About Us

Rangelands Community Initiative Africa (RCIA) is a network of youth and shepherd associations that amplifies the voices of grassroots rangeland communities. RCIA empowers local associations and groups by strengthening their capacities to secure land tenure rights, promote sustainable livelihoods and livestock systems, and nurture thriving rangeland ecosystems that support pastoralism and biodiversity resilience.

About the role

RCI Africa is seeking a passionate Communications Volunteer to support the effective strategic visibility of our work across rangelands and pastoralist communities in Karamoja. The volunteer will help amplify our work through storytelling, digital content, and stakeholder engagement, ensuring that community insights approaches are communicated effectively to diverse audiences. The volunteer will play a key role in strengthening RCI Africa public presence, supporting awareness, partnerships, and resource mobilization for all our initiatives.
