Pentadeca Arginate (PDA)/BPC 157

A regenerative peptide that supports the body's natural healing processes by promoting gut lining integrity, tissue repair, and recovery. It may help accelerate muscle, tendon, ligament, and orthopedic healing while supporting digestive health, making it a valuable tool for injury recovery, chronic pain, and overall wellness.

TB500

Support recovery, healing, and whole-body resilience. This peptide promotes muscle, tendon, ligament, and soft tissue repair while supporting mobility and orthopedic recovery. Also helps regulate immune function, reduce inflammation, and support the body's natural healing response.

PT 141 Nasal Spray

Supports healthy sexual desire and arousal by working on the brain's natural pathways involved in intimacy rather than blood flow or hormone levels. It may benefit both men and women experiencing low libido, helping restore confidence, connection, and overall sexual wellness.

SS 31 Mitochondrial Booster Elamipretide/levocarnitine

A mitochondria-targeted peptide that supports cellular energy production by helping protect and restore healthy mitochondrial function. By promoting more efficient ATP production and reducing oxidative stress, it may improve energy, recovery, cognitive performance, healthy aging, and overall cellular resilience.

GHK-Cu

A naturally occurring copper peptide that supports the body's regenerative processes by promoting collagen production, tissue repair, and healthy skin. It may also support hair growth, wound healing, reduce inflammation, and enhance recovery from injury while helping improve overall skin health and appearance.

Thymosin Alpha

An immune-modulating peptide that helps support a balanced immune response, reduce inflammation, and promote the body's natural healing processes. It may enhance immune resilience during periods of illness, stress, or recovery while supporting overall health and vitality.

SEMAX Nasal Spray

A nootropic peptide that supports cognitive function by promoting focus, mental clarity, memory, and resilience to stress. It may also support healthy brain function, neuroprotection, and recovery from mental fatigue, making it a valuable option for individuals seeking enhanced cognitive performance and overall brain wellness.

Selank Nasal Spray

A nootropic peptide that supports a calm, balanced mood while promoting mental clarity, focus, and cognitive performance. It may help reduce everyday stress and anxiety without causing significant sedation, making it a valuable option for individuals seeking improved emotional resilience and overall brain wellness.

Tesamorelin/Sermorelin

Tesamorelin and Sermorelin are growth hormone-releasing peptides that help stimulate the body's natural production of growth hormone to support healthy aging, body composition, and recovery. They may promote lean muscle development, healthy fat metabolism, improved exercise recovery, enhanced sleep quality, and overall vitality while supporting long-term metabolic health.
