20 Years of Giving Hope
1989-2009

2009 annual report

Dear Friends,

In 2009 Children's Craniofacial Association celebrated 20 years of empowering and giving hope to individuals and families affected by facial differences. We are proud to be the premier organization addressing a broad range of medical, financial, emotional, psychosocial, and educational issues related to craniofacial conditions.

The 20 year journey has not been without its struggles, but always keeping a keen eye on the needs of our families, we persevered. And, with the help of generous donors, volunteers, and those families we serve, CCA managed to fight through the lean years. Even in this very tenuous economy, we continue to provide important programs and services to all who are affected by facial differences.

CCA touched many lives this year. Among our wide array of programs and services, we added to the series of syndrome booklets and began translating them to Spanish. We continued to publish an informative quarterly newsletter, provide financial assistance so families could receive quality medical care, conducted an educational symposium and held our 19th Annual Family Retreat, providing scholarship funds for more than 20 families to attend.

Thanks to many people lending their "time, talent and treasure," CCA will continue to serve our families until we achieve our vision of a world where all people are accepted for who they are, not how they look.

Sincerely,

Charlene Smith
Executive Director

cca celebrates 20 years of service

Founded in Dallas in 1989,

CCA's mission is to empower and give hope to individuals and families affected by facial differences.

1989—2009

19th annual family retreat

My name is Kathie and my eight-year-old, daughter

Hannah was born with hemifacial microsomia and microtia.

Hannah struggled with the results of her surgeries and the reaction of her friends to her changes. As a result to their reactions, she came to me and begged me to help her find a friend like her, who understood how hard it is to be a little different from other people and who would just love her for her. After doing some Internet research, that request led us to Children's Craniofacial Association.

We were informed of the Annual Family Retreat but were unsure whether or not we could afford the trip. Finally we decided that Hannah really needed this group and we had to find a way to get her there. So, on a wing and a prayer, Hannah and I flew to the retreat. There are no words to describe what we felt while we were at the retreat with the CCA kids and families.

I could try to describe the immediate sense of belonging, the shared sense of love and concern for our children, the highs and lows we all face through intense medical care, but I can't seem to find the right words. I guess we just felt like we were at home. It was wonderful!

Hannah was able to sing at the talent show, and it was so great for her. She has an incredible love of music, and it was so fun for her to share that with her new friends. The night after the talent show, as I was putting her to bed, she said, "Now all of my dreams have come true. I met new friends just like me and I got to sing on stage!"

I am now a firm believer these children need this retreat! It was perfectly perfect! I am so grateful to the individuals and organizations donating time and money to make this happen for these kids. I wish they could have seen them all together, living, loving, laughing – not at all worried about acceptance or appearance. I wish you could read my heart and know how much it means to me that we have a place to go every year, where Hannah can let her hair down and just enjoy being herself, without having to worry about feeling out of place or different.

CHILDREN'S CRANIOFACIAL ASSOCIATION
19th Annual Cher's Family Retreat

We have had to go to Boston five times in the past two years, and every time CCA has been there to meet our traveling needs. I know there are more surgeries in my daughter's future, and it's nice to know CCA is there wanting to help families like ours get to qualified medical care. With CCA's help we didn't have to worry so much about the traveling part and we could focus more on taking care of our daughter before and after surgeries.

I continue to be in awe that such an organization even exists! The help CCA has given our family to get our daughter to quality medical care is the most amazing gift we have ever received. I honestly don't know if it would have been possible without CCA, and I thank God for them every night. Sydney is now two years old and is the happiest, healthiest little girl I know.

It is difficult to put into words how much CCA's help has meant to us, but I look forward to one day meeting these very special CCA angels who are now part of our family and thanking them from the bottom of my heart!

Craniofacial symposium

"The topics were current and very informative. I learned so much and my kids got to interact with others during the sessions for affected children and their siblings. I hope CCA continues to hold the symposium." Rose

On June 23, 2009 Children's Craniofacial Association held its first craniofacial symposium in 15 years. Dallas-area healthcare professionals presented on topics geared to educate and inform children and adults affected by facial differences as well as their family members. Topics included Family Dynamics, Syndromic Craniosynostosis, Etiology of and Association of Hydrocephalus and Chiari Malformations with Complex Craniosynostosis, Implications of a Compromised Airway, The Use of Anthropometric Measurements, Self-Esteem and Coping and others. Sessions were lead by physicians and other healthcare professionals.

syndrome booklets

Until Children's Craniofacial Association started publishing syndrome booklets parents had to try to understand medical journals to find out about their child's condition.

CCA saw a need and acted. Since the early 1990's 13 Syndrome booklets have been published

In 2009 Children's Craniofacial Association translated 5 of its thirteen syndrome booklets to Spanish to meet the needs of our Spanish speaking families. In addition, A Guide to Understanding Cleft Lip and Palate was added to the series of booklets.

Around 15,000 hard copies of the CCA newsletter are mailed quarterly and many more are viewed online. The newsletter contains informative and supportive articles to educate and support families affected by facial differences.

newsletters

CCA provides various opportunities for social networking for both adults and children.

CCA's Yahoo Group offers families the opportunity to support each other 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Facebook offers the opportunity for family members to share the lighter side of their daily activities and gives CCA another opportunity to keep families networked and informed.

Care pages is offered as a convenient way for families to keep family members informed of their child's progress when they are in the hospital without making numerous phone calls, thus allowing more time to focus on the child's recovery.

There is a CCA Kids Klub for kids of every age group. Kids Klubs are for kids with facial differences, their siblings and even for their friends. Monthly activities allow them to express their thoughts and feelings in creative ways and being part of a club fosters a sense of belonging.

Craniofacial Acceptance Month

September 2009 marked the Fifth Annual observance of Craniofacial Acceptance Month and the second National Family Picnic Day. In observance, family picnics were held across the country, fundraisers were conducted and special commemorative wristbands were designed and sold, articles were published and 18 governors proclaimed September Craniofacial Acceptance Month in their states.

Our goal is to spread awareness that will foster acceptance of children and adults with facial differences. For the fifth consecutive year, we are Widening the Circle of Acceptance through our theme, "Beyond the Face is a Heart", demonstrating that beyond a person's exterior is the 'heart' or the 'real person' within. We envision a world where all people are accepted for who they are, not how they look.

The very families CCA serves are taking a major role in raising funds. Not only are they ensuring the continuation of programs and services, but they are also validating their importance. In 2009 our families raised more than $150,000 through satellite fundraisers across the nation.

Family Fundraisers

Each year in accordance with stewardship responsibility to stakeholders, Children's Craniofacial Association contracts an independent auditor to conduct a thorough examination of our financial position.
