ART DIRECTION

BAAN TALAY

At Baan Talay, Kylian oversees the art direction across branding, communication and marketing, helping shape the resort's visual identity.

Through photography and filmmaking, he captures the essence of Baan Talay's experiences, from wellness and yoga to workshops and retreats.

His approach is intuitive and documentary in nature, creating authentic visual stories that reflect real moments while maintaining a cohesive artistic vision.

FREEDIVE WITHIN

Alongside his role as a freediving instructor, Kylian contributes to the development of Freedive Within's visual identity and communication.

Through photography, filmmaking, and content creation, he documents the project from within. His work focuses on capturing what happens in and around the water, offering a genuine look at the people and experiences that shape the journey as Freedive Within continues to grow.

ABOUT

Kylian is a multidisciplinary artist working across photography, directing, and art direction between France and Thailand. His work focuses on automotive, sport, and lifestyle, creating imagery for both advertising and editorial clients.

He began his career as part of an award-winning creative duo, traveling across Asia, Europe, and North America, working within different industries before developing his own independent practice.

His approach is rooted in natural light and real environments, with a focus on images that feel honest and unguarded. He often works with a film camera on personal projects, valuing the process and the sense of presence it brings to his work.

When he's not on set, Kylian lives a slower life on the island of Koh Tao, where he teaches freediving and explores a more intuitive, stripped-back way of living and creating.
