

Mrs. Anu Mathew

Assistant Lecturer

Mrs. Anu Mathew joins the faculty as an Assistant Lecturer with a strong foundation in nursing education. She earned her B.Sc. in Nursing from the prestigious KMCH College of Nursing, an institution recognized for its academic excellence and rigorous clinical training.

Bringing 3.5 years of valuable professional experience to the classroom and lab, she blends textbook principles with real-world insights. Her background allows her to effectively mentor the next generation of healthcare professionals, fostering both the technical skills and compassionate care necessary for outstanding nursing practice.