

Odorant Delivery & Transfer

The Right Product. The Right Place. On Time.

Services: Operations | Industries: Gas Utilities, Renewable Natural Gas, Refineries & Midstream

Odorant supply is the foundation of every odorization program, and a disruption in supply is a disruption in safety. MRR provides odorant delivery and transfer services to utilities, pipeline operators, RNG facilities, and industrial gas users across North America using specialized transport equipment and trained technicians who manage the process from loading through final transfer. Deliveries are built around containment, control, and compliance, vapor-controlled throughout, with protocols designed to keep odorant inside the system.

Capabilities

- Scheduled and on-demand delivery of virgin Scentinel branded odorant via bulk transport or smaller containers
- Odorant cylinder refills for all sizes
- Tank-to-tank filter transfers to relocate client odorant inventory between assets, with 10-micron filtration to remove sediment buildup during every transfer
- Odorant filtration for reuse, removing contaminants and restoring quality
- Arida™ drying integrated into delivery where moisture is a factor
- Watchtower™ Odorant Management — MRR's Watchtower™ platform monitors odorant levels across all tank types, giving MRR visibility into client inventory in real time. Rather than waiting for emergency callouts, MRR can proactively schedule deliveries before supply runs low — reducing site visits, lowering operational costs, and freeing up client field time for higher-value work.

Safety and Compliance Standards

- DOT-compliant transport equipment, rigorously maintained
- Strict delivery and transfer protocols minimizing vapor release and personnel exposure
- Fully trained odorant handling personnel
- Comprehensive environmental and general liability coverage
- Delivery documentation and chain-of-custody records provided

Why MRR

MRR is a distributor of Chevron Phillips Scentinel branded odorant blends, stocked locally at our Philippi, West Virginia facility. Local inventory means rapid response times that large manufacturers cannot match — when your supply is tight, we can move.

Contact MRR to discuss a supply program built around your delivery schedule and inventory requirements.