The Positive Impact Group

Effective Date

Review Date

Introduction

The Positive Impact Foundation is a responsible employer, and we take our obligations to our employees and service users very seriously. Therefore, we have set out this policy to help us ensure the health, safety and welfare of our employees and service users, and to help us comply with our legal duties. Employees or service users who develop alcohol related problems cause harm to themselves, to others and impair their performance.

The Health and Safety at Work Act 1974 places a duty on employers to provide a safe and healthy working environment, and to ensure the health, safety and welfare at work of their employees as well as any visitors or contractors on the premises.

Aims of the Policy

This policy aims to:

- Promote awareness of alcohol related problems and addiction.
- Encourage a sensible approach to drinking alcohol.
- Ensure that the Company complies with its legal obligations.
- Indicate restrictions on drinking alcohol at work.
- Protect Employees and service users from the dangers of alcohol abuse.
- Support Employees and service users with an alcohol related problem.

Health and Safety

In a social environment, the consumption of alcohol in moderation is an accepted part of life. In the workplace, however, it can impair performance, result in inappropriate behaviour, and place both the individual and those around them in danger, as well as affect health.

In the workplace, alcohol abuse can take two different forms:

- Occasional inappropriate drinking.
- Consistently inappropriate drinking.

Problems arising from the first category are more likely to be cases of misconduct, whilst the second will be more likely to involve long-term health and performance issues. In either case, the health of the individual employee will be affected and quite possibly the health and safety of those around them.

While it will be clear if an individual is drunk at work, the symptoms of larger-scale systematic alcohol abuse may be less obvious. Symptoms of alcohol abuse may include:

- Frequent absences on Mondays and Fridays.
- Unusually high rates of absenteeism.
- Unkempt appearance/lack of hygiene.
- Spasmodic work patterns and lower productivity.
- Poor relations with others.

These guidelines also apply to service users. While some service users are of a legal age to drink, moderation will be promoted, and the risks to health from the consumption of alcohol will be explained through an appropriate curriculum. Under no circumstances will any service user be permitted to consume alcohol on Company property, or within the company of a The Positive Impact Foundation employee. Appropriate education will be put in place to cater to all ages and needs; this will cover the potential detrimental effects alcohol has on individuals and others.

If a service user is on Company property and is in possession of alcohol or any other prohibited substances, The Positive Impact Foundation staff hold the right to remove the substance to safeguard the service user and others on site.

Restrictions on Drinking Alcohol at Work

- Alcohol must not be consumed in any situation where, as a consequence, the safety of the individual, colleagues or visitors is put at risk.
- Alcohol must not be consumed in excess [or in sufficient quantities to impinge on the exercise of any individual's duties] when on Company business outside normal working hours, for example, when involved in functions or in providing hospitality.
- Employees are not obliged to work with anyone they consider to be incapable through the consumption of alcohol and should immediately report the matter to James Armson/David Strong.

- Employees who are incapable of working through the consumption of alcohol should be immediately removed from duty, and the matter reported to James Armson/David Strong.
- Employees will be held to be contributory negligence in the event that whilst on Company business, they cause an accident or damage to anyone or anything, and that the incident occurred due to the Employee's consumption of alcohol.
Disciplinary Action: Employees who are unfit or otherwise incapable of work through the consumption of alcohol will be liable for disciplinary action, may be found guilty of gross misconduct, and may face summary dismissal.

Procedure

- All information relating to an employee's health, including, but not limited to, matters involving alcohol, will be collected, held, and processed in accordance with the Company's [Employee] Data Protection Policy.
- In the event that an employee is diagnosed with an alcohol related problem, the Company will treat it as a health matter. However, this does not excuse the employee from any of the disciplinary matters that may fall within the scope of the Company's disciplinary policy.
- All alcohol related issues will be dealt with in a constructive and sympathetic manner. The individual responsible for all such issues is James Armson, who will also provide any interested employees in confidence with details of where to seek more information or help.
- All requests for help or advice will be treated in the strictest confidence, and all information gathered as a result will be held in accordance with the Company's [Employee] Data Protection Policy.
- After receiving any appropriate medical reports, the Company will provide support to any affected employees. Where an employee agrees to follow a suitable course of action or treatment, any disciplinary action may be suspended.
- The Company reserves the right to give affected employees lighter duties at the same rate of pay, or require them to take paid leave if it is deemed appropriate.
- Following effective treatment and in the absence of any disciplinary action, the Company will endeavour to return an affected employee to the same role previously fulfilled by the employee [and where this is not possible to a suitable alternative].
- In the event that an employee, following successful treatment for an alcohol related problem, suffers a relapse, the Company will not make and is under no obligation to make provision for any further treatment, and the employee in question may face summary dismissal.

- If it is considered that the working environment or culture is the cause or a contributor to an alcohol related problem, the Company will take all reasonably practical steps to ensure a reduction of such problems.

This policy is reviewed annually.

Overall responsibility lies with the Director, who liaises with the Senior Leadership Team to ensure a robust and sustainable model of Leadership.
