

Send Medication Information Electronically

EnlivenHealth Inform is a patented¹ patient engagement solution that electronically sends FDA-required medication information — including drug monographs, FDA medication guides, CDC vaccine information statements, and other health and medication literacy information — to pharmacy patients, improving patient access and education while promoting environmental and sustainability efforts by reducing paper and toner cartridge waste.

Enhance Patient Experience

Delivering medication information through SMS text messaging, email, or QR code gives today's patients the reliable, accessible paperless experience they want.

Improve Patient Outcomes

Digital access to FDA-required documentation allows patients to conveniently save and access information to make healthier decisions.

Increase Operational Efficiency

Digitizing medication information streamlines prescription management and reduces patient queries while also eliminating printing and collating tasks.

Increase Sustainability

Significantly reducing toner cartridge, paper, and labor expenses allows pharmacies to reduce their carbon footprint and increase their sustainability efforts.

Key Features

Extensive Scope of Medication & Health Information:

EnlivenHealth Inform includes access to current digital medication monographs, FDA Medication Guides, CDC Vaccine Information Statements, and life science manufacturer-sponsored health and medication information.

Convenient Single Access Point for All Information:

Having all applicable and up-to-date medication information in one location ensures that patients have an increased likelihood of understanding their medication regimen. The seamless EnlivenHealth Inform patient engagement process presents the patient with all related and appropriate information for their prescribed medications via a pharmacy-branded webpage.

Multiple Delivery Methods & Delivery Timing:

EnlivenHealth Inform delivers medication information via SMS text messages, email, mobile/web apps and QR codes, allowing you and your patients to choose the method that will lead to the best utilization. Because some patients cannot access mobile apps or QR codes, including text messages and email as a delivery option ensures access for all your patients regardless of phone technology.

Improved Accessibility Beyond Just Delivery Methods:

EnlivenHealth Inform provides monographs, medication guides, vaccine information statements, and more at a basic reading level and in multiple languages, ensuring critical medication information remains accessible to your patients regardless of language or literacy level.

Case Study

In 2023, a major retail pharmacy chain launched EnlivenHealth's Inform solution to a cohort of stores in Q3. Satisfied with the results, they deployed to over 1,900 locations by Q4. This strategic initiative focuses on reducing their carbon footprint by digitizing the medication information and enhancing patient outcomes through improved health literacy.
