Certificate III in Individual Support

This qualification reflects the role of workers in the community and/or residential setting who follow an individualised plan to provide person-centred support to people who may require support due to ageing, disability or some other reason. Work involves using discretion and judgement in relation to individual support as well as taking responsibility for own actions. Workers have a range of factual, technical and procedural knowledge, as well as some theoretical knowledge of the concepts and practices required to provide person-centred support.

Pathways & Further Study

Upon successful completion of the Certificate III in Individual Support students will be offered advanced standing into the Certificate IV in Ageing Support. Students may also use the qualification to assist them in gaining entry level employment.

Course Requirements

To be awarded a Certificate III in Individual Support, competency must be achieved in thirteen (13) units of competency. Elective subject selected will provide the student with two specialisations: Ageing and Home and Community. As part of this students complete 120 hours of placement in the workplace.
