

Mrs. Sini Varghese

Assistant Lecturer

Mrs. Sini Varghese serves as an Assistant Lecturer, bringing over 17 years of combined experience in healthcare and nursing education. She completed her Post Basic B.Sc. Nursing from the College of Nursing, Sri Ramakrishna Institute of Paramedical Sciences, a premier institution recognized for its academic and clinical excellence.

Her professional journey includes 12 years of hands-on clinical experience, providing her with extensive practical knowledge in patient care and healthcare systems. She also has five years of teaching experience, during which she has been dedicated to mentoring and guiding future nursing professionals.

She remains committed to delivering quality nursing education by integrating her rich clinical expertise with effective teaching practices, fostering academic excellence and professional growth among students.