

A New Chapter At BXL

Greetings Bronx Legacy High School Community,

It is with a heavy heart that I share the news that I will be taking a pause from my role as the founding principal of Bronx Legacy to pursue my PhD full-time. This decision was not made lightly, and while it brings me sadness to step away from this incredible community, I do so knowing that Bronx Legacy is built on a foundation of resilience, strength, and purpose.

From the very beginning, our mission has been clear: to create a school that values every student, empowers them to find their voice, and equips them to be change-makers in their communities. This vision is not tied to one individual but is deeply embedded in the fabric of who we are as a school. The work we have done together, centered on anti-racism, activism, equity, and social justice, will continue to thrive because of the commitment and passion that each of you brings to this community.

Though I will be stepping away for some time, I have the utmost confidence that the leadership team, our dedicated staff, and you—our students and families—will carry forward the torch with the same determination and love that we have nurtured since the day we opened our doors in September 2020. Our guiding principles—“Your voice is your most powerful instrument” and “The time is always now to speak out against injustice”—will remain at the heart of everything Bronx Legacy does.

I am not saying goodbye, but rather, see you soon. I look forward to continuing to support Bronx Legacy and all of you in new ways as I embark on this next chapter of my own educational journey.

Ubuntu.
