2011 Annual Report

leadership

Paula Guzzo
2011 Chairman of the Board

Charlene Smith
Executive Director

This is being written with pride, gratitude, and hope. We have pride that during the past year, one which has been economically challenging to non-profit organizations, CCA has been able to sustain all of our programs and services, as well as also introduce new services for families. We have gratitude that we have been able to do this in large part because of the generosity of numerous individuals who have donated their time, resources, and money. We have hope for future growth.

Volunteers and donors are the backbone of every nonprofit and CCA is no different. We are fortunate to have many volunteers who help with program delivery, fundraising and public awareness. And, of course nothing could be accomplished without donors who provide the necessary financial resources. We graciously thank each and every one of you.

In 2011 we expanded our programs by adding to the host of resources that educate, and support our families. Eleven new overviews dealing with issues related to craniofacial conditions were published, care journals to help families track their progress were distributed, we expanded membership in our social networking groups and published a new CCA brochure.

We continued to offering ongoing services by providing financial assistance, publishing quarterly newsletters, networking families across the country, and holding our 3rd Annual Craniofacial Symposium and 21st Annual Family Retreat.

There is a need and desire to serve more families. CCA's strategic plan provides for the necessary growth to make that happen. The only thing standing in the way is funding. We continually look for major donors, while planning for the day when CCA can serve all the families who need and deserve assistance.

21st annual cher's family retreat

This retreat has helped our daughter with how she feels about herself and since we've been back home, I've noticed a big improvement with her attitude. She has gone from a girl who had very low self-esteem and who was depressed last summer, to a very happy, out-going, young lady.

In 2011 ninety-two families experienced what our members have designated CCA's most important program. The 21st Annual Family Retreat was held in Louisville, KY. When a family member has a craniofacial condition, each member of the family is affected. This three-day event, what many call a life-changing experience, addresses the unique needs of each of these family members.

For the 3rd consecutive year, the retreat was kicked off with a craniofacial symposium which included sessions led by craniofacial healthcare providers from the area. These generous professionals donated their time and talent to provide this educational component. These sessions were designed to educate, inform and empower each member of the family.

education

In the early 90s, CCA recognized the importance of providing tools to families so they could educate themselves on diagnosis and treatment of craniofacial conditions, as well as the related emotional and psychosocial issues, in an easy-to-read and easy-to-understand format. At that time, parents' only source for this kind of information was complicated medical papers. So, CCA began publishing syndrome booklets, newsletters and overview papers. In 2011, we translated the series of 14 booklets to Spanish, added 10 overview papers and published 4 newsletters. CCA is the only organization with a comprehensive offering of printed materials.

CCA Programs, educate, empower and support

Being able to share with others going through similar experiences is comforting, supportive and educational for adults and children who are affected by craniofacial differences, as well as for parents and siblings. To facilitate this interaction, CCA offers social networking opportunities such as facebook, Yahoo groups, Twitter and the ccakidsblog.org. In addition, our Website holds a treasure of information and resources families can access at their convenience.

A child affected with a cranio-facial condition will average 30 to 40 surgeries before he reaches adulthood. Even with good insurance, the cost of food, travel and lodging for so many surgeries can break the family budget. For these families CCA stands ready to help. In 2011 CCA helped 57 families with 68 trips for medical treatment.

Craniofacial Acceptance Month

The vision of Children's Craniofacial Association is very simple: CCA envisions a world where all people are accepted for who they are, not how they look. Working through its network of families and volunteers each September, CCA takes this message to the larger community as part of Craniofacial Acceptance Month. The theme of the campaign is "Beyond the Face is a Heart." In 2011 CCA observed the 7th Craniofacial Acceptance month by holding picnics, fundraisers and by spreading the word throughout the country.

Awareness Fosters Acceptance

Children's Craniofacial Association does not receive government funding. We rely on the generosity of individuals, corporations and foundations to support our programs and services allowing us to further our mission.

Again in 2011, the very families CCA serves, stepped forward and held fundraisers across the nation—everything from simple yard sales and lemonade stands to full-out golf tournaments and 5K runs, involving entire communities—all to ensure others dealing with similar circumstances will be able to benefit from CCA's services. These efforts involved reaching out to local area businesses as well as individual donors—many of whom stay on year after year as regular charity contributors. The CCA Family and Friends fundraisers raised about one third of the total budget in 2011.

CCA collaborated with The Jorge Posada Foundation for their Decade of Difference Celebration. The event raised $75,000 for CCA's programs and services.

We wish to extend a heart-felt thank you to every one who supported CCA during 2011.
