DEFINITIONS

"Bureau of Industry and Security" (BIS) is an agency under the United States Department of Commerce (DOC), with jurisdiction under the Export Administration Regulations (EAR) codified at 15 CFR Parts 730-774.

"Defense Article" means any item or Technical data relating to a military application or military related services designated in Part 121 of the ITAR. This term includes Technical Data recorded or stored in any physical form, models, mock-ups or other items that reveal technical data directly relating to items designated in §121.1 of the ITAR, but does not include basic marketing information on function or purpose or general system descriptions. (See ITAR § 120.6) "Dual Use" means items that have both commercial and military or proliferation application. This term is used informally to describe items that are subject to the EAR, although certain purely commercial items are also subject to the EAR. (See EAR §772.1).

"The Directorate of Defense Trade Controls" (DDTC) is an agency under the United States Department of State (DOS), with jurisdiction under the International Traffic in Arms Regulations (ITAR) codified at 22 CFR Parts 120 through 130.

"Dual Use" means items that have both commercial and military or proliferation application. This term is used informally to describe items that are subject to the EAR, although certain purely commercial items are also subject to the EAR. (See EAR §772.1).

"EAR" means the Export Administration Regulations promulgated and implemented by the Bureau of Industry and Security and designed to regulate the export of Dual Use items.

"Foreign Person" is any person who is not a lawful permanent resident of the US and includes foreign governments and organizations.

"ITAR" means the International Traffic in Arms Regulations, as amended, (22 Code of Federal Regulations 120-130) which are promulgated and implemented by DOS and designed to regulate items on the US Munitions List, including Defense Articles and Defense Services and related Technical data.

"Technical Data" has specific meaning under different regulations and can include much more than the common definition would imply. When dealing with import/export compliance issues, Company should always refer to the specific definition in the relevant regulations. For example, the ITAR defines Technical Data to include: any (i) information, other than software as defined in §120.10(a)(4), which is required for the design, development, production, manufacture, assembly, operation, repair, testing, maintenance or modification of defense articles, including information in the form of blueprints, drawings, photographs, plans, instructions or documentation: (ii) classified information relating to defense articles and defense services: (iii) information covered by an invention secrecy order: (iv) software as defined in §121.8(f) directly related to defense articles.

"Term Validity" of this document is three (3) years from the date of the above signature.
