

9 Reasons to Switch to Virtual Instructor-Led Training (VILT)

1 More productive instructors

For a 1-day traditional training course, Daniel spends 2 days traveling. With VILT, Daniel can spend those 2 days instructing instead of traveling, resulting in more students trained and more training revenue, while reducing training delivery costs.

2 No airline transportation costs

The average flight within the European Union is €195.

3

No hotel costs

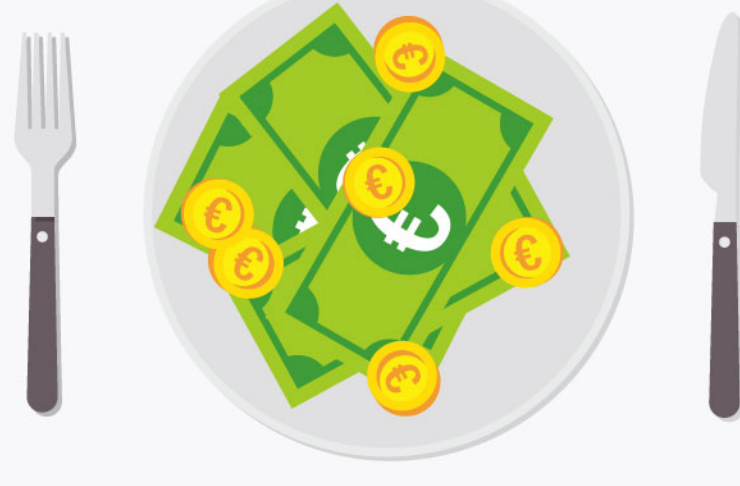

The average hotel in Europe's major cities costs between €90 - €250 per night.

4

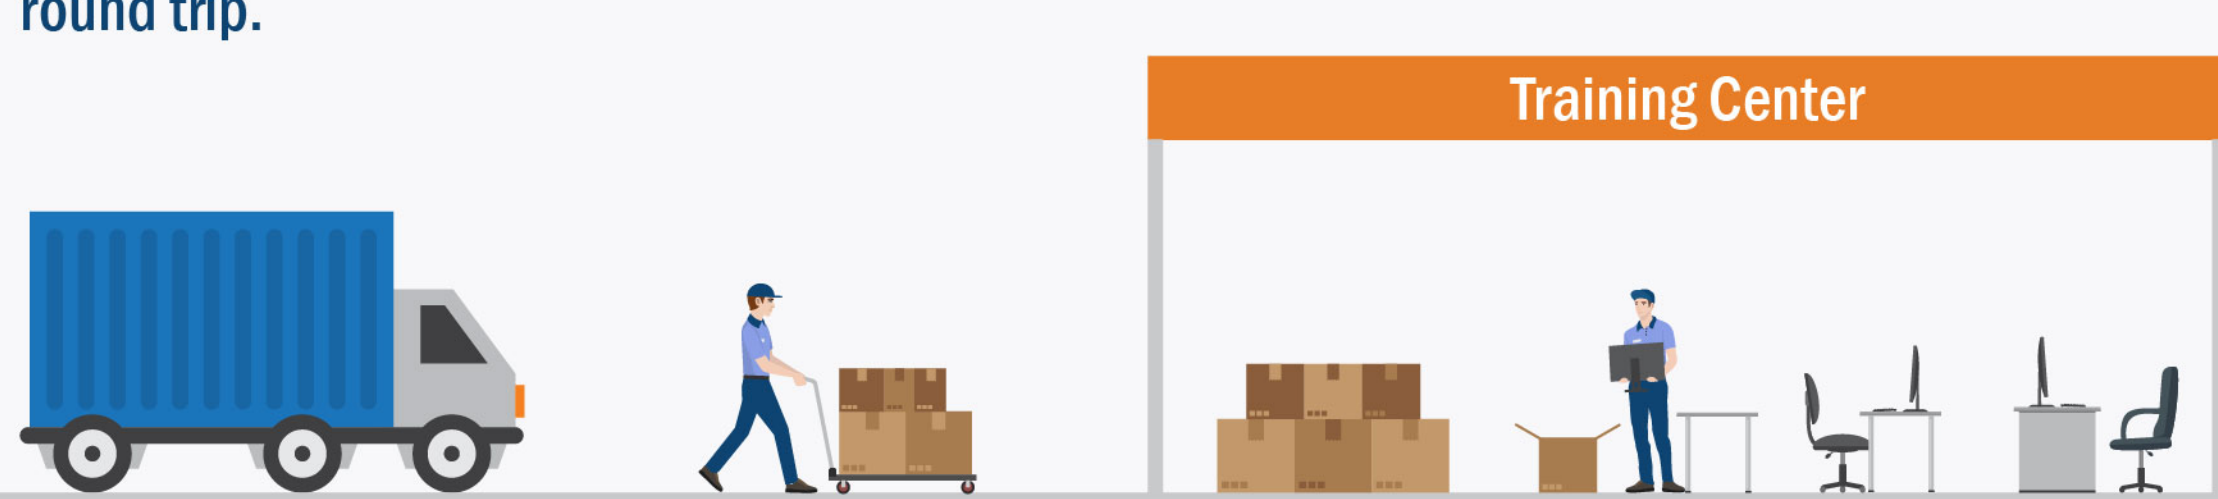

No per diem expenses

The average daily per diem for meals, local travel and miscellaneous expenses within the EU is €100 - €200 per day.

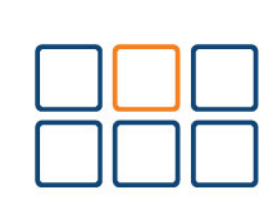

5 No lab setup costs

The average shipping cost to ship 15 crated laptops within Europe is between €3,000 - €4,000 round trip.

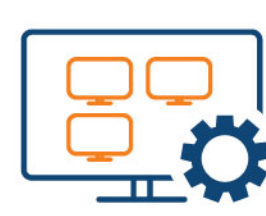

6 VILT mimics real-life classrooms

Today's most innovative VILT technologies include features that mimic real-life classroom environments, making it easy for instructors to provide engaging learning experiences for students.

8 Fastest regional internet

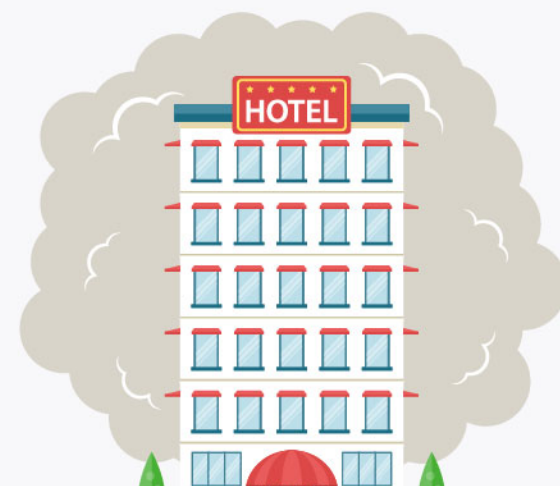

As a region, Europe has the fastest internet connection in the world. This creates a user-friendly experience for Virtual Instructor-Led Training.

9 Lower carbon footprint

On average, 450 kg of CO₂ is generated per person when flying round trip within Europe.

VILT removes 29.5 kg of CO₂, the average CO₂ emitted in a hotel stay.
