ISS and Glass Lewis Seek Feedback for Future Corporate Governance Policies

We are pleased to inform you that Institutional Shareholder Services Inc. (“ISS”) and Glass, Lewis & Co. (“Glass Lewis”) have launched their annual surveys to seek feedback from market participants on corporate governance issues and trends. This is an important opportunity for companies, corporate directors, and other industry participants to provide their insights and contribute to the development of policies that will shape the future of corporate governance. Kingsdale Advisors encourages companies and their directors to complete this year’s surveys.

ISS Annual Global Benchmark Policy Survey

For U.S. companies and investors, the survey holds notable relevance on topics including poison pills and executive compensation. The survey also invites views on global environmental and social topics such as the disclosure of Scope 3 GHG emissions targets and workforce diversity. The ISS Annual Global Benchmark Policy Survey can be completed online and will be open for submissions until September 5, 2024, at 5 p.m. ET.

Glass Lewis Stakeholder Policy Survey

The survey aims at collecting evolving market sentiment on key governance and stewardship topics. The Glass Lewis Stakeholder Policy Survey is available now online until August 30, 2024, at 8 p.m. ET.
