

Prof. Jamilla Kingsley

Professor & HOD

Prof. Jamilla Kingsley serves as Professor & HOD with over 30 years of experience in the nursing profession, bringing extensive expertise in nursing education, clinical practice, and academic leadership. She holds a Master of Science (M.Sc.) in Nursing from PPG College of Nursing.

She is committed to excellence in teaching, mentoring, and advancing nursing practice. Her contributions to the academic community include numerous publications in reputed national and international journals, reflecting her strong commitment to research and evidence-based nursing.

Her wealth of experience, academic leadership, and dedication continue to inspire students while contributing significantly to the institution's mission of nurturing competent, compassionate, and skilled healthcare professionals.