

FOR UNIVERSITIES & FACULTY

The bridge from your studio to the industry.

Nofolios is a 12-week growth design residency. We don't replace your design education — we add the one thing a campus can't: live industry briefs, senior reviews, and a direct line to the companies hiring your students.

design — the skill employers hire for

Why departments partner with us

Your students get placed

At zero cost and zero risk. They pay nothing unless they are hired — the risk sits with us, never with you or them.

Your placement record improves

Every designer we place is a number you can show your next intake, your accreditation reviewers, and recruiting partners.

The skill the market actually wants

Growth design — acquisition, activation, retention, revenue — assessed on real company briefs, not capstone projects.

We work around you, not against you

Fully remote, evening sessions, alongside your program. A complement to your curriculum, never a competitor.

Built by designers who've shipped growth at real product companies.

Your students learn from operators who've done the job — on briefs from real companies.

HOW A PARTNERSHIP WORKS

All we ask is an introduction.

Nominate your strongest students

Put forward your strongest final-year students and recent graduates. We assess them on a live brief — not their grades.

We'll run a session for your cohort

If you'd like, we'll also run a guest brief or design review with your students. Optional, and completely free.

That's it

No fee. No exclusivity. No commitment. You keep ownership of your program; we handle the bridge to industry.

What your students gain

- Live company briefs with real constraints
- Reviews from senior, working designers
- A growth-design skillset, not just UI
- Warm introductions to hiring partners
- An offer letter — not just a certificate

What your department gains

- A stronger, provable placement record
- An industry bridge at zero budget
- Free guest sessions for your cohort
- A partner that complements your curriculum
- Outcomes you can show accreditation reviewers

Send us your top 30. We'll do the rest.

Start the conversation for your next graduating cohort. One email is enough.
