TERMS AND CONDITIONS

Updated on 9th August 2026

Welcome to the Kibicho Law website.

By accessing or using this website, you acknowledge that you have read, understood, and agree to be bound by these Terms of Use. If you do not accept these Terms, please discontinue use of the website.

These Terms and Conditions apply to all visitors, prospective clients, clients, and other users of this website.

1. For Information Only

The content on this website is provided for general informational purposes only. It does not constitute legal advice and should not be relied upon as a substitute for advice tailored to your circumstances. If you require legal assistance, please schedule a consultation today, and Kibicho Law will be pleased to help.

2. No Solicitor–Client Relationship

Your use of this website, including any communication by email, telephone, or online contact form, does not create a solicitor-client relationship. Such a relationship arises only after we have completed a conflict check, agreed to represent you, and both parties have entered into a written retainer agreement.

3. Accuracy of Information

Kibicho Law makes reasonable efforts to ensure that the information published on this website is current and accurate. However, the law changes over time, and its application depends on the facts of each case. Accordingly, Kibicho Law makes no representation or warranty regarding the accuracy, completeness, or suitability of the information provided.

4. Intellectual Property

Unless otherwise stated, all content on this website, including its text, graphics, images, logos, design, and other materials, is the property of Kibicho Law and is protected by applicable intellectual property laws. You may access and download material for personal, non-commercial use only. Any reproduction, modification, distribution, or commercial use without prior written permission is prohibited.

5. Electronic Communications

Electronic communications, including email and online submissions, may not be secure or confidential. While we take reasonable measures to protect information transmitted through our website, we cannot guarantee the security or uninterrupted delivery of electronic communications. Please do not send confidential or sensitive information until we have confirmed that we represent you.

6. Third-Party Websites

This website contains links to external websites for your convenience. Kibicho Law does not endorse, control, or assume responsibility for the content, accuracy, security, or privacy practices of third-party websites. Accessing such websites is at your own discretion.

7. Limitation of Liability

To the fullest extent permitted by law, Kibicho Law disclaims liability for any loss or damage arising from the use of, or reliance on, this website or its content, including any interruption, inaccuracy, omission, or technical malfunction.

8. Privacy

Your use of this website is also subject to Kibicho Law Privacy Policy, which explains how we collect, use, disclose, and protect your personal information.

9. Changes to These Terms and Conditions

Kibicho Law may revise these Terms and Conditions at any time without prior notice. Updated Terms become effective immediately upon publication on this website. Continued use of the website constitutes acceptance of the revised Terms.
