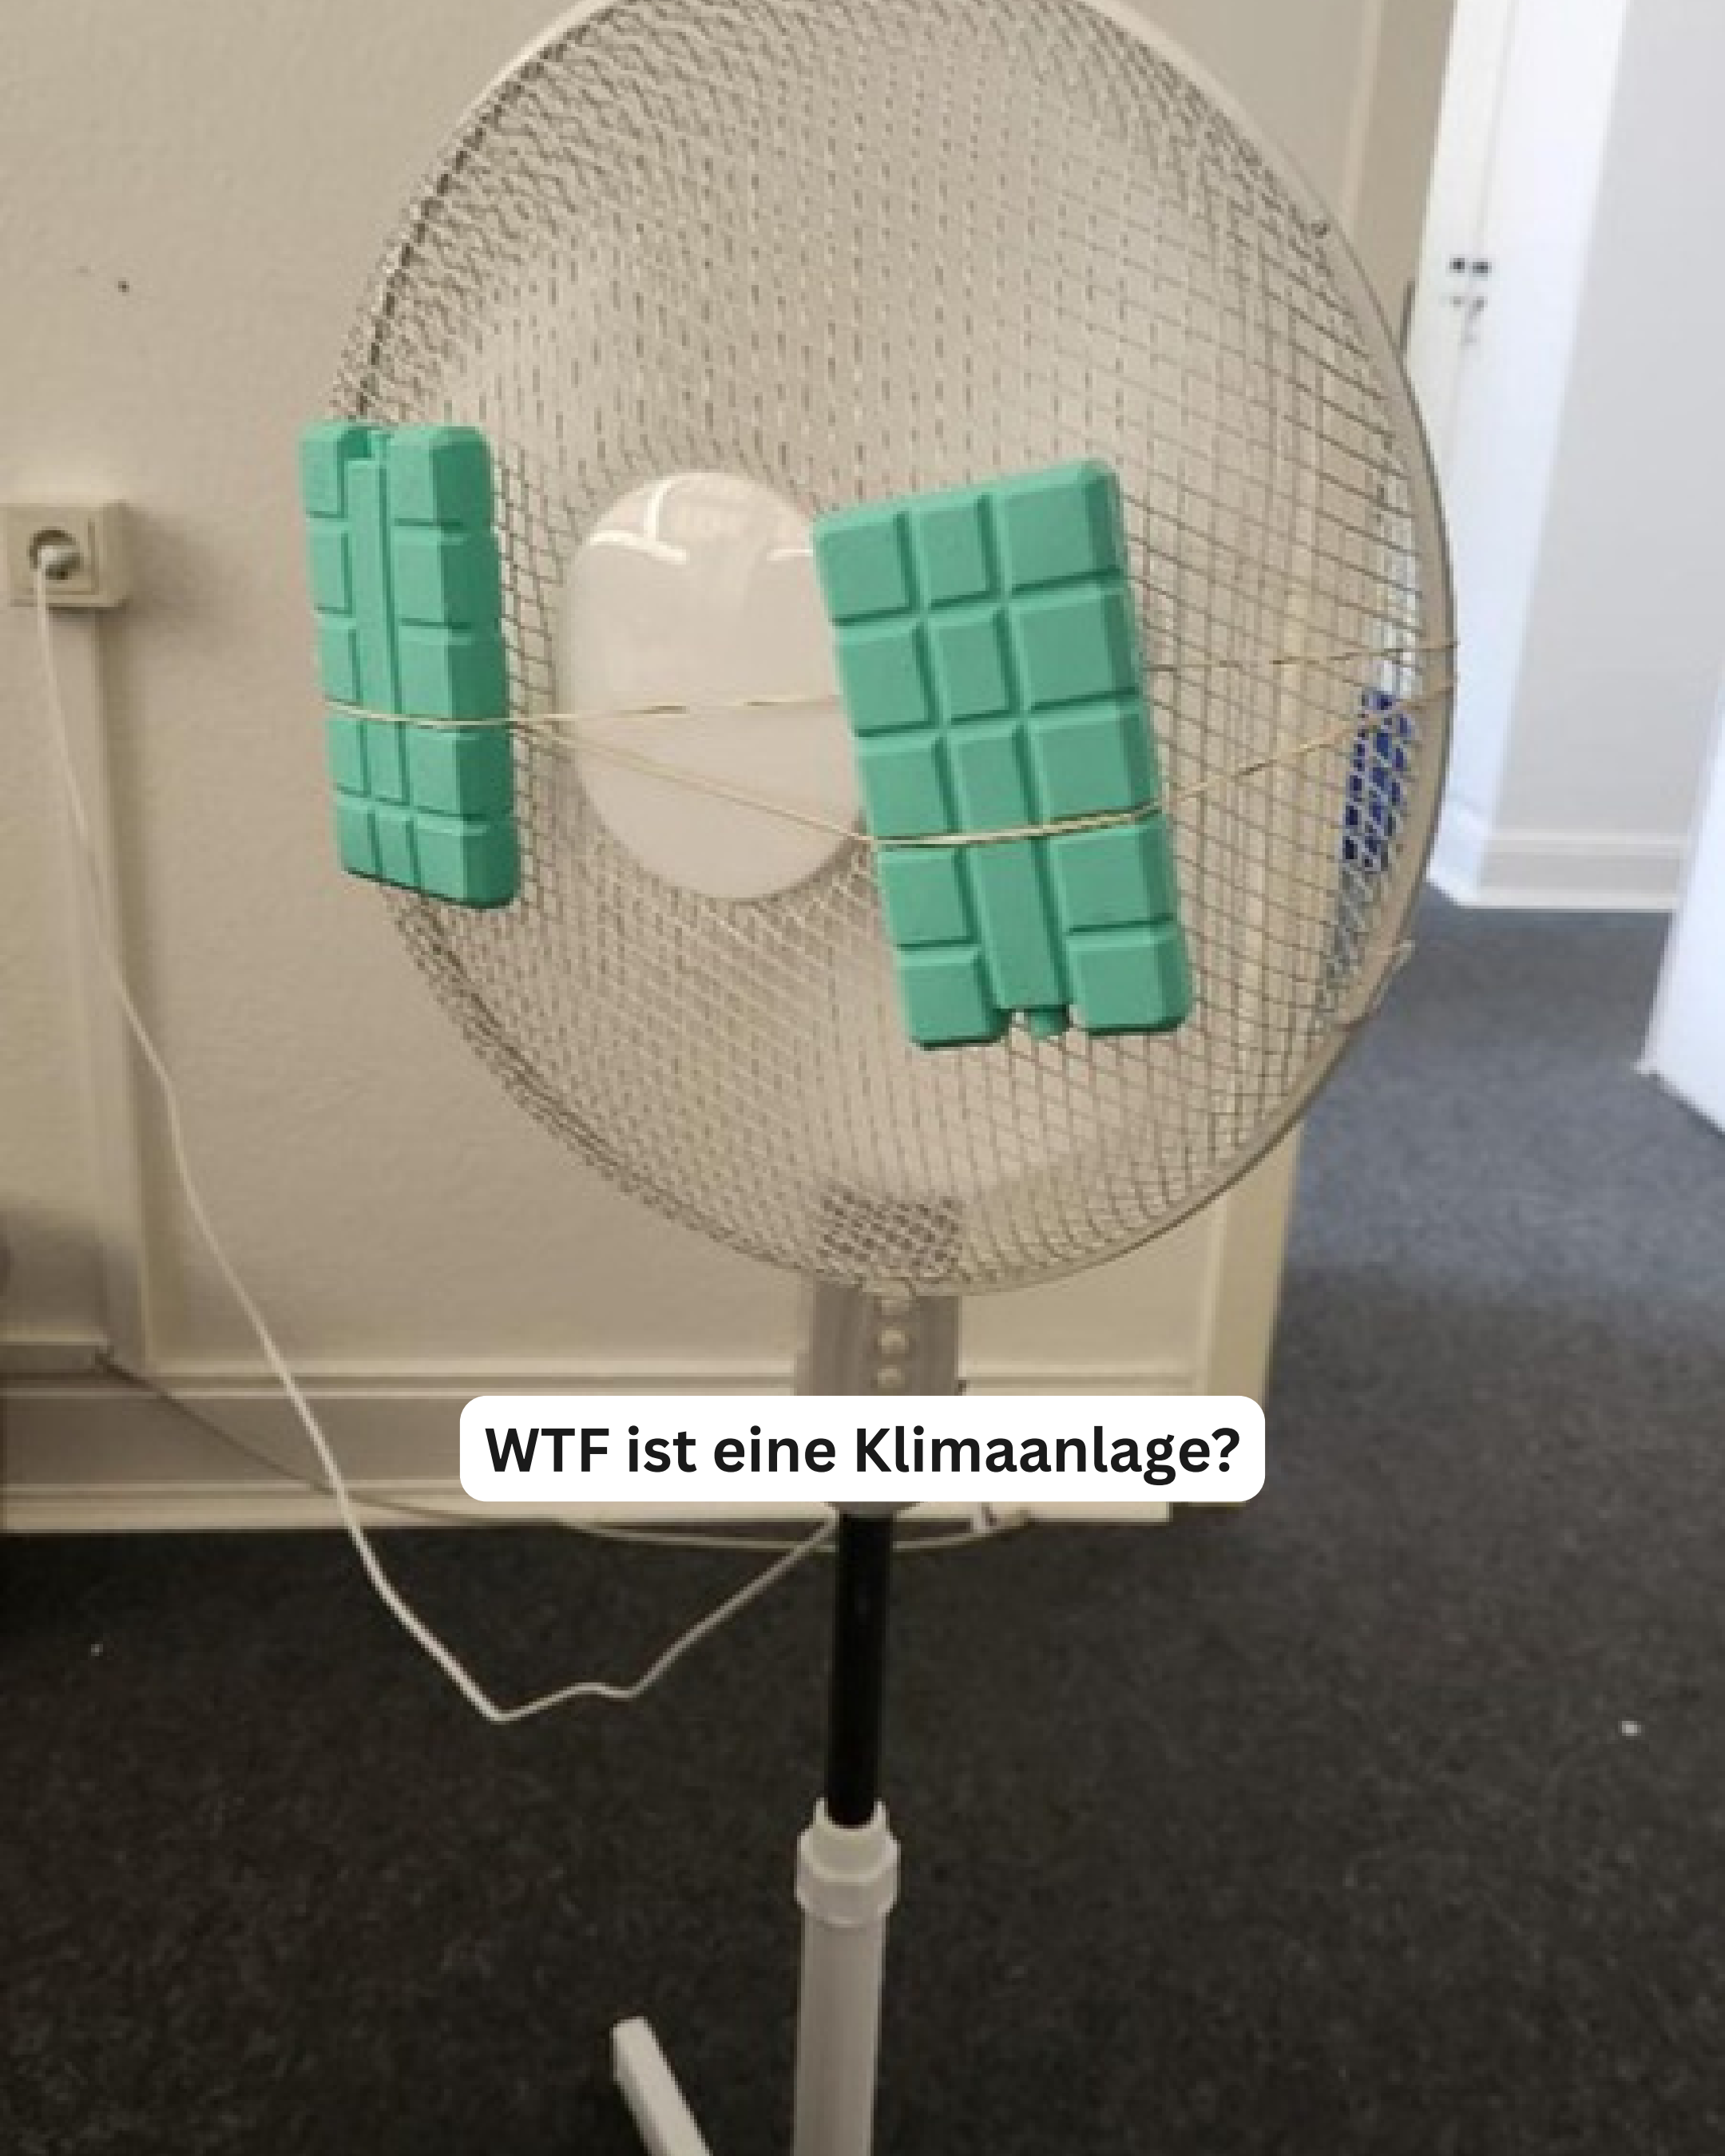

A photograph of a dead, dried-out plant in a terracotta pot. The plant has several thin, brown, leafless stems rising from a dark, soil-filled pot. The pot sits on a matching terracotta saucer. The background is a plain white wall and a light-colored door with a handle and lock. A long shadow of the plant is cast onto the wall to the left. A text overlay in a white rounded rectangle is centered over the plant.

WTF ist Pflanzen gießen?

WTF ist
„um 12 ist da keiner mehr“?

A photograph of a white electric fan with a mesh grille. A white incandescent light bulb is positioned in the center of the fan's blades. Two green, rectangular chocolate bars are placed on either side of the light bulb, held in place by thin, light-colored rubber bands. The fan is plugged into a wall outlet on the left. The background shows a plain wall and a doorway. The floor is covered with a dark grey carpet.

WTF ist eine Klimaanlage?

WTF ist
“die kennen keinen Humor”??

A photograph of a cluttered office floor. In the center, a person's legs and feet are visible, wearing white sneakers and light-colored pants. The floor is covered with a dense, chaotic mess of black, white, blue, and red cables. Some cables are plugged into a power strip on the left. In the foreground, there are cardboard boxes and more tangled wires. The background shows a desk and a printer. The overall scene is one of disarray and poor cable management.

WTF ist Kabelmanagement?

WTF ist Brandgefahr?

WTF ist sinnlose Arbeit?
