WELNAMIS

BINAURAL VIBROACOUSTIC
THERAPY

A non-invasive form of infrared heat therapy where the body is gently heated using far-infrared wavelengths, while the head remains outside the dome for comfort and safety.

The infrared heat penetrates beneath the skin to warm muscles and joints, stimulating sweat and promoting natural healing processes without excessively heating the surrounding air.

Promotes detoxification through deep tissue warming and sweating

Improves circulation and cardiovascular conditioning

Relieves muscle tension, joint stiffness and chronic pain

Supports stress reduction and nervous system relaxation

Enhances metabolic activity and calorie burn

DOME SAUNA

INFRARED HEAT THERAPY

Our red light therapy panels use safe, low-level wavelengths of red and near-infrared light to recharge the body at a cellular level.

In just 20–30 minutes, these sessions stimulate natural healing, promote skin rejuvenation and boost energy, helping you feel refreshed, balanced and restored.

Stimulates collagen and skin renewal

Enhances mood and sleep quality

Helps repair and regenerate cells

Increases blood circulation

Supports cognitive enhancement

Supports healthy inflammatory response

RED LIGHT THERAPY

RED AND NEAR-INFRARED
LIGHT

A restorative thermal experience combining the heat of a sauna with the invigorating cold of a plunge bath.

Move between heat and cold to support physical recovery, stimulate circulation and promote a renewed sense of energy and vitality.

Reduces post-exercise muscle soreness and physical tension

Supports faster recovery following physical exertion

Stimulates circulation to support muscle and tissue recovery

Helps regulate stress response and improve mental resilience

Leaves you feeling more energised, alert, and refreshed

CONTRAST THERAPY

SAUNA AND COLD PLUNGE

A state-of-the-art oxygen therapy experience for two, delivering 100% pure oxygen at up to 3x times the normal air pressure to accelerate recovery, boost healing and overall wellness, leaving you feeling recharged in just 45-75 minutes.

Accelerates wound healing and post-surgery recovery

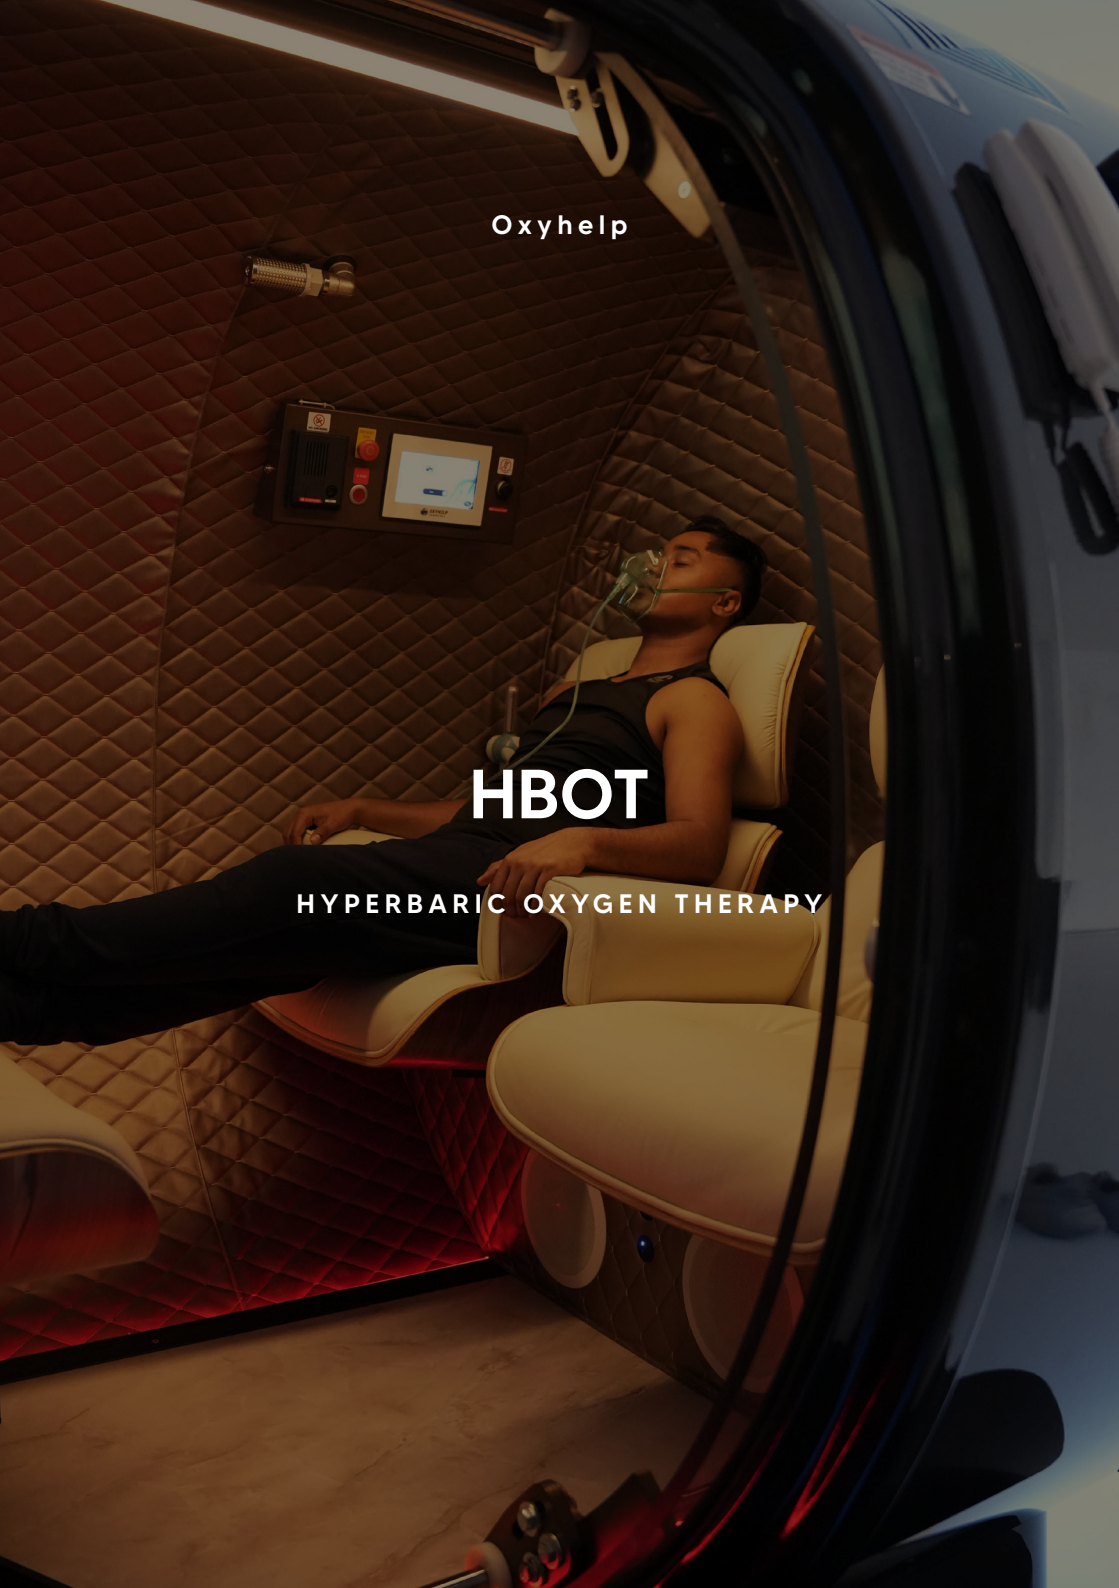

Fights infection by creating an oxygen-rich environment

Reduces swelling and inflammation

Supports brain and heart recovery

Boosts cellular energy (ATP production)

Improves circulation and oxygen delivery

A man is lying down inside a hyperbaric oxygen chamber. He is wearing a black tank top and dark pants. He is wearing a clear oxygen mask over his nose and mouth, connected by a tube. The interior of the chamber has a quilted, diamond-patterned wall in a light beige color. A control panel with a small screen and several buttons is mounted on the wall. A metal oxygen cylinder is visible in the upper left corner. The chamber's door is open, showing the dark exterior.

Detect risks early and take proactive preventive steps

Gain insights into skin aging, detox pathways, and immune health

GeneAura

GENETIC TESTING

INSIGHT INTO YOUR DNA

A deeply restorative four-hands massage performed on the MLX Quartz bed, where two therapists work in perfect synchrony while the body is gently immersed in a layer of warm, finely graded quartz sand.

Integrating aromatherapy, inversion therapy and an undulating four hands massage creates a profound sense of weightlessness and relaxation.

Ideal for those seeking deep relaxation, recovery, and a warming therapeutic experience.

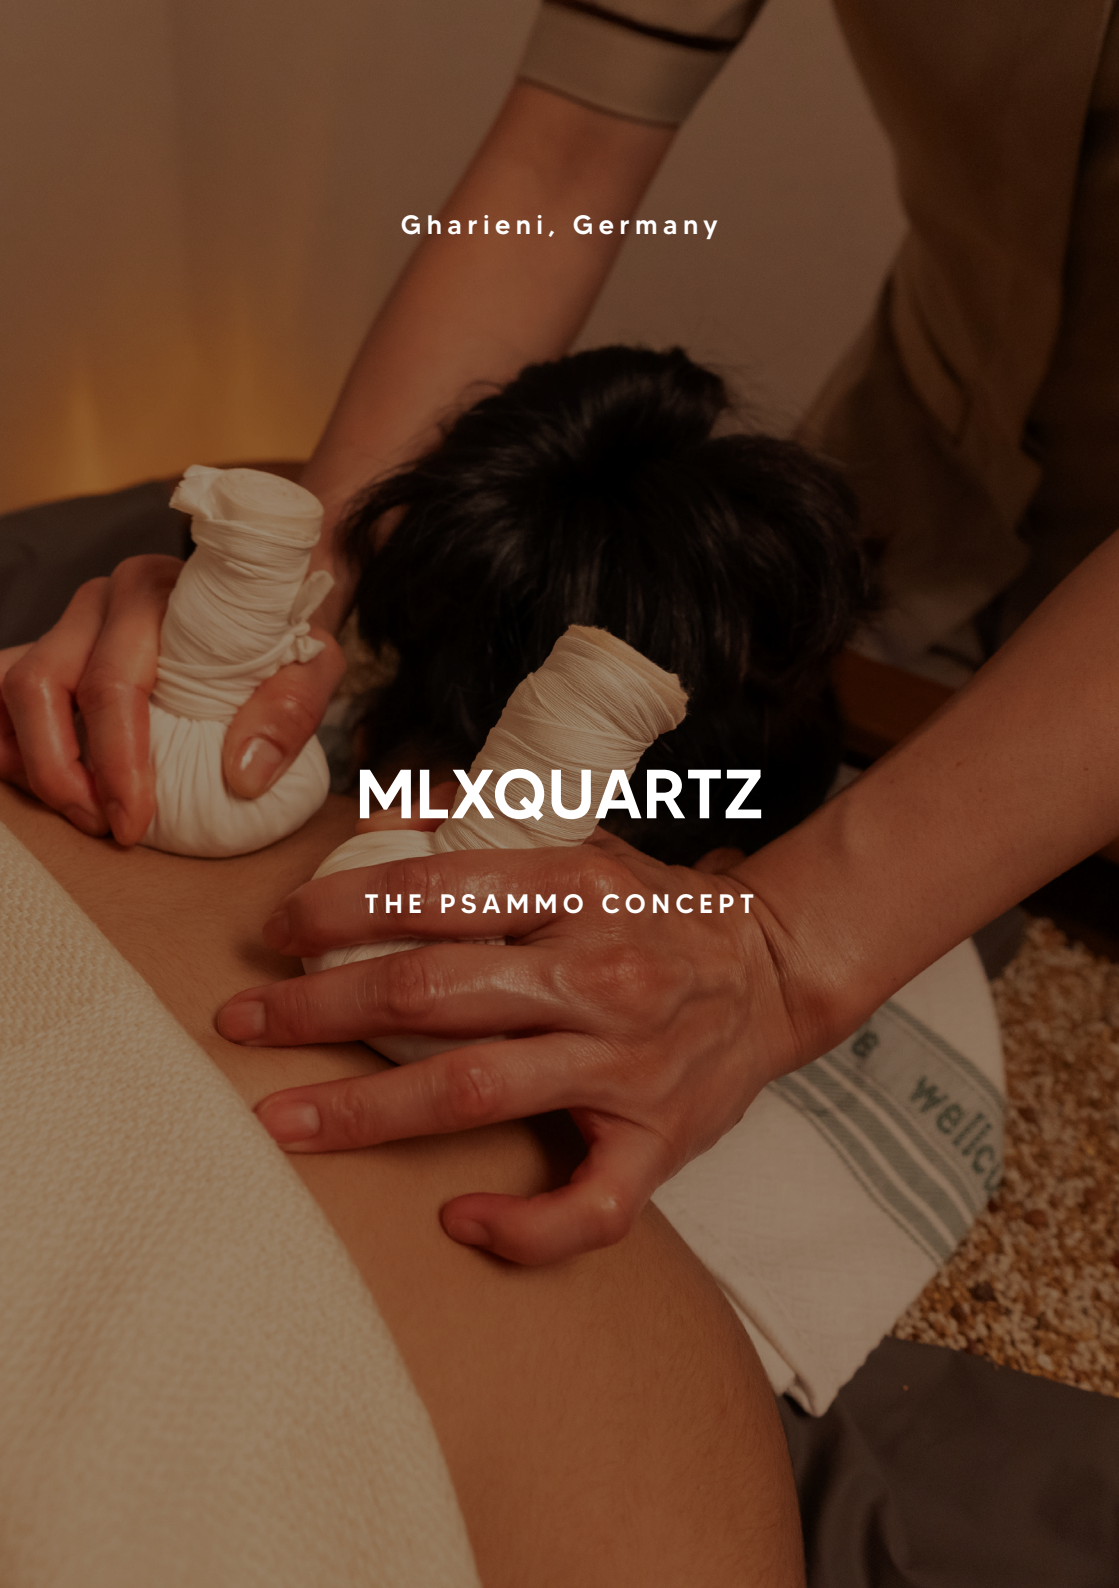

Sand contours the body and limbs exquisitely, creating a comforting cocooning effect

Inversion gravity improves spinal health and targets back pain

Promotes deep relaxation through gentle, enveloping thermal warmth

Encourages sweating and supports the body's natural detoxification processes.

Supports conditions ranging from scoliosis to inflammatory diseases

A person with dark hair is lying on their back on a massage table, covered with a white towel. Two therapists are performing a treatment using two large, cylindrical sandbags (psammo) made of white fabric, filled with sand. One therapist is holding the sandbag on the left side of the person's back, and the other is holding it on the right side. The therapists' hands are visible, and they are wearing light-colored clothing. The background is a warm, orange-toned wall. The overall atmosphere is calm and therapeutic.
