Important Information About Remote Learning on Election Day

Dear IS235 Families,

On Tuesday, November 3 (Election Day), all students will participate in remote learning from home.

To ensure a smooth start to the day, we ask that students log in to TeachHub on Monday, November 2, to make sure they can access their accounts and address any technical issues before remote instruction begins.

Because A.F.N.A. is a small school, students should log in 15 minutes after the start of their first class on Tuesday. Our regular school schedule will remain in place.

What to Expect During Remote Learning

Teachers will provide instruction through a combination of:

- SEL and attendance check-ins
- Live virtual lessons
- Assignments and activities posted in Google Classroom
- Independent work with teacher support available throughout the day

Student Responsibilities

✅ Log in to TeachHub and Google Classroom
✅ Attend all live classes and participate actively ✅ Complete assigned work
✅ Reach out to teachers if help is needed

Election Day is also an opportunity for students to learn about the importance of civic engagement and democracy. Teachers may incorporate age-appropriate activities and discussions related to these topics throughout the school day.
